By ARTHUR B... ...E.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Europe interests everybody in America, from capitalists at the top of the heap to strugglers at the bottom.

If they pay us the billions they owe, we shall be by thousands of millions more the richest of nations. But if they pay us, they will have to ruin us by taking away our trade, through price cutting. At least, they tell us so.

Perhaps we shall be saved from that ruin. A parley called at Brussels is supposed to be the first step toward repudiation of Europe's debts to us. If she does not pay us, Europe won't have to ruin us. The very best that we can hope for seems to be the worst of it. Either we lose our $10,000,000,000 or we get the money and are ruined.

The British say that if America does not call another arms conference, Britain will do so. The cry from at least 100,000,000 deep United States hearts will be "go ahead and call your conference and please leave us out."

We had one conference, at Washington, and it was plenty. It makes us junk our brand new battleships, some only partly finished, costing hundreds of millions. It made us the world's policeman in the Pacific, guaranteeing to Europe and Japan their loot on the broad ocean.

If Uncle Sam has any brains he ought to feel about conferences with Europe as a small boy feels about going to the dentist.

The ...
That also is news for Europe, which for years has been skimming the cream from China. The United States is requested by Europeans in China to take a hand and restore order. Chinese chestnuts should be pulled out of the fire by those that get the chestnuts—not by the United States.

We might send warships to take aboard our good missionaries and other Americans, leaving the Chinese to save their own souls hereafter. But that ought to be all.

Prestient Coolidge, who does not know what to do with a vacation when he gets it, will spend July 4 at his father's farm and pitch hay. He will do some thinking about men that made July 4 what it is. Very likely he will give thought to Washington's advice about keeping out of European entanglements.

There are plenty of those entanglements. See today's news from Greece. A rebellion in the army and navy has swept the country, and swept the government out of power.

We sympathize with both sides, as you sympathize with your neighbor and his wife, in a family row. But you don't go over and try to settle it. You remember the French proverb, "Never put your fingers between the bark and the tree," and that is what Uncle Sam should remember.

This is new. On July 4 flyers far above the earth will talk to each other in the air, using transmitters and receivers on their planes. The conversation will be taken by a receiving station on the ground, sent broadcast, and men on earth will hear other men talking to each other, up in the clouds.

Extend that a little, and you see this planet listening to conversations on other worlds. That may come quite easily, although any journey to moon or outside planet, in the flesh,

COMPANION NARROWLY ESCAPES LIKE FATE AS EARL EDDY MEETS DEATH

Harley Ferguson, Newell, Realizing Plight of Bather, Swims 150 Feet to Reach His Side and is Forced to Release Hold Twice as Youth Struggles in Beaver Creek.

TRAGEDY OCCURS ON SECOND DAY OF VACATION AT WILLIAMSPORT

Pottery Worker, Aged 24, Said to be Poor Swimmer, Goes to Bottom in Seven-foot Hole as Friends Enjoy Water Sport in Another Place —Body Recovered.

Earl Eddy, 24, pottery worker, of 1003 Lincoln avenue, was drowned while bathing in Beaver creek, near Williamsport, eight miles north of here, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he stepped into a seven-foot hole.

Harley Ferguson, 23, Newell, a fellow camper, narrowly escaped a like fate when he attempted to recue Eddy. Twice he caught Eddy, but exhausted from a 150-foot swim to reach him and the drowning man's strenuous struggling, he was forced to relinquish his hold in order to save himself.

Eddy's body was recovered about an hour later by William Crawford, Williamsport farmer, with the use of grappling hooks.

The tragedy occurred on the second day's vacation of a camping party of ... which included Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Sadie Dietz and Mrs. Pauline Coleman, ...rty established their camp Thursday morning ...ernoon took their first "dip" in the water.

Rescue Attempts Fail.

Following the noon meal, Ferguson and Eddy and Mrs. Dietz and Mrs. Coleman donned their bathing suits and started for the creek. Ferguson and the two women entered the water in a shallow place just below the old mill dam, Eddy walking up the creek a short distance from the others.

According to Ferguson, Eddy had been in the water only about 15 minutes, when he evidently stepped into a hole. He is believed to have strangled in the water and being a poor swimmer found himself unable to reach the shore in safety. Leonard Weston, of Newell, and two other lads, members of another camping party at Williamsport, who were near by witnessed Eddy's struggles and called to Ferguson. At first Ferguson paid no attention to their call, but when they shouted a second time, he looked down the creek and discovered Eddy's plight. Although he was about 150 feet from his companion, Ferguson swam to his side. Weston and his two companions, on the shore, unable to swim, did not attempt to rescue the drowning man.

When Ferguson reached Eddy, his strength was spent from the long swim. He, however, grasped the man twice, but because of his struggles he was forced to release his hold. Finally the would-be rescuer exhausted,

SCHOOL CHIEF WILL BE NAMED MONDAY NIGHT

Board of Education Divided Upon Two Candidates.

SPECIAL MEETING

Fail to Act Upon Religious Instruction Question.

Selection of a superintendent to succeed F. P. Geiger, who leaves here August 31, to become superintendent of the public schools at New Philadelphia, probably will be made at a special meeting of the board of education next Monday evening.

This date was set at an adjourned session of the board, held behind closed doors, in the high school building last evening. Applications of two candidates are said to have been considered but neither met with the unanimous approval of the members. A "dark horse," who is said to have recently applied for the place may be selected for the place, it was intimated today, in the event that the board fails to agree on either of the two candidates whose names were considered last night.

The board failed to act upon the Ministerial association's request for use of the school buildings next fall for classes in religious instruction. This question will not be disposed of until Attorney General C. C. Crabbe rules upon the legality of the proceedure, it was announced.

One Portable Building Needed.

Due to a mistake in the enumeration figures reported at the last meeting, but one new portable school building will be required during the coming term. This will be erected with the group of portables now in use at Glenmoor.

Truant Officer W. C. Dickey's figures showed the total enrollment in the Glenmoor school district at the present time to be 141, with indications that it will reach 160 or more before September. Little increase was

$15,000 DAMAGE IN MINE FIRE

POMEROY, O., June 27. — Fire thought to have been set by marauders early today destroyed the power house and machinery of Mine No. 17, of the Pittsburgh Coal company, near here, adding another blaze to the series of mysterious fires at mines opened under the reduced 1917 wage scales. The loss was estimated at $15,000. Bloodhounds followed a trail to a settlement near the mine.

125 CARPENTERS BLAME TIE-UP HERE ON "THREE CONTRACTORS"

Strikers Reply to Employers' Offer of $10.25 Scale.

DEFEND STAND

Union Leaders Reveal Two Proposals They Made.

Responsibility for the tie-up of more than $400,000 worth of new construction in East Liverpool was placed at the doors of "three contractors" by 125 members of Local union No. 328, Carpenters and Joiners of America, in a statement issued today—the 58th day of the strike.

The carpenters charge that they made the contractors a counter-proposition under which they would return to work this week, but that the employers rejected it. The union leaders claim that the men agreed to return to work for $10.50 per day until May 1, 1926, then to receive $11 per day for the following year. The contractors refused to consider this offer but instead submitted a counter proposal, increasing their wages three cents per hour, to $10.25 per day until May 1, 1926, they said. This offer was likewise rejected by the carpenters.

Import Outside Workers.

The strikers also claim that "five other trades have been receiving from one to two dollars more than what we asked for," assert that "our demands were reasonable and just" and declare "contractors have been charging the public 20 per cent for carpenter labor," and that "the contractor could well afford to pay the increase demanded without any extra charge to the public."

Building contractors today were completing arrangements to bring outside carpenters into East Liverpool to take the places of the strikers. They claim they will have no trouble in obtaining skilled carpenters for $10 per day, which they say is the maximum rate throughout the state with the exception of Steubenville, where the scale is $11.

The concractors will resume building operations as soon as possible, they said.

Carpenters expect Arnold Bill, Cleveland, representative of the national carpenters' union, to return here early in the week. He left here early Friday morning for his home in Cleveland.

Foul Play Theory In Charles S. Tice Case Strengthened

The foul play theory of relatives and friends of Charles S. Tice, Harker avenue potter, whose body was found in the Ohio river Wednesday afternoon, was strengthened today with the receipt of a report that he had been seen at the state line, Tuesday afternoon.

R. L. Coddle, Pennsylvania avenue, informed Mrs. William Tice, sister-in-law of the victim, that he met Tice at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and had talked to him. Coddle reported that Tice said that he was going to Midland.

When Tice left his mother's home Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, he is said to have had at least $50 of the $60 pay he received Saturday.

Police believe that Tice committed suicide while Coroner J. M. Van Fossan returned a verdict of "accidental drowning."

G. O. P. TRAINS GUNS ON WEST TO WIN TOGAS

Wisconsin and North Dakota Chief Points of Attack.

MASS ARTILLERY

Mobilize Forces in Preparation for Election Next Year.

WASHINGTON, June 27—The heaviest guns in the Rpublican party's arsenal will be unlimbered on the western front this fall in a spirited fight to capture senate seats.

Wisconsin and North Dakota, where the Progressives are most strongly entrenched, will be the chief points of attack.

While the so-called "insurgents" are casting about trying to find candidates to succeed Senator LaFollette, in Wisconsin, and Senator Ladd, in North Dakota, the more conservative elements are quietly laying plans for a battle to win seats in these states.

The west has been selected for the heaviest mobilization of forces in preparation for the election of next year when one-third of the senate, 32 senators, must face the voters.

Butler Will Take Field.

Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee, will take the field early in September to lead the forces. He plans an extensive tour of the West where he has already arranged conferences with lieutenants.

The Republicans face a peculiarly difficult situation to win seats from the Democrats. Of the seven Democrats who come up next year, all are from the south and Republicans admit virtually no chance to add strength there.

On the other hand, there are several Republicans from the so-called "doubtful" states which by a slight turn of the popular vote might easily go Democratic. This is regarded as especially true in Kentucky, Colorado, Indiana, Ohio, Arizona, Oklahoma, Maryland and Illinois.

La Follette's Son to Run

But it is not the danger of losing to Democrats that is at present worrying Republican leaders. That can be faced later, when the general elections

FIVE FLEE AS FIRE DESTROYS SAND DIGGER IN OHIO RIVER

Dummy Boat Sinks Following $30,000 Blaze.

BARGES SAVED

Short Circuited Wire Blamed for Loss at Babb Island.

Five men were forced to flee for their lives and approximately $30,000 damages resulted shortly after 10:30 o'clock last night, when fire, believed to have originated either in the boiler room or from a short-circuited electric wire, burned "The Aid," the East Liverpool Sand company's dummy sand digger, to the water's edge in the Ohio river near Babb island.

Workers Escape in Skiff

Despite efforts on the part of Foreman Theodore Farnsworth and four other workers, who were aboard, to save the machinery, the boat, due to the shifting of one of the boilers capsized and went to the bottom.

When they realized that the fire was beyond control, Farnsworth and his co-workers fled in a skiff.

The gasoline boat, "Alice", also owned by the sand company, hurried to the scene following the discovery of the fire, which illuminated the skies for more than a mile along the river front, and saved five barges, two of them loaded with sand, which were moored to the digger. The barges were slightly damaged by the blaze.

The sand digger was operating

OPEN PLAYLOT HERE MONDAY

Ice Cream Cones Will be Distributed to Children.

The city playground at the corner of Second and Washington streets, will open on Monday, Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs, announced today.

Due to a delay in the placing of apparatus, the swings and possibly the slides will not likely be ready for use on the opening day. This equipment was moved when the tabernacle was erected and was to have been replaced by the East Liverpool Welfare association, purchasers of the structure.

The playlot will open at noon. At 6:30 o'clock, free ice cream cones will be distributed. The ice cream will be furnished by the Crockery City Ice & Products company and the Crystal Ice Cream & Bottling company, while the cones will be provided by the Riggs company, wholesale grocers. The Eagles' band probably will give an hour's concert, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The playground will be in charge of Frank Manton, boys' director, and Ruth Johnson, girls' supervisor. The opening hour after Monday has not been definitely determined, but the closing hour will be 8 p. m. It will be open every day except Sunday.

The Women's clubs have not determined how long the playlot shall be maintained this year. Less than $500 is now available and unless additional contributions are received in the interim the lot will be closed when this fund is depleted.

Evangelist Terry Plan Sunday Meets In Bloomfield Tent

Two tent services will be conducted Sunday in Bloomfield by Evangelist T. L. Terry of Ludlow, Ky.

At the afternoon meeting, Rev. Mr. Terry will preach on the subject of "Faith." A group picture of the tent and the audience will be taken preceding the service. A delegation of Pittsburgh visitors are expected to attend this rally. At 7:45 p. m., the sermon subject will be "Where Art Thou?"

The services will be held every evening, Saturday excepted, until July 5.

SOLONS VOTE BONDS FOR EIGHTH STREET JOB, ABOLISH POST OF SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Passage of the West Eighth street improvement ordinance and supplementary legislation providing for the issuance of bonds to meet the city's share of the work; abolition of the position of sealer of weights and measures, which automatically eliminates the place of assistant sanitary officer; rejection of the request presented by citizens of St. Clair avenue for an extension of water mains; lively discussion on the question of giving residents of Claiborn avenue an outlet and approval of the proposal of representatives of Trades and Labor Council that a fence be erected around City park in West Fifth street, featured the meeting of city council last evening.

The improvement ordinance and bond legislation were enacted under suspension of rules with Solon Farrall voting in opposition on every roll call. Just before the final vote was taken, he arose and declared: "I want to go on record as saying the city is being gold bricked.' His remarks brought forth no reply from his colleagues. The city's share of the cost of the improvement will be $31,571.

Tilt With Citizens.

Prior to the vote on abolition the place of sealer of weights and measures, a delegation from Trades and Labor council was heard. They declared that they had conferred with members of the health board and were informed that the work of the body would be hampered if the position of sanitary officer was abolished. They said, however, that no objection would be offered to elimination of the sealer's place providing the assistant health officer was retained. When the vote was taken, it was unanimous. Kerr and Farrall made speeches in favor of the ordinance after Solicitor Brokaw ruled the legislation abolished the assistant health officer's post.

Sharp tilts between citizens and members of council featured debate on the Clairborn avenue question. William Beaver, who appeared as chief spokesman for the delegation, asked point blank whether or not council intended giving them relief. Eardley and Kerr replied that negotiations were under way with the Youngstown & Ohio River Railroad company. This answer did not satisfy the delegation who pressed their point and in the debate that followed it developed that the strip of ground sought as an outlet has recently been purchased by the Midway Oil company. A representative of the company, given the privilege of the floor, said that they would offer no objection if a portion of the ground was used as a roadway, but he did not think his company would sell the property to the city. The matter was disposed of by passage of a motion that council as a whole visit the site and make a report at the next meeting.

Fence for City Park.

Councilman Larcombe opened debate on the proposed extension of water mains beyond the city limits by asserting that the city had the water and should sell it if the people of that section were willing to pay for the service. Hayes voiced similar sentiments. Kerr, Farrall and Chambers opposed the proposal. Kerr declared that before his term expired he would bring before council the matter of annexation of the district and give the residents a chance to say whether or not they would come into the city.

Plan Conference on Salary Question.

Trades and Labor Council representative presented the petition for the erection of a fence around City park and it was endorsed by Farrall who called attention to the danger due to many autos traveling in that vicinity. Kerr moved to refer the matter to the park commission but when his attention was called to the fact that the commission had no jurisdiction in the matter by Solicitor Brokaw and At-

Five deaths were reported in Bulacin province and the Daet municipality in Camarines province was practically destroyed with three deaths.

Property damage was not estimated.

SCHOOL CHIEF WILL BE NAMED MONDAY NIGHT

Board of Education Divided Upon Two Candidates.

SPECIAL MEETING

Fail to Act Upon Religious Instruction Question.

Selection of a superintendent to succeed F. P. Geiger, who leaves here August 31, to become superintendent of the public schools at New Philadelphia, probably will be made at a special meeting of the board of education next Monday evening.

This date was set at an adjourned session of the board, held behind closed doors, in the high school building last evening. Applications of two candidates are said to have been considered but neither met with the unanimous approval of the members. A "dark horse," who is said to have recently applied for the place may be selected for the place, it was intimated today, in the event that the board fails to agree on either of the two candidates whose names were considered last night.

The board failed to act upon the Ministerial association's request for use of the school buildings next fall for classes in religious instruction. This question will not be disposed of until Attorney General C. C. Crabbe rules upon the legality of the proceedure, it was announced.

One Portable Building Needed.

Due to a mistake in the enumeration figures reported at the last meeting, but one new portable school building will be required during the coming term. This will be erected with the group of portables now in use at Glenmoor.

Truant Officer W. C. Dickey's figures showed the total enrollment in the Glenmoor school district at the present time to be 141, with indications that it will reach 160 or more before September. Little increase was

125 CARPENTERS BLAME TIE-UP HERE ON "THREE CONTRACTORS"

Strikers Reply to Employers' Offer of $10.25 Scale.

DEFEND STAND

Union Leaders Reveal Two Proposals They Made.

Responsibility for the tie-up of more than $400,000 worth of new construction in East Liverpool was placed at the doors of "three contractors" by 125 members of Local union No. 328, Carpenters and Joiners of America, in a statement issued today—the 58th day of the strike.

The carpenters charge that they made the contractors a counter-proposition under which they would return to work this week, but that the employers rejected it. The union leaders claim that the men agreed to return to work for $10.50 per day until May 1, 1926, then to receive $11 per day for the following year. The contractors refused to consider this offer but instead submitted a counter proposal, increasing their wages three cents per hour, to $10.25 per day until May 1, 1926, they said. This offer was likewise rejected by the carpenters.

Import Outside Workers.

The strikers also claim that "five other trades have been receiving from one to two dollars more than what we asked for," assert that "our demands were reasonable and just" and declare "contractors have been charging the public 20 per cent for carpenter labor,' and that "the contractor could well afford to pay the increase demanded without any extra charge to the public."

Building contractors today were completing arrangements to bring outside carpenters into East Liverpool to take the places of the strikers. They claim they will have no trouble in obtaining skilled carpenters for $10 per day, which they say is the maximum rate throughout the state with the exception of Steubenville, where the scale is $11.

The concractors will resume building operations as soon as possible, they said.

Carpenters expect Arnold Bill, Cleveland, representative of the national carpenters' union, to return here early in the week. He left here early Friday morning for his home in Cleveland.

Foul Play Theory In Charles S. Tice Case Strengthened

The foul play theory of relatives and friends of Charles S. Tice, Harker avenue potter, whose body was found in the Ohio river Wednesday afternoon, was strengthened today with the receipt of a report that he had been seen at the state line, Tuesday afternoon.

R. L. Coddle, Pennsylvania avenue, informed Mrs. William Tice, sister-in-law of the victim, that he met Tice at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and had talked to him. Coddle reported that Tice said that he was going to Midland.

When Tice left his mother's home Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, he is said to have had at least $50 of the $60 pay he received Saturday.

Police believe that Tice committed suicide while Coroner J. M. Van Fossan returned a verdict of "accidental drowning."

G. O. P. TRAINS GUNS ON WEST TO WIN TOGAS

Wisconsin and North Dakota Chief Points of Attack.

MASS ARTILLERY

Mobilize Forces in Preparation for Election Next Year.

WASHINGTON, June 27—The heaviest guns in the Rpublican party's arsenal will be unlimbered on the western front this fall in a spirited fight to capture senate seats.

Wisconsin and North Dakota, where the Progressives are most strongly entrenched, will be the chief points of attack.

While the so-called "insurgents" are casting about trying to find candidates to succeed Senator LaFollette, in Wisconsin, and Senator Ladd, in North Dakota, the more conservative elements are quietly laying plans for a battle to win seats in these states.

The west has been selected for the heaviest mobilization of forces in preparation for the election of next year when one-third of the senate, 32 senators, must face the voters.

Butler Will Take Field.

Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee, will take the field early in September to lead the forces. He plans an extensive tour of the West where he has already arranged conferences with lieutenants.

The Republicans face a peculiarly difficult situation to win seats from the Democrats. Of the seven Democrats who come up next year, all are from the south and Republicans admit virtually no chance to add strength there.

On the other hand, there are several Republicans from the so-called "doubtful" states which by a slight turn of the popular vote might easily go Democratic. This is regarded as especially true in Kentucky, Colorado, Indiana, Ohio, Arizona, Oklahoma, Maryland and Illinois.

La Follette's Son to Run

But it is not the danger of losing to Democrats that is at present worrying Republican leaders. That can be faced later, when the general elections

FIVE FLEE AS FIRE DESTROYS SAND DIGGER IN OHIO RIVER

Dummy Boat Sinks Following $30,000 Blaze.

BARGES SAVED

Short Circuited Wire Blamed for Loss at Babb Island.

Five men were forced to flee for their lives and approximately $30,000 damages resulted shortly after 10:30 o'clock last night, when fire, believed to have originated either in the boiler room or from a short-circuited electric wire, burned "The Aid," the East Liverpool Sand company's dummy sand digger, to the water's edge in the Ohio river near Babb island.

Workers Escape in Skiff

Despite efforts on the part of Foreman Theodore Farnsworth and four other workers, who were aboard, to save the machinery, the boat, due to the shifting of one of the boilers capsized and went to the bottom.

When they realized that the fire was beyond control, Farnsworth and his co-workers fled in a skiff.

The gasoline boat, "Alice", also owned by the sand company, hurried to the scene following the discovery of the fire, which illuminated the skies for more than a mile along the river front, and saved five barges, two of them loaded with sand, which were moored to the digger. The barges were slightly damaged by the blaze.

The sand digger was operating

OPEN PLAYLOT HERE MONDAY

Ice Cream Cones Will be Distributed to Children.

The city playground at the corner of Second and Washington streets, will open on Monday, Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs, announced today.

Due to a delay in the placing of apparatus, the swings and possibly the slides will not likely be ready for use on the opening day. This equipment was moved when the tabernacle was erected and was to have been replaced by the East Liverpool Welfare association, purchasers of the structure.

The playlot will open at noon. At 6:30 o'clock, free ice cream cones will be distributed. The ice cream will be furnished by the Crockery City Ice & Products company and the Crystal Ice Cream & Bottling company, while the cones will be provided by the Riggs company, wholesale grocers. The Eagles' band probably will give an hour's concert, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The playground will be in charge of Frank Manton, boys' director, and Ruth Johnson, girls' supervisor. The opening hour after Monday has not been definitely determined, but the closing hour will be 8 p. m. It will be open every day except Sunday.

The Women's clubs have not determined how long the playlot shall be maintained this year. Less than $500 is now available and unless additional contributions are received in the interim the lot will be closed when this fund is depleted.

Evangelist Terry Plan Sunday Meets In Bloomfield Tent

Two tent services will be conducted Sunday in Bloomfield by Evangelist T. L. Terry of Ludlow, Ky.

At the afternoon meeting, Rev. Mr. Terry will preach on the subject of "Faith." A group picture of the tent and the audience will be taken preceding the service. A delegation of Pittsburgh visitors are expected to attend this rally. At 7:45 p. m., the sermon subject will be "Where Art Thou?"

The services will be held every evening, Saturday excepted, until July 4.

SOLONS VOTE BONDS FOR EIGHTH STREET JOB, ABOLISH POST OF SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Passage of the West Eighth street improvement ordinance and supplementary legislation providing for the issuance of bonds to meet the city's share of the work; abolition of the position of sealer of weights and measures, which automatically eliminates the place of assistant sanitary officer; rejection of the request presented by citizens of St. Clair avenue for an extension of water mains; lively discussion on the question of giving residents of Claiborn avenue an outlet and approval of the proposal of representatives of Trades and Labor Council that a fence be erected around City park in West Fifth street, featured the meeting of city council last evening.

The improvement ordinance and bond legislation were enacted under suspension of rules with Solon Farrall voting in opposition on every roll call. Just before the final vote was taken, he arose and declared: "I want to go on record as saying the city is being gold bricked.' His remarks brought forth no reply from his colleagues. The city's share of the cost of the improvement will be $31,571.

Tilt With Citizens.

Prior to the vote on abolition the place of sealer of weights and measures, a delegation from Trades and Labor council was heard. They declared that they had conferred with members of the health board and were informed that the work of the body would be hampered if the position of sanitary officer was abolished. They said, however, that no objection would be offered to elimination of the sealer's place providing the assistant health officer was retained. When the vote was taken, it was unanimous. Kerr and Farrall made speeches in favor of the ordinance after Solicitor Brokaw ruled the legislation abolished the assistant health officer's post.

Sharp tilts between citizens and members of council featured debate on the Clairborn avenue question. William Beaver, who appeared as chief spokesman for the delegation, asked point blank whether or not council intended giving them relief. Eardley and Kerr replied that negotiations were under way with the Youngstown & Ohio River Railroad company. This answer did not satisfy the delegation who pressed their point and in the debate that followed it developed that the strip of ground sought as an outlet has recently been purchased by the Midway Oil company. A representative of the company, given the privilege of the floor, said that they would offer no objection if a portion of the ground was used as a roadway, but he did not think his company would sell the property to the city. The matter was disposed of by passage of a motion that council as a whole visit the site and make a report at the next meeting.

Fence for City Park.

Councilman Larcombe opened debate on the proposed extension of water mains beyond the city limits by asserting that the city had the water and should sell it if the people of that section were willing to pay for the service. Hayes voiced similar sentiments. Kerr, Farrall and Chambers opposed the proposal. Kerr declared that before his term expired he would bring before council the matter of annexation of the district and give the residents a chance to say whether or not they would come into the city.

Plan Conference on Salary Question.

Trades and Labor Council representative presented the petition for the erection of a fence around City park and it was endorsed by Farrall who called attention to the danger due to many autos traveling in that vicinity. Kerr moved to refer the matter to the park commission but when his attention was called to the fact that the commission had no jurisdiction in the matter by Solicitor Brokaw and At-

SHEPHERD WINS COURT FIGHT

Jury Votes Acquittal in Chicago "Germ Murder" Case.

CHICAGO, June 27.—William Darling Shepherd slept today with the lights out, for the first time in three months and thirteen days.

That, when the first flush of his victory, his winning of freedom through verdict of a jury on the bitterly fought charge of the state—that he had killed his ward, "Billy" McClintock with typhoid germs to win the million dollar McClintock estate—was his first thought.

In that first moment of his vindication Shepherd's first thought was of his wife, whose loyalty throughout the black days of the trial gave him the courage to face the world and smile. Plans for a "second honeymoon" were on their lips as soon as the confirming kiss of faith had been passed between them when the clerk in Judge Lynch's court read that "not guilty" verdict.

Sleeps With Lights Out.

Tumbling in the wake of the love message came plans for the future—and then:

"I want to sleep," said Shepherd. "For three months and 13 days I've gazed at an ever-burning electric light, through the meshes of a cell. For three months that speck of light has been burning itself into my eyes. My right eye seems to always see, even in daytime, a flaring image of a light globe. I want to sleep with the lights out."

It took the jury six ballots to free Shepherd. From the first they stood 11 to 1 for acquittal, the man who stood alone being won over on the sixth ballot.

Then followed a demonstration for Shepherd and then the glad greeting of Julie.

Another Battle Looms.

The Shepherds are at the home of a friend on the South Side.

Thrust into the background of their thoughts was another great legal battle that looms—the probate fight for possession of Billy McClintock's million dollars.

"The fight will go on," said Shepherd in referring to the charge made by his counsel that there was a plot to convict him. "But first I want to rest and have a second honeymoon with the one woman in the whole world."

10,000 Americans, "Pleasure Bent," Sail For European Ports

NEW YORK, June 27.—All records for the number of Americans going to Europe were broken today when 11 big trans-Atlantic liners sailed from New York carrying a moderate army of 10,000 persons.

The great majority of them, according to shipping officials, are "pleasure bent," although business men and college students formed a part of the great exodus.

Today's sailings marked the peak of the summer tourist traffic, which has been heavier this summer than ever before.

Shipping men estimate that the 10,000 who sailed will leave many millions of American dollars abroad to bolster up exchange and the "invisible trade balance."

War Department Offers Muscle Shoals Power to Bidders

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The war department today offered for sale the surplus power that it is to develop at Muscle Shoals in August during the testing of the new generator units and water wheels.

In accordance with the mandates of the special Muscle Shoals inquiry commission, appointed by President Coolidge, the War department, however, will not enter a lease for disposal of the power.

Among those the War department is seeking to interest in the purchase of power is Henry Ford, whose bid for the entire project was refused by congress and subsequently withdrawn by the automobile manufacturer.

was forced to seek shore in order to escape drowning.

A lad named Crytzer is reported to have attempted to rescue Eddy after Ferguson had given up and he himself narrowly escaped death. This report, however, could not be verified by Ferguson or other members of the party.

Coroner Returns Verdict.

The body was placed aboard a truck and started for town. At Calcutta, Ferguson called the C. N. Miller ambulance. From this point the body was brought to a morgue in the ambulance.

Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, who came here this morning to conduct an inquest, returned a verdict of "accidental drowning" after talking with Ferguson.

Eddy has been employed as a batter-out for Ferguson, a jiggerman at the No. 4 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, Newell, for about six years.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. Alice Eddy; five brothers and one sister, Clarence, Elmer, Acey and John Eddy, all of East Liverpool; Harry Eddy of Hollidays Cove and Mrs. Mary Casto of Chester.

Eddy was a member of East Liverpool aerie No. 457, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Funeral services will be conducted in the late home at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Rev. R. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Church of Christ, in charge. Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery. Friends may view the body Sunday afternoon and evening.

TODAY

will probably forever remain physically impossible.

You read of the latest divorce suit charges. The husband accuses his wife, who "listens coldly," of giving late entertainments at which guests of both sexes wore, by way of clothing, exactly nothing at all.

She counters by naming three co-respondents, one of them a lady of 94 years old. But all that,even if true, simply means, not new viciousness, but merely slipping back to old fashioned evils.

A prince regent of France is said to have given parties as bad, and worse, since members of his family were present.

We are not really getting worse. A few are as bad now as a great many used to be — that's all. It is just a slipping back toward the moneky house.

Chicago's city council unanimously requested advice from the corporation counsel as to separating Chicago from the rest of Illinois.

The best advice is don't.

The feet wanted to separate from the head, in the old fable, because the head seemed to be having all the pleasure, while the feet carried the load. You know what would happen to a pair of feet with no head to guide.

It is foolish for the head to demand separation from the feet. A great city, in a fine state, is like a beautiful apple, growing on a good tree. It would be a foolish apple that would say, "I don't need this tree." its mind would change if the sap were cut off.

Merchants declaring that they are living in fear demand laws that would sentence robbers to imprisonment for life.

New York's board of trade and transportation has officially urged such a law.

It might be good, especially if the life convicts could be made really useful during their imprisonment. Perhaps they could be used irrigating particularly disagreeable deserts, or draining some of the worst mosquito and disease breeding swamps—with some reasonable hope of commutation if they worked well for 20 years.

Punishment is after all a matter of convenience. American laws have punished horse stealing with hanging. In Japan it was death to take a silk worm across the border. That was to protect Japan's silk trade. Every law is right, if the people want it, and no law works, if the people don't want it.

"SILENT COPS" ILLUMINATED

New Traffic Signals Purchased Without Cost to City.

The city's new "silent police", purchased without one cent expense to the municipality, were illuminated for the first time last night.

The new signals, painted in white and blue, present an attractive appearance in day light as well as at night. They are fitted with heavy green lenses, obtained from the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

The cost of the "silent police" was met through contributions by William Tallman, manager of the Ceramic Theatre and the Kiwanis club. The East Liverpool Concrete Block company, Union and Third street, furnished the stucco and concrete blocks on which the signs have been mounted. The wiring was done by Benjamin Hall, local electrician.

The two signals in the Diamond at Sixth street are worked by a switch in the police booth, while others at Fifth and Market streets, Sixth street and Broadway and Broadway and St. Clair avenue are operated from switches on near by poles.

Automobile owners were urged today by Chief of Police McDermott to observe the "keep to the right" regulations in passing the new signal at Broadway and St. Clair avenue. Police are to be stationed at this point for a few days to warn motorists that they must keep to the right to avoid arrest.

FRENCH TENNIS STAR DEFEATED

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 27.—One of France's famed "big three" passed out of the Wimbledon all-comers' tennis singles today when Jim Anderson, the Australian crack, wore down and ultimately defeated Brugnon in a great five-set match after the Frenchman had taken the first two sets. The scores were -6, 7-9, 6-4, 7-5 and 6-2.

Brugnon was on the verge of collapse at the end, his resistance to Anderson's implacable advance becoming more and more futile as the final set progressed.

Lucien Williams, of Chicago, teamed with Fenno, of England, emerged victorious in the second round of the men's doubles. They defeated Sherwell and Eltringham, of England, 6-4, 6-3, 5-7, 7-9 and 8-6.

SEEK OHIOAN AS WOMAN'S SLAYER

CINCINNATI, June 27.—A Cincinnati man is now suspected of being the slayer of the woman whose nude body, weighted down with automobile skid chains, was found in the Ohio river at Utopia, Ohio, last Tuesday. This became known today when seven residents of Utopia arrived in Cincinnati and will attempt to identify the man under surveillance.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 27. — Prices of well known industrial and motor stocks moved aggressively forward in the stock market today. American Can started with a three point gain at the opening, to the accompaniment of new rumors concerning a long-awaited split-up of the stock at next Tuesday's meeting of the board of directors. The stock jumped 10 points to 200 in the first half hour of trading.

This week's active movement in General Motors and Yellow Cab Manufacturing gave rise to rumors of a combination of the two companies though the report was officially denied in Chicago. Yellow Cab sold above 49 for a gain of nearly eight points from Thursday's low, while General Motors at 85¼ was up six points from last week's close, also recording the highest price ever reached by the stock in its present form. Willys Overland, United States Rubber and other motor accessory stocks sold higher in active trading.

Strength in the pivotal stocks stimulated heavy trading in other sections of the speculative list and price trends were higher. The oil stocks made only a slight response to the marking up of crude oil prices by the Texas company and the prospective advance in Pennsylvania crude oil which was expected to be announced today. Standard Oil stocks and a few of the independent oils sold fractionally higher, but gains were conservative in comparison with the sheaf of bullish predictions issued by the Wall street brokerage houses.

New forward movements were started in a number of the specialty stocks, including DuPont, Cast Iron Pipe, Radio Corporation, Armour, Universal Pipe, Philadelphia company, etc. United Cigar Stores surged forward to a new high record price, while Gulf States Steel, at the head of the independent steel stocks, sold about one point higher. American Smelting was strong in the second hour, with an advance to above 105. Woolworth reached 141 in active trading.

NINE DROWNED AS LINER HITS TUG

QUEBEC, June 27.—Search was made today for the bodies of nine men who were drowned when the tug Ocean King was rammed by the liner Marloch in the St. Lawrence river just below the Terrace, where hundreds of persons were taking their evening stroll.

Capt. A. E. Stevens had taken his tug out to the channel to help tow the liner. Presumably, in order to be able to catch the hawser, the tug cut across the bow of the Marloch.

There was a crash and in the space of five minutes nothing was seen on the surface of the St. Lawrence where the tug had been except a slight frothing of waters.

come around. The immediate necessity, therefore, in the view of Republican leaders, is to concentrate in Wisconsin and North Dakota, states which year after year have sent men to congress with Republican labels but who harassed the party chiefs at every turn, more often being against the administration than with it. Three senators from these states, La Follette, Wisconsin, and Ladd and Frazier, North Dakota, and Brookhart, Iowa, were "read out" of the party for their insurgency.

Taking Wisconsin and North Dakota in the special elections this fall, Republicans would regard as a more helpful victory than holding seats against Democrats in most other states. The insurgents have admittedly been a bitter dose for the conservative elements in the party, and in the death of Senator LaFollette and Ladd they feel the time is right to strike hard.

Progressives, too, are not sitting idly by, according to reports here today. In Wisconsin, particularly, they are girding themselves for a real, old-fashioned battle. Information here indicates that Mrs. La Follette will refuse to run for her husband's seat, and that Robert M. La Follette, Jr., will be the Progressive banner bearer.

Woman Who Smokes Cigarettes Fights For Teaching Job

SECAUCUS, N. J., June 27.—Should a woman teacher smoke cigarettes? That issue transcends all others in Secaucus today where the case of Miss Helen Clark, a public school teacher, is a subject of avid discussion.

Her contract will not be renewed when it expires July 1 as a result, she says, of a dislike by school officials of her smoking cigarettes.

Matthew Pechtel, principal, denied Miss Clark's habit of smoking is the reason why she can't retain her position. He said she was found to be inefficient, but he admitted the school board might consider cigarette smoking as contributing to inefficiency.

The issue will be settled Monday night when Miss Clark will be given a public hearing.

Yellow Cab-General Motors Merger Near, Is New York Report

NEW YORK, June 27.—Acquisition of the Yellow Cab Manufacturing company by General Motors Corporation or interests identified with that company were foreshadowed today as the result of informal conferences held here this week between John Hartz, president of the Yellow Cab, and officials of the General Motors Corporation.

General Motors has been negotiating in various directions for important manufacturing plants in which to extend its truck and bus productions. This was emphasized by the substantial bids made for the Dodge Brothers' property in competition with the Dillon-Read banking house. Acquisition of Yellow Cab manufacturing field will mean extensive selling connections.

Official confirmation of sale or merger negotiations is lacking, but prominent stockholders of General Motors Corporation are reported to have purchased large blocks of Yellow Cab stock when it appeared on the New York stock exchange. This stock, with that held by Chicago interests, would be sufficient to assure control.

INDIANS DEFEAT U. S. POLO TEAM

LONDON, June 27.—The United States Army polo team, which defeated England for the international military championship several days ago, was smothered today by the Maharajah of Jodphur's quartet from India in an exhibition match. The Americans lost, 13 to 3, being out classed by the speedy and sensational Indians at every turn.

Solons Vote Bonds

torney W. H. Vodrey, it was referred to the service director.

Several residents of West Fourth street inquired why they were charged $50 for connecting their properties with a sanitary sewer. City Engineer George was called upon and informed the solons that the charge was made under an ordinance which had long been in effect. It developed during the discussion that other property there had connected with a storm sewer without charge. It was decided that council, as a whole, should investigate the matter before the next session.

Kerr suggested placing a "silent policeman" at the corner of Elizabeth street and Harvey avenue after making a report for the street committee that it would be unwise at this time to insist on property owners along Harvey avenue paving their sidewalks.

Ordinances calling for extension of sewers on Smithfield, Garfield and Edgewood streets were passed under suspension of the rules.

Before adjournment, council voted to confer with the city auditor relative to funds to pay the salaries of the mayor and the new municipal judge. Solicitor Brokaw stated that the Bar association had appointed a similar committee and suggested a joint session to discuss the question.

COOLIDGE GOES TO CAMBRIDGE

President Also Visits Boston on Sight-seeing Trip.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., June 27.—A "Coolidge tour" of this section of New England was booked today as the principal attraction of President Coolidge's fourth day in the summer white house.

Early this morning the President and Mrs. Coolidge, closely followed by a long string of motor cars, started out on a sightseeing trip through Boston and Cambridge, the first of a series of tours designed to cover many of the historic spots in the state the executive once governed.

For the most part the entourage was composed of the newspapermen and photographers, who were especially invited to accompany the party by Mr. Coolidge himself.

Visits Historical Spots.

Cambridge was chosen as the first point of call, largely because the president is scheduled to make the principal address there on July 3 in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the assumption of command of the Continental army of George Washington.

The site of the Washington elm, where this incident took place, and the Cambridge common, near the site of the elm, from which the president will speak, were the main points of interest.

Other tours that Mr. Coolidge has planned for himself and the correspondents accompanying him here include the Charlestown navy yard, where the frigate Constitution is anchored, and Forts Andrew, Banks and Warren stretched out along the coast line. These tours will be made aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower.

Tomorrow the president and Mrs. Coolidge will utilize the Mayflower for the first time on their vacation. Immediately after service at the local Congregational church, they will board the yacht at its berth at Marblehead for a short cruise up and down the coast.

with the regular cash and ticket fares now being collected.

Passengers using the weekly pass merely need to show it as they enter or leave the car as the arrangement may be, if it is a two-zone pass. It must be produced upon entering and leaving the car.

The traction company claims that in cities where the plan is in use pass holders average more than four rides per day, which in East Liverpool would amount to 28 cents for a cash fare, or 25 cents for a ticket fare, on city lines. Delays in loading and unloading would be eliminated by a majority of the passengers having passes. They will be on sale each week from Friday until Tuesday by conductors and at the Broadway ticket office.

mid-way between the island and the West Virginia shore, opposite Ninth street, Chester, when the fire broke out. Sand company employes were on the second deck, changing the sand screen. When they reached the first deck, the fire had gained a big headway.

Bucket Brigade Formed

With Foreman Farnsworth directing, the workers formed a bucket brigade, dipping the water from the river, in an effort to check the spread of the flames, thus hoping to save the machinery. Their efforts, however, were futile.

News of the fire spread rapidly and soon scores of people lined high points on the Ohio side of the river, while many went to Chester to watch the flames which leaped high in the air.

Officials of the Sand company were unable today to determine the exact loss, which is partly covered by insurance.

Instead of increases in the East End, as had been reported previously, decreases were shown in the Garfield and the Horace Mann districts, so additional facilities will not likely be required there next September.

Pittsburgh Company Gets Contract

Two companies, dealing in portable buildings submitted bids. The Togan Styles, Inc., of Grand Rapids, Mich., offered a proposal of $1,714.90 for a one room building 24x36 ft., while the Circle A Products company of Pittsburgh, furnished an estimate of $1,716.22 for a structure 21x36 feet. These figures included heaters and composition black boards, F. O. B. East Liverpool.

The Circle A Products company supplied the portable structures now in service in Glenmoor and East End. Upon roll call, members Sample, Wilhelm, Weaver and White favored the bid of the Circle A concern, while President J. H. Brooks supported the proposal of the Grand Rapids company. The contract was awarded the former company.

The board authorized F. T. Weaver, a member of the supplies committee, to purchase 50 pedestals for seats from the A. H. Andrews company of Chicago, at $2.50 each.

SHEPHERD WINS COURT FIGHT

Jury Votes Acquittal in Chicago "Germ Murder" Case.

CHICAGO, June 27.—William Darling Shepherd slept today with the lights out, for the first time in three months and thirteen days.

That, when the first flush of his victory, his winning of freedom through verdict of a jury on the bitterly fought charge of the state—that he had killed his ward, "Billy" McClintock with typhoid germs to win the million dollar McClintock estate—was his first thought.

In that first moment of his vindication Shepherd's first thought was of his wife, whose loyalty throughout the black days of the trial gave him the courage to face the world and smile. Plans for a "second honeymoon" were on their lips as soon as the confirming kiss of faith had been passed between them when the clerk in Judge Lynch's court read that "not guilty" verdict.

Sleeps With Lights Out.

Tumbling in the wake of the love message came plans for the future—and then:

"I want to sleep," said Shepherd. "For three months and 13 days I've gazed at an ever-burning electric light, through the meshes of a cell. For three months that speck of light has been burning itself into my eyes. My right eye seems to always see, even in daytime, a flaring image of a light globe. I want to sleep with the lights out."

It took the jury six ballots to free Shepherd. From the first they stood 11 to 1 for acquittal, the man who stood alone being won over on the sixth ballot.

Then followed a demonstration for Shepherd and then the glad greeting of Julie.

Another Battle Looms.

The Shepherds are at the home of a friend on the South Side.

Thrust into the background of their thoughts was another great legal battle that looms—the probate fight for possession of Billy McClintock's million dollars.

"The fight will go on," said Shepherd in referring to the charge made by his counsel that there was a plot to convict him. "But first I want to rest and have a second honeymoon with the one woman in the whole world."

10,000 Americans, "Pleasure Bent," Sail For European Ports

NEW YORK, June 27.—All records for the number of Americans going to Europe were broken today when 11 big trans-Atlantic liners sailed from New York carrying a moderate army of 10,000 persons.

The great majority of them, according to shipping officials, are "pleasure bent," although business men and college students formed a part of the great exodus.

Today's sailings marked the peak of the summer tourist traffic, which has been heavier this summer than ever before.

Shipping men estimate that the 10,000 who sailed will leave many millions of American dollars abroad to bolster up exchange and the "invisible trade balance."

War Department Offers Muscle Shoals Power to Bidders

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The war department today offered for sale the surplus power that it is to develop at Muscle Shoals in August during the testing of the new generator units and water wheels.

In accordance with the mandates of the special Muscle Shoals inquiry commission, appointed by President Coolidge, the War department, however, will not enter a lease for disposal of the power.

Among those the War department is seeking to interest in the purchase of power is Henry Ford, whose bid for the entire project was refused by congress and subsequently withdrawn by the automobile manufacturer.

was forced to seek shore in order to escape drowning.

A lad named Crytzer is reported to have attempted to rescue Eddy after Ferguson had given up and he himself narrowly escaped death. This report, however, could not be verified by Ferguson or other members of the party.

Coroner Returns Verdict.

The body was placed aboard a truck and started for town. At Calcutta, Ferguson called the C. N. Miller ambulance. From this point the body was brought to a morgue in the ambulance.

Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, who came here this morning to conduct an inquest, returned a verdict of "accidental drowning" after talking with Ferguson.

Eddy has been employed as a batter-out for Ferguson, a jiggerman at the No. 4 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, Newell, for about six years.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. Alice Eddy; five brothers and one sister, Clarence, Elmer, Acey and John Eddy, all of East Liverpool; Harry Eddy of Hollidays Cove and Mrs. Mary Casto of Chester.

Eddy was a member of East Liverpool aerie No. 457, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Funeral services will be conducted in the late home at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Rev. R. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Church of Christ, in charge. Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery. Friends may view the body Sunday afternoon and evening.

will probably forever remain physically impossible.

You read of the latest divorce suit charges. The husband accuses his wife, who "listens coldly," of giving late entertainments at which guests of both sexes wore, by way of clothing, exactly nothing at all.

She counters by naming three co-respondents, one of them a lady of 94 years old. But all that,even if true, simply means, not new viciousness, but merely slipping back to old fashioned evils.

A prince regent of France is said to have given parties as bad, and worse, since members of his family were present.

We are not really getting worse. A few are as bad now as a great many used to be — that's all. It is just a slipping back toward the moncky house.

Chicago's city council unanimously requested advice from the corporation counsel as to separating Chicago from the rest of Illinois.

The best advice is don't.

The feet wanted to separate from the head, in the old fable, because the head seemed to be having all the pleasure, while the feet carried the load. You know what would happen to a pair of feet with no head to guide.

It is foolish for the head to demand separation from the feet. A great city, in a fine state, is like a beautiful apple, growing on a good tree. It would be a foolish apple that would say, "I don't need this tree." its mind would change if the sap were cut off.

Merchants declaring that they are living in fear demand laws that would sentence robbers to imprisonment for life.

New York's board of trade and transportation has officially urged such a law.

It might be good, especially if the life convicts could be made really useful during their imprisonment. Perhaps they could be used irrigating particularly disagreeable deserts, or draining some of the worst mosquito and disease breeding swamps—with some reasonable hope of commutation if they worked well for 20 years.

Punishment is after all a matter of convenience. American laws have punished horse stealing with hanging. In Japan it was death to take a silk worm across the border. That was to protect Japan's silk trade. Every law is right, if the people want it, and no law works, if the people don't want it.

"SILENT COPS" ILLUMINATED

New Traffic Signals Purchased Without Cost to City.

The city's new "silent police", purchased without one cent expense to the municipality, were illuminated for the first time last night.

The new signals, painted in white and blue, present an attractive appearance in day light as well as at night. They are fitted with heavy green lenses, obtained from the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

The cost of the "silent police" was met through contributions by William Tallman, manager of the Ceramic Theatre and the Kiwanis club. The East Liverpool Concrete Block company, Union and Third street, furnished the stucco and concrete blocks on which the signs have been mounted. The wiring was done by Benjamin Hall, local electrician.

The two signals in the Diamond at Sixth street are worked by a switch in the police booth, while others at Fifth and Market streets, Sixth street and Broadway and Broadway and St. Clair avenue are operated from switches on near by poles.

Automobile owners were urged today by Chief of Police McDermott to observe the "keep to the right" regulations in passing the new signal at Broadway and St. Clair avenue. Police are to be stationed at this point for a few days to warn motorists that they must keep to the right to avoid arrest.

FRENCH TENNIS STAR DEFEATED

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 27.—One of France's famed "big three" passed out of the Wimbledon all-comers' tennis singles today when Jim Anderson, the Australian crack, wore down and ultimately defeated Brugnon in a great five-set match after the Frenchman had taken the first two sets. The scores were -6, 7-9, 6-4, 7-5 and 6-2.

Brugnon was on the verge of collapse at the end, his resistance to Anderson's implacable advance becoming more and more futile as the final set progressed.

Lucien Williams, of Chicago, teamed with Fenno, of England, emerged victorious in the second round of the men's doubles. They defeated Sherwell and Eltringham, of England, 6-4, 6-3, 5-7, 7-9 and 8-6.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 27. — Prices of well known industrial and motor stocks moved aggressively forward in the stock market today. American Can started with a three point gain at the opening, to the accompaniment of new rumors concerning a long-awaited split-up of the stock at next Tuesday's meeting of the board of directors. The stock jumped 10 points to 200 in the first half hour of trading.

This week's active movement in General Motors and Yellow Cab Manufacturing gave rise to rumors of a combination of the two companies though the report was officially denied in Chicago. Yellow Cab sold above 49 for a gain of nearly eight points from Thursday's low, while General Motors at 85¼ was up six points from last week's close, also recording the highest price ever reached by the stock in its present form. Willys Overland, United States Rubber and other motor accessory stocks sold higher in active trading.

Strength in the pivotal stocks stimulated heavy trading in other sections of the speculative list and price trends were higher. The oil stocks made only a slight response to the marking up of crude oil prices by the Texas company and the prospective advance in Pennsylvania crude oil which was expected to be announced today. Standard Oil stocks and a few of the independent oils sold fractionally higher, but gains were conservative in comparison with the sheaf of bullish predictions issued by the Wall street brokerage houses.

New forward movements were started in a number of the specialty stocks, including DuPont, Cast Iron Pipe, Radio Corporation, Armour, Universal Pipe, Philadelphia company, etc. United Cigar Stores surged forward to a new high record price, while Gulf States Steel, at the head of the independent steel stocks, sold about one point higher. American Smelting was strong in the second hour, with an advance to above 105. Woolworth reached 141 in active trading.

NINE DROWNED AS LINER HITS TUG

QUEBEC, June 27.—Search was made today for the bodies of nine men who were drowned when the tug Ocean King was rammed by the liner Marloch in the St. Lawrence river just below the Terrace, where hundreds of persons were taking their evening stroll.

Capt. A. E. Stevens had taken his tug out to the channel to help tow the liner. Presumably, in order to be able to catch the hawser, the tug cut across the bow of the Marloch.

There was a crash and in the space of five minutes nothing was seen on the surface of the St. Lawrence where the tug had been except a slight frothing of waters.

come around. The immediate necessity, therefore, in the view of Republican leaders, is to concentrate in Wisconsin and North Dakota, states which year after year have sent men to congress with Republican labels but who harassed the party chiefs at every turn, more often being against the administration than with it. Three senators from these states, La Follette, Wisconsin, and Ladd and Frazier, North Dakota, and Brookhart, Iowa, were "read out" of the party for their insurgency.

Taking Wisconsin and North Dakota in the special elections this fall, Republicans would regard as a more helpful victory than holding seats against Democrats in most other states. The insurgents have admittedly been a bitter dose for the conservative elements in the party, and in the death of Senator LaFollette and Ladd they feel the time is right to strike hard.

Progressives, too, are not sitting idly by, according to reports here today. In Wisconsin, particularly, they are girding themselves for a real, old-fashioned battle. Information here indicates that Mrs. La Follette will refuse to run for her husband's seat, and that Robert M. La Follette, Jr., will be the Progressive banner bearer.

Woman Who Smokes Cigarettes Fights For Teaching Job

SECAUCUS, N. J., June 27.—Should a woman teacher smoke cigarettes? That issue transcends all others in Secaucus today where the case of Miss Helen Clark, a public school teacher, is a subject of avid discussion.

Her contract will not be renewed when it expires July 1 as a result, she says, of a dislike by school officials of her smoking cigarettes.

Matthew Pechtel, principal, denied Miss Clark's habit of smoking is the reason why she can't retain her position. He said she was found to be inefficient, but he admitted the school board might consider cigarette smoking as contributing to inefficiency.

The issue will be settled Monday night when Miss Clark will be given a public hearing.

Yellow Cab-General Motors Merger Near, Is New York Report

NEW YORK, June 27.—Acquisition of the Yellow Cab Manufacturing company by General Motors Corporation or interests identified with that company were foreshadowed today as the result of informal conferences held here this week between John Hartz, president of the Yellow Cab, and officials of the General Motors Corporation.

General Motors has been negotiating in various directions for important manufacturing plants in which to extend its truck and bus productions. This was emphasized by the substantial bids made for the Dodge Brothers' property in competition with the Dillon-Read banking house. Acquisition of Yellow Cab manufacturing field will mean extensive selling connections.

Official confirmation of sale or merger negotiations is lacking, but prominent stockholders of General Motors Corporation are reported to have purchased large blocks of Yellow Cab stock when it appeared on the New York stock exchange. This stock, with that held by Chicago interests, would be sufficient to assure control.

torney W. H. Vodrey, it was referred to the service director.

Several residents of West Fourth street inquired why they were charged $50 for connecting their properties with a sanitary sewer. City Engineer George was called upon and informed the solons that the charge was made under an ordinance which had long been in effect. It developed during the discussion that other property there had connected with a storm sewer without charge. It was decided that council, as a whole, should investigate the matter before the next session.

Kerr suggested placing a "silent policeman" at the corner of Elizabeth street and Harvey avenue after making a report for the street committee that it would be unwise at this time to insist on property owners along Harvey avenue paving their sidewalks.

Ordinances calling for extension of sewers on Smithfield, Garfield and Edgewood streets were passed under suspension of the rules.

Before adjournment, council voted to confer with the city auditor relative to funds to pay the salaries of the mayor and the new municipal judge. Solicitor Brokaw stated that the Bar association had appointed a similar committee and suggested a joint session to discuss the question.

COOLIDGE GOES TO CAMBRIDGE

President Also Visits Boston on Sight-seeing Trip.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., June 27.—A "Coolidge tour" of this section of New England was booked today as the principal attraction of President Coolidge's fourth day in the summer white house.

Early this morning the President and Mrs. Coolidge, closely followed by a long string of motor cars, started out on a sightseeing trip through Boston and Cambridge, the first of a series of tours designed to cover many of the historic spots in the state the executive once governed.

For the most part the entourage was composed of the newspapermen and photographers, who were especially invited to accompany the party by Mr. Coolidge himself.

Visits Historical Spots.

Cambridge was chosen as the first point of call, largely because the president is scheduled to make the principal address there on July 3 in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the assumption of command of the Continental army of George Washington.

The site of the Washington elm, where this incident took place, and the Cambridge common, near the site of the elm, from which the president will speak, were the main points of interest.

Other tours that Mr. Coolidge has planned for himself and the correspondents accompanying him here include the Charlestown navy yard, where the frigate Constitution is anchored, and Forts Andrew, Banks and Warren stretched out along the coast line. These tours will be made aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower.

Tomorrow the president and Mrs. Coolidge will utilize the Mayflower for the first time on their vacation. Immediately after service at the local Congregational church, they will board the yacht at its berth at Marblehead for a short cruise up and down the coast.

with the regular cash and ticket fares now being collected.

Passengers using the weekly pass merely need to show it as they enter or leave the car as the arrangement may be. If it is a two-zone pass, it must be produced upon entering and leaving the car.

The traction company claims that in cities where the plan is in use pass holders average more than four rides per day, which in East Liverpool would amount to 28 cents for a cash fare, or 25 cents for a ticket fare, on city lines. Delays in loading and unloading would be eliminated by a majority of the passengers having passes. They will be on sale each week from Friday until Tuesday by conductors and at the Broadway ticket office.

Bucket Brigade Formed

With Foreman Farnsworth directing, the workers formed a bucket brigade, dipping the water from the river, in an effort to check the spread of the flames, thus hoping to save the machinery. Their efforts, however, were futile.

News of the fire spread rapidly and soon scores of people lined high points on the Ohio side of the river, while many went to Chester to watch the flames which leaped high in the air.

Officials of the Sand company were unable today to determine the exact loss, which is partly covered by insurance.

Instead of increases in the East End, as had been reported previously, decreases were shown in the Garfield and the Horace Mann districts, so additional facilities will not likely be required there next September.

Two companies, dealing in portable buildings submitted bids. The Togan Styles, Inc., of Grand Rapids, Mich., offered a proposal of $1,714.90 for a one room building 24x36 ft., while the Circle A Products company of Pittsburgh, furnished an estimate of $1,716.22 for a structure 21x36 feet. These figures included heaters and composition black boards, F. O. B. East Liverpool.

The Circle A Products company supplied the portable structures now in service in Glenmoor and East End. Upon roll call, members Sample, Wilhelm, Weaver and White favored the bid of the Circle A concern, while President J. H. Brooks supported the proposal of the Grand Rapids company. The contract was awarded the former company.

The board authorized F. T. Weaver, a member of the supplies committee, to purchase 50 pedestals for seats from the A. H. Andrews company of Chicago, at $2.50 each.

ROCKET CAUSES $3,000 BLAZE

Montgomery Grocery Store is Burned to Ground.

A premature Fourth of July celebration last night shortly before 1 o'clock set fire to the Charles Montgomery grocery store at 1914 Nevada street, causing a total loss to building and stock estimated at least $3,000.

A skyrocket shot through the open doorway of the storeroom, it is said, ignited fireworks in the building, and within a twinkling the entire structure was a mass of flames.

A bundle of fireworks was purchased by a boy, David Campbell, several days ago, according to the story told Chief of Police John Fultz, and was laid away until the Fourth. The youth, it is claimed, slipped one of the skyrockets from the pack without the knowledge of the storekeeper and took it outside to light it.

Instead of shooting into the air, the rocket veered suddenly and whizzed directly into the store.

For a few moments, firemen were told, a reproduction of a miniature sham battle was given inside the store as Montgomery's stock of fireworks ignited.

Although firemen made a quick run to the blaze, the fire in a few minutes had become uncontrollable and the building was razed.

PENNSY NAMES TREASURY HEAD

A. J. County, Vice President, Given New Post.

The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company today placed the supervision of the company's treasury department in the hands of Vice President A. J. County, with the title of vice president in charge of the treasury and accounting department and co-operate works, to be effective July 1.

County has heretofore been vice president in charge of accounting and corporate works. This appointment fills the vacancy caused by the retirement of Henry Catnall on May 1, in accordance with the pension regulations, as vice president of finance.

In taking such action the directors have utilized the same form of organization that existed a number of years ago when one vice president supervised both the treasury and accounting department.

County is 53 years old and was born in Dublin, Ireland. His first expreience in railroad work was gained in his native city where he served five years in the purchasing department of the Great Southern and Western railway. He is a graduate of Wharton school of commerce and finance of the University of Pennsylvania, and has been 35 years in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad. During his career on the Pennsylvania, County has served as clerk, chief clerk, assistant secretary of the company and various subsidiary lines also as superintendent of the employes' saving fund, assistant to the vice president, special assistant to the president and as vice president in charge of accounting. He also now serves as president of the branch lines on the Pennsylvania railroad system. In these various capacities, County has obtained the necessary accounting and financial knowledge and experience which lead to his promotion to his new office.

The directors also authorized the following changes in the company's traffic department, effective July 1.

James E. Weller, heretofore freight traffic manager at Chicago, is promoted to assistant traffic manager with offices in the same city. J. T. Johnson, freight traffic manager at St. Louis, is transferred to the same position in Chicago, as successor to Mr. Weller.

DON'T WANT WIFE? DIVORCE HER IN ARABIA

All Husband Has to do is Tell Her Three Times.

WAY IS EASY

Marriage is Farce in Land of Sheiks, Says Authoress.

LONDON, June.—Interesting revelations of the free and easy way in which marriage and divorce is conducted in the land of the sheiks was given by Mrs. Albert Bradshaw, on English authoress, upon her return from North Africa in search of local color.

According to Mrs. Bradshaw's account, it would seem that both of these institutions are little more than a farce.

"From my visits to the Arab divorce court at Tunis I gathered that an Arab has merely to say to his wife three times, 'I don't want you,' in order to be rid of her," Mrs. Bradshaw said.

New Legislation.

"The more complicated matters, such as inheritance, trusteeship, and children, which usually accompany divorces, are treated more seriously, however, and for these matters the divorce court is asked to legislate.

"Proceedings in these courts resemble a comic opera more than anything.

"The court, which is lined with richly upholstered divans accommodating seven judges, is usually filled with a mob of chattering litigants, who tell their tale of woe to one of the judges, and if they are unable to get satisfaction from him, they all march to another and repeat their stories, in the hope of making a better impression.

"Men, women and children all talk at the top of their voices at the same time, and to a stranger's ears it is like the Tower of Babel over again.

Women Veiled.

The great majority of the women are heavily veiled in black. They are often married off by the parents when little more than children, and, as their husbands do not see their faces until after marriage, there are many disillusionments, which result in speedy divorce. The wives then go to the divorce court to air their grievances. Unless a woman has some sort of a dowry she has practically no chance of getting a husband, which results in the rich girls getting married when very young and the poorer ones hanging around in the marriage market until past marriageable womanhood in the hope of getting a husband."

Mrs. Bradshaw also described the strange way in which the Arab theatre is conducted.

"The Arab theatre in Tunis is a strange mixture," she said. "It has three thousand tip-up seats of the latest architecture, but the aisle are of beaten brown earth. The performances, are quite amusing. Some of the artists make an effort to Westernize their dress and the effect is most ludicrous. One man I saw appeared in modern evening clothes, with a wasp waist. He carried a walking stick the whole time, and to complete his make-up he wore a fez. All the women wear the veil when attending the theatre.

Girls, Separated From Men, Die Fast In Far Off India

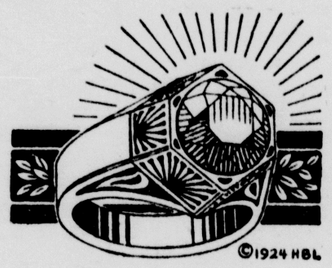

CALCUTTA, June.—Indian women, who are so carefully protected from male observation, suffer from this strange and romantic custom, according to reports of the Calcutta health officer.

Indian homes have a "zenana," or portion of the house which houses the women, and a screen known as the "purdah" hides the women from the view of men.

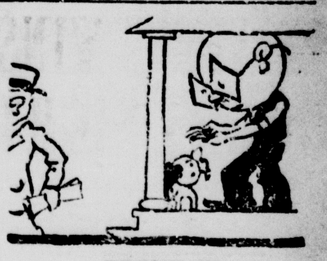

A report of the Calcutta health officer states:

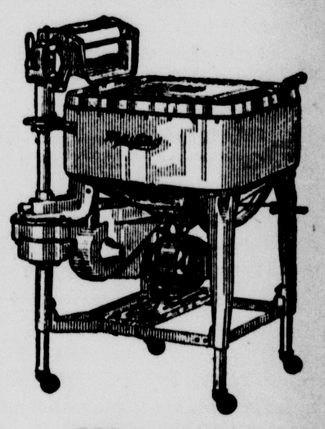

"Between the ages of fifteen and twenty for every boy that dies of tuberculosis five girls die. Put truthfully, these girls were suffocated behind the 'purdah.'"

Girls, Separated From Men, Die Fast In Far Off India

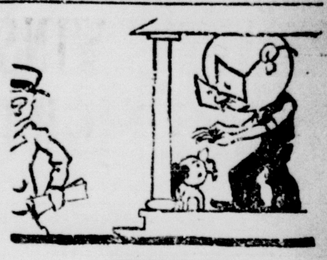

CALCUTTA, June.—Indian women, who are so carefully protected from male observation, suffer from this strange and romantic custom, according to reports of the Calcutta health officer.

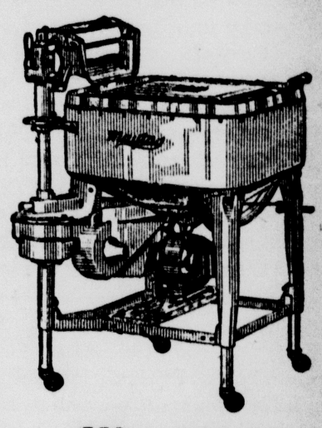

Indian homes have a "zenana," or portion of the house which houses the women, and a screen known as the "purdah" hides the women from the view of men.

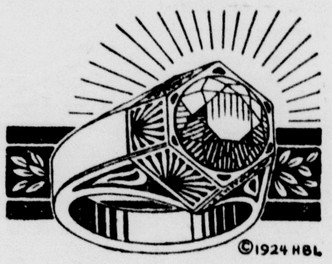

A report of the Calcutta health officer states:

"Between the ages of fifteen and twenty for every boy that dies of tuberculosis five girls die. Put truthfully, these girls were suffocated behind the 'purdah.'"

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1925.

Highway Graveyards

Alarmed by the appalling automobile death toll and desirous of impressing upon drivers the importance of exercising caution as well as observing common sense regulations of traffic, Governor A. V. Donahey has suggested the erection of "small, inexpensive white crosses along highways on the state system at each place where fatal accidents have occurred—one for each person killed—that there may be mute appeal to warn the passing motorist of danger, to drive carefully for his own sake and that of others."

The executive's appeal has been directed to the commissioners of Columbiana county as well as the other 87 sub-divisions of Ohio, urging that they co-operate in the movement to decrease the mounting casualty list. The commissioners are asked to adopt the plan for their county roads and they may obtain the material for the crosses from the state. These solemn memorials will be built of two-by-four lumber, four feet high, uniform in style and color.

Columbiana county has had comparatively few fatal automobile accidents so far in 1925, although the Grim Reaper has not overlooked the eastern section of the state. In some sections, however, the white crosses will stand pretty thick. There are stretches of road where they may suggest a military graveyard. Nearly everywhere they will increase in number. They will be a gruesome reminder to drivers, and will make driving less cheerful for many a tourist and joy-rider. But that need not count against them if lives are saved by the sense of responsibility they inspire.

Save Gas

Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association, makes a powerful plea for conservation of the gasoline supply. Never, he says, has there been such need of care. Whether the available petroleum supply is really nearing exhaustion, or whether the oil interests are merely pretending that it is, makes little difference to the motorist. In either case, lavish use of the fuel hastens exhaustion and raises prices, and thrift will delay exhaustion and keep prices down.

There are many ways of doing this, he points out. One is to cut down the "idle miles" the motor runs. Many cars burn up more gasoline in idling through congested districts than they use in effective locomotion, when they might avoid this loss by choosing other routes. There is enormous waste in slavishly following trolley cars and stopping and starting with them every block for two miles. There is loss in running an ordinary car below 15 miles an hour or above 25 miles, between which is found the greatest fuel efficiency. A good saving may be made by coasting down long hills, using proper precautions. Keeping the engine warm is another way to gain mileage. To these might be added the rather obvious measures of keeping all the motive and rolling mechanism in good working order, properly lubricated, with the tires inflated at the point of least resistance.

But Mr. Henry, with all his good advice, puts all the onus on the motorist. Much of the responsibility belongs with the manufacturer. There has never been the effort there should be, in this country, to make cars of high fuel efficiency. It was estimated a year or two ago that one type of American car wasted 400,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year merely because it lacked an efficient carburetor.

Perhaps the greatest cause of fuel waste is the building of unnecessarily large and heavy cars, making too much dead weight to haul around.

Primitive Hunting

It was self-evident when three Americans went to Africa to hunt big game with the bow and arrow that they were going to run into some thrilling adventures. And they have. A story from Nairobi, British East Africa, is of unusual interest because the hero of it is a well known author. Stewart Edward White is credited with killing a ferocious leopard with his bare hands.

As the story is reported by Dr. Saxton Pope, of the University of California, one of the bow-and-arrow trio, and head of the expedition, the leopard after being struck by a long-range arrow attacked two native arrow-bearers and badly clawed them. Mr. White rushed to their rescue, picked up a small gun that they had been allowed to carry for their own peace of mind, and fired at the animal, but missed. The leopard leaped upon White and struck him down, knocked the gun from his hands. Then the prostrate hunter grasped the leopard's throat and held on, in spite of biting and clawing, until he choked the beast to death.

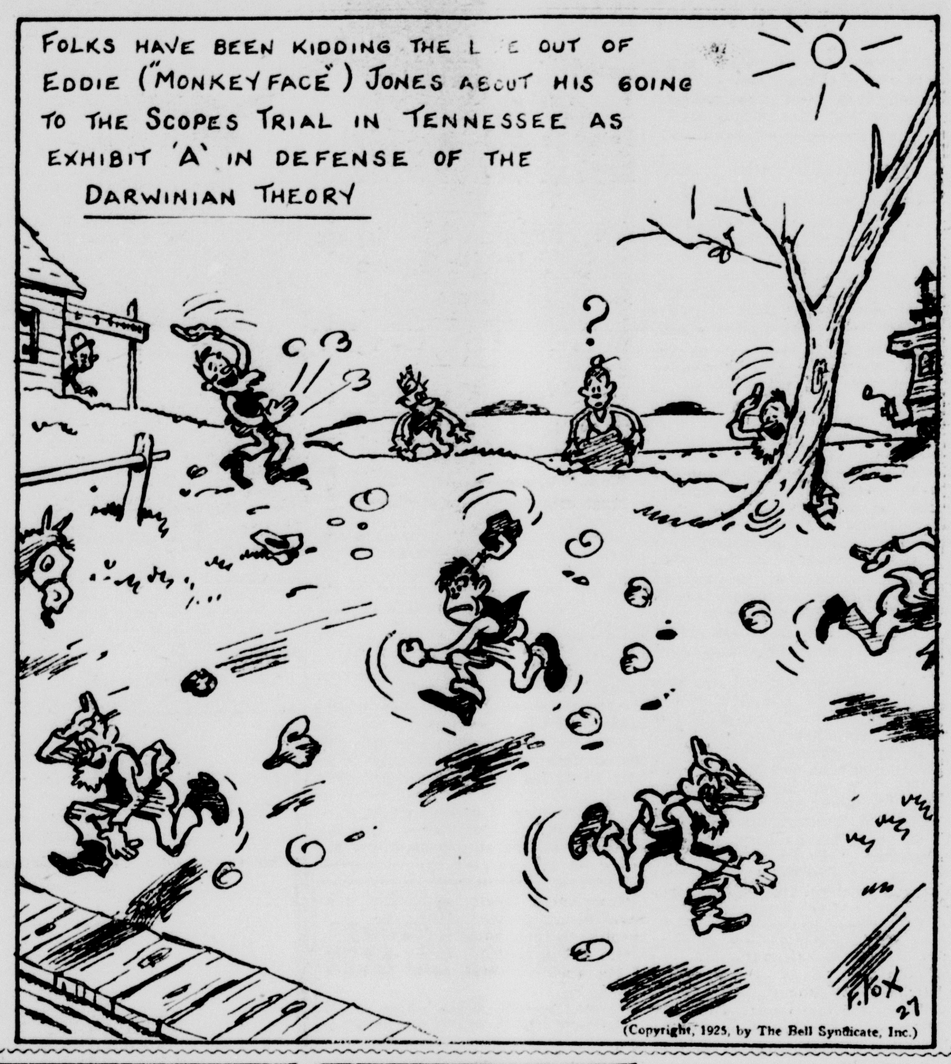

Very good for a literary gentleman! Good, indeed, for anybody. It is reassuring, in an age often accused of decadence, to find that three highly civilized white men can hold their own against the strongest of man's natural enemies, with such primitive weapons as the bow and arrow, and when it comes to the worst, with their hands alone.

The Sunday Sentence

A Florida judge sentenced an intoxicated automobile driver to 10 days in jail. The offender had a family dependent on his support, so the judge decided to spread the sentence out over 10 consecutive Sundays. This means that for the next two months, at least, this particular reckless driver will be kept off the highways on Sundays, the days when the traffic is always heaviest.

Although this arrangement was made chiefly because of the family's need, it suggests possibilities which make it worth copying. Sunday is the big day for automobile accidents and killings. There could hardly be a more satisfactory time to deprive numerous speed maniacs and intoxicated and reckless drivers of their cars. Why not try it more generally?

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Grand Central station is—as Oscar Wilde said of an egg—always an adventure. It is a bustling city within a city. Once within its marbled, blue ceiled ramparts one may live indefinitely without touching foot on the sidewalks of New York.

Through tunneled labyrinths one may reach three huge hotels. It is possible to dine at a stool counter luncheon as well as in a magnificent dining room with orchestras behind majestic palms. In the station is a hospital equipped for emergency operations.

Doctors of every school, hair dressers, chiropodists, palmists, dentists, lawyers, notaries, gym instructors and language tutors may be reached. A stranger may buy anything from a needle to an automobile. There is even a dog shop and a photograph gallery.

The passing parade in the station (Why don't they call it a depot?) is of vast interest. Actresses with poodles. A group of immigrants off for wheat fields. Turbaned Eastern princes. Cowmen in wide hats. Priests in shovel hats. Chinese. Japanese.

All these and more you see in a half hour's walk. Broadway or the Strand do not offer a more varied odd-lot of humanity. Life rippies and green caps flash about like a pyrotechnic display.

The street arcades offer everything that may be seen in Fifth Avenue windows. It seems strange that these shops in the hurly burly rush of life would be able to sell millinery, men's clothes, jewelry, flowers, stocks and bonds but they all appear busy.

This is the lament of a chorus girl in a side street beanery as relayed by a prominent eavesdropper: "It is always my luck when I fall for a new John to discover he either has a front gold tooth or wears a derby."

Over on the East Soide a Yiddish merchant had been suffering from an internal complaint, according to Montague Glass. He was taken to a hospital and X-Rayed. As he was inspecting the plates in his store a friend dropped in. He pushed them over the counter to him.

"Well, at that, they don't flatter you," said the friend.

The waiter at Tex Guinan's supper club where Harry Thaw had a recent night of wild spending has exploded one of the rumors. "I busted both arches carrying stuff to his table," he said, "and all I got was a couple of smackers." Which in real money is two dollars.

Near the Palace Theatre a restaurant has opened which carries this slogan in its window: "I'm a lonesome little sandwich waiting for a mouth to feed, on the street that made Hams famous."

Professional panhandlers never solicit alms from the Chinese. There is no record of one ever aiding a street beggar. You rarely see a beggar in Chinatown. Down at "Beggars' Roost" on Bleecker street, a flopping place for chronic panhandlers and professional crippies, the old stagers say that prosperous looking men are next to the Chinese in niggardliness. The best prospect of all, they say, is the young laborer. He is rather flattered by a request for money and in nine times out of ten will give more than he can afford. Members of the theatrical profession are considered easy marks and that is why there is a group of beggars about every stage door when theatres are letting out. Crowded streets are bad for begging. The lightly traveled thoroughfare is better. In crowds people fear to be taken for unsophisticated victims of beggars.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has grown to be one of the largest and most important of all subordinate governmental agencies. It was created in 1887 with an original personnel of five members, having decidedly limited jurisdiction. Its membership has been increased successively to seven, nine, and, finally, under the transportation act of 1920, to eleven. In recognition of the important nature of their work the salaries of the commissioners have been advanced from $5,000 to $12,000, placing them on a level with Cabinet members in so far as emolument is concerned. Many laws have been passed enlarging the duties and authority of the commission, the more important being one delegating the rate-fixing power to the commission, and the one enacted when the railroads were returned to the private owners after 27 months of war-time government operation and control.

A few men still are living who were born before there was a railroad in the United States. Today the business of rail transportation is the key industry of the Nation, producing an annual gross income of $5,500,000,000. Being a public utility, it is regulated in the interests of thee public, railroads, and shippers, by the Interstate Commerce Commission. This body has supervision over all common carriers which do an interstate business and which are included in the definition of common carriers written in the interstate-commerce laws. Under recent interpretations of the law, it has been held that the commission can regulate traffic wholly within a state, where such traffic has a bearing on interstate movement.

Congress bases its original authority for the regulation of interstate commerce on the brief line in the Constitution providing that Congress shall have power to regulate commerce. An agency which conveys persons, property, or even more intangible things from state to state comes under this body's jurisdiction; and, therefore, not only railroads but steamboats lines, canal-boat linss, telegraph and telephone companies, express companies, sleeping-car and parlor-car companies, and even pipe lines, other than those carrying gas and water, are common carriers when they convey persons or property or messages for pay. A lumber company may own a railroad line to transport logs from a forest tract to its sawmill and not be a common carrier provided it does not carry a single pound of freight for anyone else and carries no passengers.

The commission's principal concern is with the railroads. More than 260,000 miles of railway come within its jurisdiction. Annually these railroads carry more than 965,000,000 passengers and 1,700,$00,000 tons of freight. The distance these passengers are carried is equivalent to 35,500,000,000 miles for one passenger, and the aggregate freight haulage is equivalent to carrying 1 ton of frieght more than 300,000,000,000 miles. The average passenger rides about 36 miles. The average ton of freight is moved 1 mile for 1.27 cents. The commission, in effect, is a court of justice for the railroads and for the public using them. When a shipper believes he is overcharged for transportation, he may complain to the Interstate Commerce Commission. His case will be heard, the railroads over which his goods traveled being notified to defend themselves.

Four Thousand Complaints.

As a rule, the procedure is less cumbersome than that of a court. Informal complaints are permitted and some 4,000 of these are filed annually. During one year these resulted in orders authorizing refunds in 3239 cases, the sums involved aggregating $1,250,000. Such a complaint may merely be stated in a letter and may concern over-charge for a single ticket or rate on thousands of tons of coal or other heavy commodities. The bureau in charge of informal complaints writes about 165,000 letters a year.

Formal complaints cover every sort of case. They may be filed by an individual, a company, an association, such as a chamber of commerce, by a city, or by a state. They may relate to a single shipment or to an entire tariff covering every rate a railroad or a group of railroads has made. During a typical year some 1200 formal complaints are filed with the commission and nearly all are disposed of. A few require protracted consideration and are before the commission for two or three years. Every formal complaint is made public when it is filed and due notice must be given each railroad complained against. Dates are set for hearings and arguments, all of these being open to the geneeral public. Twice every day the commission's secretary lays on a table in his office, a copy of each formal complaint, each order, and decision of the commission. Rerpresentatives of the newspapers obtain copies and communicate to the public through their journals the gist of the day's business. So vast is a single day's grist that some of the larger press associations have reporters who do practically no work aside from writing the news of the commission's actions.

During a typical year the commission holds about 1,600 hearings. Some are held at Washington, but the commission maintains a staff of examiners who travel to distant places and, in the name of the commission, hold hearings where the facts can best be obtained. On important cases one or more of the eleven members of the commission will go on such a mission will go on such a mission. During a single year 225,000 pages of testimony were taken together with voluminous charts and exhibits. After the commission or its examiners have heard the testimony and argument in a case, the body, in closed session, decides. The decisions are printed, served upon the parties, and made public.

Not infrequently the commission, at the request of one or both Houses of Congress, the President, or upon its own initiative, will make a general investigation of some subject in connection with transportation. Notable cases are those in which the financial affairs of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroads were investigated to determine whether their stock had been manipulated or other financial irrigularities had been practiced. The commission has made investigations to determine reasons and remedies for car shortage and other failures in operations.

Complaints of Shippers.

This commission not only decides cases arising from complaints of shippers but every railroad or other carrier must in the first instance file with the commission a tariff or statement of rates it intends to charge for transportation of persons or property. During a typical year 135,000 of these were filed. Each is examined carefully during the 30-day period which the law provides, must elapse between the filing of a traiff and its becoming effective. The commission may shorten this period in special cases. About 5,000 such cases are acted upon in a year. On the other hand, the commission has the power to suspend for a period of months the taking effect of a tariff. This is regarded as an important function as no railroad can charge the rates fixed in a suspended tariff until the commission has removed its suspension order. The purpose of suspensions is to provide time for investigation of the reasonableness of the proposed rate.

The difference of a small sum in a freight or passenger rate may not appear important to the individual, but when it is multiplied by the vast number of persons carried over a given route, it becomes well worth the commission's time. During the war the United States Navy brought a complaint before the commission against the passenger rate from Chicago to Boston. The Navy sought a reduction of 1 penny in the fare for this distance of over a thousand miles. Over a period of years this will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to the railroads.

Sometimes the filing of a complaint before the commission is like rolling a little snowball downhill. It starts small but grows tremendously. Not long ago a New England woman thought the rate charged for shipping a few cans of milk to Boston from an outlying town was too high and filed a complaint before the commission. The railroads saw that this complaint might set a precedent for milk rates and fought the reduction. Other milk dealers and producers intervened. The milk woman's complaint ultimately resulted in issuance by the commission of an order for a general investigation of milk rates throughout New England. Thousands of pages of testimony were taken and the cases extended over two or three years.

Over on the East Soide a Yiddish merchant had been suffering from an internal complaint, according to Montague Glass. He was taken to a hospital and X-Rayed. As he was inspecting the plates in his store a friend dropped in. He pushed them over the counter to him.

"Well, at that, they don't flatter you," said the friend.

The waiter at Tex Guinan's supper club where Harry Thaw had a recent night of wild spending has exploded one of the rumors. "I busted both arches carrying stuff to his table," he said, "and all I got was a couple of smackers." Which in real money is two dollars.

Near the Palace Theatre a restaurant has opened which carries this slogan in its window: "I'm a lonesome little sandwich waiting for a mouth to feed, on the street that made Hams famous."

Professional panhandlers never solicit alms from the Chinese. There is no record of one ever aiding a street beggar. You rarely see a beggar in Chinatown. Down at "Beggars' Roost" on Bleecker street, a flopping place for chronic panhandlers and professional cripples, the old stagers say that prosperous looking men are next to the Chinese in niggardliness. The best prospect of all, they say, is the young laborer. He is rather flattered by a request for money and in nine times out of ten will give more than he can afford. Members of the theatrical profession are considered easy marks and that is why there is a group of beggars about every stage door when theatres are letting out. Crowded streets are bad for begging. The lightly traveled thoroughfare is better. In crowds people fear to be taken for unsophisticated victims of beggars.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has grown to be one of the largest and most important of all subordinate governmental agencies. It was created in 1887 with an original personnel of five members, having decidedly limited jurisdiction. Its membership has been increased successively to seven, nine, and, finally, under the transportation act of 1920, to eleven. In recognition of the important nature of their work the salaries of the commissioners have been advanced from $5,000 to $12,000, placing them on a level with Cabinet members in so far as emolument is concerned. Many laws have been passed enlarging the duties and authority of the commission, the more important being one delegating the rate-fixing power to the commission, and the one enacted when the railroads were returned to the private owners after 27 months of war-time government operation and control.

A few men still are living who were born before there was a railroad in the United States. Today the business of rail transportation is the key industry of the Nation, producing an annual gross income of $5,500,000,000. Being a public utility, it is regulated in the interests of thee public, railroads, and shippers, by the Interstate Commerce Commission. This body has supervision over all common carriers which do an interstate business and which are included in the definition of common carriers written in the interstate-commerce laws. Under recent interpretations of the law, it has been held that the commission can regulate traffic wholly within a state, where such traffic has a bearing on interstate movement.

Congress bases its original authority for the regulation of interstate commerce on the brief line in the Constitution providing that Congress shall have power to regulate commerce. An agency which conveys persons, property, or even more intangible things from state to state comes under this body's jurisdiction; and, therefore, not only railroads but steamboats lines, canal-boat linss, telegraph and telephone companies, express companies, sleeping-car and parlor-car companies, and even pipe lines, other than those carrying gas and water, are common carriers when they convey persons or property or messages for pay. A lumber company may own a railroad line to transport logs from a forest tract to its sawmill and not be a common carrier provided it does not carry a single pound of freight for anyone else and carries no passengers.

The commission's principal concern is with the railroads. More than 260,000 miles of railway come within its jurisdiction. Annually these railroads carry more than 965,000,000 passengers and 1,700,$00,000 tons of freight. The distance these passengers are carried is equivalent to 35,500,000,000 miles for one passenger, and the aggregate freight haulage is equivalent to carrying 1 ton of frieght more than 300,000,000,000 miles. The average passenger rides about 36 miles. The average ton of freight is moved 1 mile for 1.27 cents. The commission, in effect, is a court of justice for the railroads and for the public using them. When a shipper believes he is overcharged for transportation, he may complain to the Interstate Commerce Commission. His case will be heard, the railroads over which his goods traveled being notified to defend themselves.

Four Thousand Complaints.

As a rule, the procedure is less cumbersome than that of a court. Informal complaints are permitted and some 4,000 of these are filed annually. During one year these resulted in orders authorizing refunds in 3239 cases, the sums involved aggregating $1,250,000. Such a complaint may merely be stated in a letter and may concern over-charge for a single ticket or rate on thousands of tons of coal or other heavy commodities. The bureau in charge of informal complaints writes about 165,000 letters a year.

Formal complaints cover every sort of case. They may be filed by an individual, a company, an association, such as a chamber of commerce, by a city, or by a state. They may relate to a single shipment or to an entire tariff covering every rate a railroad or a group of railroads has made. During a typical year some 1200 formal complaints are filed with the commission and nearly all are disposed of. A few require protracted consideration and are before the commission for two or three years. Every formal complaint is made public when it is filed and due notice must be given each railroad complained against. Dates are set for hearings and arguments, all of these being open to the geneeral public. Twice every day the commission's secretary lays on a table in his office, a copy of each formal complaint, each order, and decision of the commission. Rerpresentatives of the newspapers obtain copies and communicate to the public through their journals the gist of the day's business. So vast is a single day's grist that some of the larger press associations have reporters who do practically no work aside from writing the news of the commission's actions.

During a typical year the commission holds about 1,600 hearings. Some are held at Washington, but the commission maintains a staff of examiners who travel to distant places and, in the name of the commission, hold hearings where the facts can best be obtained. On important cases one or more of the eleven members of the commission will go on such a mission will go on such a mission. During a single year 225,000 pages of testimony were taken together with voluminous charts and exhibits. After the commission or its examiners have heard the testimony and argument in a case, the body, in closed session, decides. The decisions are printed, served upon the parties, and made public.

Not infrequently the commission, at the request of one or both Houses of Congress, the President, or upon its own initiative, will make a general investigation of some subject in connection with transportation. Notable cases are those in which the financial affairs of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroads were investigated to determine whether their stock had been manipulated or other financial irrigularities had been practiced. The commission has made investigations to determine reasons and remedies for car shortage and other failures in operations.

Complaints of Shippers.

This commission not only decides cases arising from complaints of shippers but every railroad or other carrier must in the first instance file with the commission a tariff or statement of rates it intends to charge for transportation of persons or property. During a typical year 135,000 of these were filed. Each is examined carefully during the 30-day period which the law provides, must elapse between the filing of a trafff and its becoming effective. The commission may shorten this period in special cases. About 5,000 such cases are acted upon in a year. On the other hand, the commission has the power to suspend for a period of months the taking effect of a tariff. This is regarded as an important function as no railroad can charge the rates fixed in a suspended tariff until the commission has removed its suspension order. The purpose of suspensions is to provide time for investigation of the reasonableness of the proposed rate.

The difference of a small sum in a freight or passenger rate may not appear important to the individual, but when it is multiplied by the vast number of persons carried over a given route, it becomes well worth the commission's time. During the war the United States Navy brought a complaint before the commission against the passenger rate from Chicago to Boston. The Navy sought a reduction of 1 penny in the fare for this distance of over a thousand miles. Over a period of years this will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to the railroads.

Sometimes the filing of a complaint before the commission is like rolling a little snowball downhill. It starts small but grows tremendously. Not long ago a New England woman thought the rate charged for shipping a few cans of milk to Boston from an outlying town was too high and filed a complaint before the commission. The railroads saw that this complaint might set a precedent for milk rates and fought the reduction. Other milk dealers and producers intervened. The milk woman's complaint ultimately resulted in issuance by the commission of an order for a general investigation of milk rates throughout New England. Thousands of pages of testimony were taken and the cases extended over two or three years.

SUFFERED AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Talcville, New York. —"I thought it would interest you to know what benefit I have derived from taking your medicine. A few days after the birth of my third child I got up too quick. Then just before my fifth child was born I had inflammation of the bladder and displacement. Seeing your advertisement in a Liverpool (England) paper I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and that was the best confinement I had. Whenever I feel rundown I always take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic. We have just removed from Brockville (Canada) so I was pleased when the store ordered the medicine for me and I got it today. I would not be without it for any price and I recommend it to ladies around here because I feel so sure it will benefit any woman who takes it." — Mrs. AGNES WIGNALL, Talcville, New York.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from ills peculiar to their sex. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Street Car Fares Coming Down

On Monday, July 6th, at 12:01 A. M., we will put into effect what is known as a Weekly or Seven Day Pass. This method of reduction in street car fares is being used successfully in many cities and nearby communities. This pass will be unlimited as to the number of rides taken but is good for only one person at one time. It is transferable so that any member of the family may use it. You can ride to work, home to lunch, church, stores, parks, theatres, down town, one square or the entire length of the line on which the pass is good. The scale of prices will be as follows:

Grandview Line Only $1.00
Pleasant Heights Line Only $1.00
River Road Coach Only $1.00
Main Line Between State Line and Kountz Avenue Only $1.00
All Lines in East Liverpool Except Chester Line Only $1.25
Chester Line Only $1.25
Main Line Between Wooster's and State Line and on all other Lines except Chester Line $1.50

Passes are not good on interurban cars.

This will in no way interfere with the regular fare that is now being charged, both for cash and tickets.

The basic idea is to give unlimited service within the zone or zones of purchase to either the original buyer or anyone to whom he chooses to transfer the pass. The price is slightly more than the cost of two cash fares a day but the holder may take 20 or 30 rides between Monday morning and Sunday night of the week in use. If he does not need the pass himself, he can send his boy on an errand, loan it to his better half or any member of the family. As a matter of fact people soon discover what a wonderful time saver the electric railway can be for them when they have such a cheap and convenient form of transportation. In other cities where this form is used, it is very common for pass holders to average more than four rides a day. He will not have to stand in line and wait for transfer. With more than one-half the riders using such passes, it is easy to see that there will be a cut in the stopping time for loading and unloading, consequently an improvement in schedules.

In a single zone you will only need to show the pass on entrance. If it is for two zones, you will be asked to show it on entering and leaving.

This Company is passing through a very trying period as the revenue has been greatly reduced in comparison to the same months one year ago. We are making this reduction believing that it will increase the volume of riding, as the present schedule can take care of a geat many more passengers than are now using the cars, and the pass holder will profit by this.

We want you to know that we appreciate your patronage. It is essential to your own prosperity that transportation lines of your community, are kept in prosperous condition and we will appreciate the co-operation of the citizens in this venture. We are going to give this method of fare reduction a fair trial and if you think it a good thing, you can help make it permanent by buying a pass each week for which you can get more than full value in seven days transportation.

Passes will be on sale each week from Friday until Tuesday at 2 P. M. by conductors and at Broadway Station.

SUFFERED AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Talcville, New York.—"I thought it would interest you to know what benefit I have derived from taking your medicine. A few days after the birth of my third child I got up too quick. Then just before my fifth child was born I had inflammation of the bladder and displacement. Seeing your advertisement in a Liverpool (England) paper I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and that was the best confinement I had. Whenever I feel rundown I always take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic. We have just removed from Brockville (Canada) so I was pleased when the store ordered the medicine for me and I got it today. I would not be without it for any price and I recommend it to ladies around here because I feel so sure it will benefit any woman who takes it."—Mrs. AGNES WIGNALL, Talcville, New York.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from ills peculiar to their sex. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Street Car Fares Coming Down

On Monday, July 6th, at 12:01 A. M., we will put into effect what is known as a Weekly or Seven Day Pass. This method of reduction in street car fares is being used successfully in many cities and nearby communities. This pass will be unlimited as to the number of rides taken but is good for only one person at one time. It is transferable so that any member of the family may use it. You can ride to work, home to lunch, church, stores, parks, theatres, down town, one square or the entire length of the line on which the pass is good. The scale of prices will be as follows:

Grandview Line Only $1.00
Pleasant Heights Line Only $1.00
River Road Coach Only $1.00
Main Line Between State Line and Kountz Avenue Only $1.00
All Lines in East Liverpool Except Chester Line Only $1.25
Chester Line Only $1.25
Main Line Between Wooster's and State Line and on all other Lines except Chester Line $1.50

Passes are not good on interurban cars.

This will in no way interfere with the regular fare that is now being charged, both for cash and tickets.

The basic idea is to give unlimited service within the zone or zones of purchase to either the original buyer or anyone to whom he chooses to transfer the pass. The price is slightly more than the cost of two cash fares a day but the holder may take 20 or 30 rides between Monday morning and Sunday night of the week in use. If he does not need the pass himself, he can send his boy on an errand, loan it to his better half or any member of the family. As a matter of fact people soon discover what a wonderful time saver the electric railway can be for them when they have such a cheap and convenient form of transportation. In other cities where this form is used, it is very common for pass holders to average more than four rides a day. He will not have to stand in line and wait for transfer. With more than one-half the riders using such passes, it is easy to see that there will be a cut in the stopping time for loading and unloading, consequently an improvement in schedules.

In a single zone you will only need to show the pass on entrance. If it is for two zones, you will be asked to show it on entering and leaving.

This Company is passing through a very trying period as the revenue has been greatly reduced in comparison to the same months one year ago. We are making this reduction believing that it will increase the volume of riding, as the present schedule can take care of a geat many more passengers than are now using the cars, and the pass holder will profit by this.

We want you to know that we appreciate your patronage. It is essential to your own prosperity that transportation lines of your community, are kept in prosperous condition and we will appreciate the co-operation of the citizens in this venture. We are going to give this method of fare reduction a fair trial and if you think it a good thing, you can help make it permanent by buying a pass each week for which you can get more than full value in seven days transportation.

Passes will be on sale each week from Friday until Tuesday at 2 P. M. by conductors and at Broadway Station.

FRESH AIR CAMP WILL OPEN JULY 6

The Columbiana county fresh air camp for 1925 will open July 6 on the W. K. George farm in Madison township, it was announced today. The camp will continue for eight weeks. Donations to the camp are now being received at the office of County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church in the northwest corner of the court house.

It has been pointed out by Dr. Church and County Health Nurse Miss Louise Steele that materials for doll clothes, embroidery and knitting materials, baseballs, games of all kinds, especially "sitting down" games, children's books, dull-pointed scissors, old talking machine records, tools for manual training and jams and jelies are needed to make the camp a success this year.

"Many donated to the camp last year, and we are in hope that these wants will be quickly supplied this season," declared Dr. Church today.

Tax Collections Normal.

"While the collection of the June tax was about up to normal so far as this office is concerned, we have not heard from the sub offices," declared County Treasurer Joe Pike.

It will probably be several weeks before final returns are received at the office of the county treasurer. The June collections will exceed that of a year ago because of the reason valuations were higher this June than last year, this resulting from the reappraisement last year.

PLAN HEARING ON DANCE HALLS

Move is Suggested by Judge Riddle of Probate Court.

A public hearing has been proposed by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle for those who desire to operate dance halls and roller skating pavilions outside of village and city corporate limits, this action being decided upon because of new law governing such places of amusement becoming operative July 10, next.

At this hearing, the date of which will be determined later, an opportunity will be given the public to file remonstrance against the granting of permits by the court and at the same time an inquiry will be made into the moral character of those applying for permits and also those who are employed as assistants.

Granting of such permits by the probate court is made mandatory by the provisions of senate bill, 176, which was filed with the secretary of state, April 10 and which becomes a law 90 days thereafter.

In villages and cities, these permits must be obtained from the mayor of such city or villages but the court has the only authority to grant permits for those dance halls, place of public entertainment and skating rinks outside of the cities and villages.

A section of this also provides, No person who is the proprietor of any public dance hall or who conducts or manages, or is in charge of any public dance hall shall permit or allow the use of any intoxicating liquor or the presence of intoxicated persons in such dance hall or on the premises, on which the dance hall is located, or the presence at such public dance hall of any child of less than 18 years of age not accompanied by his or her father, mother or legal guardian.

"Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both."

Judge Riddle has declared that he will pay no attention to unsigned letters that may reach his office opposing the granting of a permit to any dance hall.

"Every unsigned letter will go in the wastebasket,' the court announced, "We want to be fair to all and when a letter is written opposing the granting of a permit, the persons making such complaint should be honorable enough to sign his or her name."

Permits in blank have been provided by the court and also blanks for the revocation of permits.

The court will insist that all rural dance hall places be well lighted, especially about the grounds where machines are to be parked.

PARTITION SUIT FILED IN COURT

Through her counsel, James F. McGarry of East Liverpool, Florence Webb has filed an action in partition in common pleas court against Anna Webb, Emma Thompson, Frederick Webb Jr., Minnie Andrss, William Gilbert and the Potters Savings & Loan Co., of East Liverpool.

The petitioner seeks the partition of lots 216 and 217 in the Cook and Robinson addition in East Liverpool, first owned by Joseph Milward, who at the time of his death willed the property to his wife, Martha Milward, the latter dying Aug. 15, 1912. The plaintiff is a grand child of Josepn Milward, and she also seeks an accounting of rents and profits that have come from the property to other heirs.

Grading Planned.

A distance of 4.44 miles of grading is to be done on the Hanover-Salem road, according to the proposals advertised by the state highway department, the estimated cost of the grading being placed at $44,839.25. It has been determined that the grading shall be completed by Oct. 15.

FRESH AIR CAMP WILL OPEN JULY 6

The Columbiana county fresh air camp for 1925 will open July 6 on the W. K. George farm in Madison township, it was announced today. The camp will continue for eight weeks. Donations to the camp are now being received at the office of County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church in the northwest corner of the court house.

It has been pointed out by Dr. Church and County Health Nurse Miss Louise Steele that materials for doll clothes, embroidery and knitting materials, baseballs, games of all kinds, especially "sitting down" games, children's books, dull-pointed scissors, old talking machine records, tools for manual training and jams and jellies are needed to make the camp a success this year.

"Many donated to the camp last year, and we are in hope that these wants will be quickly supplied this season," declared Dr. Church today.

Tax Collections Normal.

"While the collection of the June tax was about up to normal so far as this office is concerned, we have not heard from the sub offices," declared County Treasurer Joe Pike.

It will probably be several weeks before final returns are received at the office of the county treasurer. The June collections will exceed that of a year ago because of the reason valuations were higher this June than last year, this resulting from the reappraisement last year.

PLAN HEARING ON DANCE HALLS

Move is Suggested by Judge Riddle of Probate Court.

A public hearing has been proposed by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle for those who desire to operate dance halls and roller skating pavilions outside of village and city corporate limits, this action being decided upon because of new law governing such places of amusement becoming operative July 10, next.

At this hearing, the date of which will be determined later, an opportunity will be given the public to file remonstrance against the granting of permits by the court and at the same time an inquiry will be made into the moral character of those applying for permits and also those who are employed as assistants.

Granting of such permits by the probate court is made mandatory by the provisions of senate bill, 176, which was filed with the secretary of state, April 10 and which becomes a law 90 days thereafter.

In villages and cities, these permits must be obtained from the mayor of such city or villages but the court has the only authority to grant permits for those dance halls, place of public entertainment and skating rinks outside of the cities and villages.

A section of this also provides, No person who is the proprietor of any public dance hall or who conducts or manages, or is in charge of any public dance hall shall permit or allow the use of any intoxicating liquor or the presence of intoxicated persons in such dance hall or on the premises on which the dance hall is located, or the presence at such public dance hall of any child of less than 18 years of age not accompanied by his or her father, mother or legal guardian.

"Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both."

Judge Riddle has declared that he will pay no attention to unsigned letters that may reach his office opposing the granting of a permit to any dance hall.

"Every unsigned letter will go in the wastebasket,' the court announced. "We want to be fair to all and when a letter is written opposing the granting of a permit, the persons making such complaint should be honorable enough to sign his or her name."

Permits in blank have been provided by the court and also blanks for the revocation of permits.

The court will insist that all rural dance hall places be well lighted, especially about the grounds where machines are to be parked.

PARTITION SUIT FILED IN COURT

Through her counsel, James F. McGarry of East Liverpool, Florence Webb has filed an action in partition in common pleas court against Anna Webb, Emma Thompson, Frederick Webb Jr., Minnie Andrss, William Gilbert and the Potters Savings & Loan Co., of East Liverpool.

The petitioner seeks the partition of lots 216 and 217 in the Cook and Robinson addition in East Liverpool, first owned by Joseph Milward, who at the time of his death willed the property to his wife, Martha Milward, the latter dying Aug. 15, 1912. The plaintiff is a grand child of Joseph Milward, and she also seeks an accounting of rents and profits that have come from the property to other heirs.

Grading Planned.

A distance of 4.44 miles of grading is to be done on the Hanover-Salem road, according to the proposals advertised by the state highway department, the estimated cost of the grading being placed at $44,839.25. It has been determined that the grading shall be completed by Oct. 15.

Sheriff Sells Lots.

THE WORLD'S DISTRESS, ITS MEANING
millions now living will never die
The world's present trouble has lacked the sponsaneity of spasmodic outbursts. Rather it presents a certain measured tread of developments.
The expunging of those elements which contribute to unrest and discontent calls for measures severe indeed in treatment but remedial in effect.
The prophets of the Bible fore told the progress from war to revolutions, to anarchy—to peace and everlasting life on earth.
You are warranted, upon the basis of these fulfilled prophecies, in placing confidence in what is forecast for the future.

THE WORLD'S DISTRESS, ITS MEANING
millions now living will never die
The world's present trouble has lacked the sponsaneity of spasmodic outbursts. Rather it presents a certain measured tread of developments.
The expunging of those elements which contribute to unrest and discontent calls for measures severe indeed in treatment but remedial in effect.
The prophets of the Bible fore told the progress from war to revolutions, to anarchy—to peace and everlasting life on earth.
You are warranted, upon the basis of these fulfilled prophecies, in placing confidence in what is forecast for the future.

DEFENSE DAY BACKED BY GORE

General Observance on July 4 Urged by Governor.

Governor Gore has issued a proclamation calling on the people of the state to observe Defense day, July 4.

The observation of Defense day has become an established custom in our national life, and such observation serves as a reminder to our people of the sacrifices made by our heroic soldiers of the hardships they endured, the governor stated.

"The state of West Virginia has promised its usual co-operation to the plans of the federal government, and has appointed committees to request active aid and participation of all citizens, civic organizations and fraternal societies to co-operate with the active military units of the state."

He requested "the participation in the defense test of all authorities of counties and cities in which uits of the national guard and organized reserve are located, and urged the observance of this day, in every community, wherever practicable, by display of flags on public buildings and dwellings; with parades in which national guard units, reserve units, American Legion posts, veterans of all former wars, patriotic organizations, all civil and fraternal societies and citizens are invited to participate and with mass meetings or community assemblages where speakers should emphasize the historical occasion when congress first pledged the manpower and resources of the country for national defense, commemorate the sacrifices made for national defense, yet stress our military resources, our present military policy, the duty of preparedness and the desirability for peace and friendship with the nations of the world."

William Stevenson Winner in Literary Digest Salesmanship

William Stevenson, 14 year-old son of Attorney and Mrs. Walter S. Stevenson, West Fifth street, won fifth place in the Literary Digest salesmanship contest for the first three months during the calendar year of 1925.

This means that young Stevenson sold the fifth largest number of Literary Digests during the quarter. Incidentally the fifth place in the nation-wide campaign won him first honors in Ohio.

First place in the salesmanship contest was captured by Louis Kraell, a Pennsylvania youth; second place went to George Brown, a resident of the Hoosier state; third place to George F. Buskle Jr. of Kentucky, and fourth place to Frank Schaap, a California.

Attractive bonuses are given the 100 boys, who report the largest sales in each quarter by the publishers of the magazine. Young Stevenson is a member of the freshman class of the local high school.

Tests show blue is the favorite color.

A Statement to the Public:

In paid advertisement of the Contractors, the Carpenters have been charged of holding up building operations in East Liverpool. It has been our policy for years to deal through our representatives with our employers, but at the outset of this controversy, the employers took a positive stand and told our representatives that they would not agree to any increase in wages and insisted that we submit our demands to Arbitration, with the implied threat that unless we did so, they would bring in Non-Union men to take our places.

On June 23rd, our representative offered the Contractors a compromise proposition for a wage scale of $10.50 per day to May 1st 1926, and $11.00 per day from May 1st,1926 to May 1st, 1927. This proposition was rejected and our representative was told that they had decided to fight it out and bring in Non-Union men. On June 22nd, representatives of other Trades having heard of the threats of the Contractors interested themselves in the matter for the purpose of avoiding, if possible, an open rupture; after several conferences the Contractors submitted through them to us, a proposition for an increase of three cents per hour with ultimatum that unless their offer was accepted by ten o'clock, Thursday night, June 25th, that such or any other offers made would be withdrawn. At a meeting of our members on Thursday night, June 25th, this proposition was submitted to our members and rejected unanimously and the compromise proposition offered by our representative was concurred in unanimously.

Our members feel that in view of the fac tthat five other Trades have been receiving from One or Two Dollars per day more than what we asked for, that our demands were reasonable and just, and in view of the fact that the Contractors have been charging the Public twenty per cent for carpenter labor, the contractor could well afford to pay the increase demanded without any extra charge to the public. Our members have at all times had the interest of the Public and the Community at heart and their faithful work is expressed in the homes and other buildings of the Community, and they feel that they are justly entitled to the same treatment andas good a wage as any other trade in the building industry, and under these conditions are at all times willing to serve their employers, the Public and the Community in the future as in the past.

The facts are not as charged by the Contractors (that 125 Carpenters are holding up a $400,000.00 building program), but in our estimations, three contractors are doing that and therefore the members of our organization offer their service to the General Public for $11.00 per day.

William Stevenson Winner in Literary Digest Salesmanship

William Stevenson, 14 year-old son of Attorney and Mrs. Walter S. Stevenson, West Fifth street, won fifth place in the Literary Digest salesmanship contest for the first three months during the calendar year of 1925.

This means that young Stevenson sold the fifth largest number of Literary Digests during the quarter. Incidentally the fifth place in the nation-wide campaign won him first honors in Ohio.

First place in the salesmanship contest was captured by Louis Kracll, a Pennsylvania youth; second place went to George Brown, a resident of the Hoosier state; third place to George F. Buskle Jr. of Kentucky, and fourth place to Frank Schaap, a California.

Attractive bonuses are given the 100 boys, who report the largest sales in each quarter by the publishers of the magazine. Young Stevenson is a member of the freshman class of the local high school.

Tests show blue is the favorite color.

A Statement to the Public:

In paid advertisement of the Contractors, the Carpenters have been charged of holding up building operations in East Liverpool. It has been our policy for years to deal through our representatives with our employers, but at the outset of this controversy, the employers took a positive stand and told our representatives that they would not agree to any increase in wages and insisted that we submit our demands to Arbitration, with the implied threat that unless we did so, they would bring in Non-Union men to take our places.

On June 23rd, our representative offered the Contractors a compromise proposition for a wage scale of $10.50 per day to May 1st 1926, and $11.00 per day from May 1st,1926 to May 1st, 1927. This proposition was rejected and our representative was told that they had decided to fight it out and bring in Non-Union men. On June 22nd, representatives of other Trades having heard of the threats of the Contractors interested themselves in the matter for the purpose of avoiding, if possible, an open rupture; after several conferences the Contractors submitted through them to us, a proposition for an increase of three cents per hour with ultimatum that unless their offer was accepted by ten o'clock, Thursday night, June 25th, that such or any other offers made would be withdrawn. At a meeting of our members on Thursday night, June 25th, this proposition was submitted to our members and rejected unanimously and the compromise proposition offered by our representative was concurred in unanimously.

Our members feel that in view of the fac tthat five other Trades have been receiving from One or Two Dollars per day more than what we asked for, that our demands were reasonable and just, and in view of the fact that the Contractors have been charging the Public twenty per cent for carpenter labor, the contractor could well afford to pay the increase demanded without any extra charge to the public. Our members have at all times had the interest of the Public and the Community at heart and their faithful work is expressed in the homes and other buildings of the Community, and they feel that they are justly entitled to the same treatment andas good a wage as any other trade in the building industry, and under these conditions are at all times willing to serve their employers, the Public and the Community in the future as in the past.

The facts are not as charged by the Contractors (that 125 Carpenters are holding up a $400,000.00 building program), but in our estimations, three contractors are doing that and therefore the members of our organization offer their service to the General Public for $11.00 per day.

CEBULA HURLS RILEY NINE TO 6 TO 4 VICTORY

Keeps K. T. K's. Four Safe Bingles Well Scattered.

Chester reinforced its standing at the top of the City Industrial league race by defeating K. T. K. in a hard-fought contest in the West Virginia town Friday evening. The score was 6 to 4.

The potters got away to a two-run lead in the first of the second, but this the Riley aggregation overcame by one run in its half of the same inning. Thereafter the winners were never headed.

M. Cebula, the hefty young twirler of Chester, was again in rare form. He allowed but four hits and three of these were bunched with a sacrifice in the second inning when two runs were scored off him. At that the triple and almost home run of C. Coleman was practically misjudged by Right Gardener Greene and it, a mighty clout, veered over his outstretched hands, enabling the scoring of a run and the stopping of the young infielder at the hot corner from where he later scored.

Cebula also fanned eight men. McShane, usually certain to hit safely at some stage of a contest struck out three times. Cebula walked two and hit one man. His speed was terrific for the most part.

The game was long drawn because of the amount of work necessary in the consultations and conferences that occurred. Both teams took every chance. Sainor was touched for six hits. Two of these plus a couple of errors gave Chester three runs in the second.

In the third, three more runs resulted from three hits, a walk, a double steal, a fielder's choice and an error.

A couple of errors by Chester plus two walks and two passed balls put K. T. K. in the running again in the fifth, but with two on Simcox struck out and Merchant flew to L. McMath.

The outstanding fielding play came in the very first inning when L. McMath jumped into the air and pulled down a line drive by Simcox that was a certain safety. The play electrified the fans and retired the side.

Not a player on either team made more than one hit. Digman and C. Coleman scored twice each. Rardin in left for K. T. K., and Cochran at right for Chester, did not have a fielding chance.

Merchant, singling in the second, went to second on Rardin's sacrifice, M. Cebula to L. McMath and to third on C. Strobel's out, L. McMath to Digman. C. Coleman tripled to right, scoring Merchant. Sanior doubled, sending in C. Coleman.

Digman, walking in the second, reached the keystone corner as Simcox threw low to C. Coleman on W. McMath's drive. Cochrane singled, scoring Digman. C. Coleman booted P. Bennett's blow and W. McMath counted, tieing the score. M. Cebula hit safely and Cochrane registered.

Green and P. Cebula singled in the third. Digman did likewise after F. Marshall had skied to C. Strobel and Greene counted as P. Cebula went to third. A double steal resulted, P. Cebula, registering. Finley threw wildly to first on Cochrane's drive and Digman went in.

C. Coleman walked in the fifth. A balk sent him to second. Sainor was safe as Digman dropped M. Cebula's assist and stole second. Both moved up on a passed ball, C. Coleman scoring. Finley skied to F. Marshall, who muffed the ball and Sainor counted.

Match Finishes On Seventeenth When Champ Is Trapped

Cleveland Lad's 3 and 1 Triumph Brings Him Highest State Golf Honors After Five Successive Attempts; Champion Goes Down Smiling.

The long lane that, true to adage, did have a turning, brought Eddie Hasmann, 21-year-old Cleveland lad, perennial challenger for the Buckeye state golf crown, to his reward yesterday afternoon at Portage Country club, Akron, when he defeated Joe M. Wells, of East Liverpool, 3 and 1, in the final 36-hole match of the Ohio amateur tournament.

Wells, certainly as true a sportsman as ever trod the links and a hero even in defeat, conceded the hole, the match and the championship to Hasmann at the seventeenth green in the afternoon round.

Unruffled, undisturbed and apparently just as nonchalant as he was at noon when he had finished the first 18 holes two up on Hasmann, Wells, who had shot into a trap, looked the situation over for a moment and then, with a smile on his lips, walked over to his foe, grasped his hand and congratulated him on his achievement.

The lane down which Hasmann walked to the title and in which Wells doffed his laurels to the youngster, had a very literal turning on the seventeenth hole where the match ended. Hasmann made the turn successfully. Wells didn't. It is a 460 yard "dog's leg." Hasmann executed a fine tee shot and landed well along the fairway past the crook in the course. Wells sliced into the woods and from a bad lie shot into a trap on the left of the green. Hasmann, already two-up on the champion, would only have had to halve the hole in order to win.

More than 500 saw Wells go around the first 18 holes in the morning and finish ahead, 2 up, on the Cleveland player. Wells outdrove and out-putted Hasmann, overcoming a two-hole deficit registered on the first nine. Wells lost both the second and fourth when Hasmann laid him perfect stymies on both accasions. He reduced Hasmann's lead to one hole on the ninth when he shot a par four. He won the tenth with a birdie three with Hasmann shooting par, and they were even. Wells then won the twelfth and thirteenth holes in succession. Hasmann came back and took the seventeenth but Wells won the eighteenth and maintained his standing.

More than a thousand persons, including approximately 60 loyal Wells supporters from East Liverpool, saw the afternoon round.

For more than an hour at noon Hasmann lay in bed at the club house, emerging from the locker room for the afternoon play shortly after 2 o'clock.

Hasman squared the match on the first two holes of the second eighteen. Wells' playing in the afternoon furnished a striking contrast to his morning round. His driving was off and his putter failed him in the pinches.

Wells' second shot on No. 2 found a trap and Hasmann was on in two. He ran two putts to win the hole at 4 and 5.

Both shot par golf on three, four, five, six and seven. Hasman took the lead at eight, a sloping 185 yard hole. Hasmann's tee shot dropped to the green and Wells' drive carried to the right into a trap.

Hasmann took two putts to hole the ball and win, putting him one up.

On the ninth green both played their second shots into traps at the left. Hasmann hoisted his ball up onto the green while Wells' attempt placed him at the top of the bunker. Hasmann ran a 10-foot putt, and as Joe missed, was two up.

They halved the tenth, eleventh and twelfth and Wells won the thirteenth where he made a three to Hasmann's four. This score existed until they reached the sixteenth. Both were on in two. Wells' first putt was short. Hasmann ran his to the lip of the cup. Then Joe missed his second short putt and Hasmann took the hole.

And on the next hole amateur championship laurels passed to the Clevelander.

DAVIS' SQUAD DEFEATS B. & W.

Barr Blanks Oaklanders Until Final Frame.

Eddie Davis' Trotter nine defeated Babcock-Wilcox, 9 to 3, in a rather tame City Industrial league contest last evening at Patterson Field.

Barr eased up in the last inning after the Trotters had put the game on ice. The count at the time stood 9 to 0. In the final frame he was touched for five hits and the Oaklanders made three runs.

The all around work of Johnny Stroble for Trotters was a feature of the struggle. He had three clean hits and fielded perfectly.

A. Bailey contributed a pretty catch in center. Morris, with three miscues, had an off day at shortstop. He was kept busy, however, with nine chances in three innings. Quinn led the Oaklanders with two hard hits. He fielded nine chances without a slip-up.

BENEFIT CLASH IS SCHEDULED

Moore and Manning to Get Thursday Game Proceeds.

Seven games are scheduled for the final week of the initial half of the City Industrial league. One contest, Chester at Wellsville, has been transferred to the West Virginia field and the proceeds will go to Infielder Moore, of Manager Riley's club, and Pitcher Manning, of the down-river nine.

Moore was injured several weeks ago in a slide to second base and Manning wrenched a knee soon afterward.

The schedule follows:

Monday, June 29—K. T. K. at Wellsville and B. & W. at Chester.

Tuesday, June 30—Laughlin at Chester.

Wednesday, July 1—Trotters at Wellsville and Laughlin at K. T. K.

Thursday, July 2—Chester at Wellsville, transferred to Chester, and K. T. K. at B. & W.

No game will be played on Friday because of the proximity of July 4, the following day.

The Phils and Braves divided the spoils in a double header, Benton pitching the Braves to victory in the first, 8 to 6, and Wilson's pinch single giving the Phils the edge in the second, 4 to 3.

Weinert Bout Will Decide Wills' Pugilistic Future

Failure to Knock Rival Out Will Mean Passing of Dempsey's Perennial Challenger.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The inevitable fork in the highway is dead ahead for Harry Wills, perennial challenger for the heavyweight title. He will reach the cross roads next Thursday night at the Polo grounds and the wrong turn will lead him on to the outer darkness of pugilism's forgotten.

There is only one way in which Wills can take the direct route to future esteem. He must knock Charley Weinert kicking before the end of 15 rounds. Failure to do this will mean the definite passing of Harry Wills from serious consideration as a title contender.

It doesn't matter that the boys are not knocking Weinert over seven days a week or that Wills may smash his brittle hands in one of the early rounds. It has simply come to a showdown between Wills and the public. The latter is far from convinced that Wills is the man-eater his megaphone men claim him to be.

Except for the rather obvious fact that he has caused Dempsey to give him the wide detour for upward of five years, Wills has accomplished little since his old barnstorming days with Sam Langford. He should have stopped Firpo in three rounds, but the man with the bearded chest went the full 12. He couldn't hurt Bartley Madden in 15 rounds on a prior occasion and needed 12 to stop Clem Johnson, a second rater.

His more recent knockout record, in fact, is made up of such victims as Jeff Clark, Homer Smith, Tut Jackson, Kid Norfolk, Jack Thompson and other self-starting knockers, so to speak. Barring Langford, who was only a suggestion of the old Sam at the time, Wills has yet to beat or even meet a first class man.

He may be as good as some people claim but, if so, he has contrived to keep the matter a profound secret.

BRITTON STILL PACKS A PUNCH

KANSAS CITY, Kans., June 27.—Fight fans today are declaring that Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, has lost little of his ring knowledge following the boxing lesson he gave last night to Dave Forbes, a good sturdy youngster from Chicago.

For ten very similar rounds, Jack shot a flickering left to Forbes' face or beat merry time on the Chicagoan's ribs. Now and then, just to show that there was still a punch in his system the Philadelphian would shoot a sharp right to Forbes' face and body.

From the sixth on Forbes was tiring rapidly. Every round was Britton's, according to newspapers opinion.

Falling upon Rixey like a freght elevator in the eighth, the Pirates blazed their way to a 5 to 3 victory over the Reds.

BARNES' PUTTER GETS CREDIT

Had it All Shined up to Win British Open.

LONDON, June 27.—Long Jim Barnes today gave his old putter—rusty and longer—credit for its share in bringing the British open golf title back to America again.

"Tell my friends back in the states I used my rusty old putter—but I had it shined up," the new champion said.

"I've been coming across for two seasons to see my mother and to win this championship," he added. "Now I've accomplished both purposes."

Barnes is a native of Cornwall, England, but is an American now.

MacDonald Smith, whose score placed him well out in front in the Prestwick tourney until his final round, was bitter in his comment of the crowds that thronged the course. It was estimated that as many as 15,000 tried to follow Smith in his final round.

"I have played golf in many places, but I never experienced such a rabble as beat me at Prestwick," he said today. "It was a disgrace. I never got a chance. I don't mind failing, but I didn't think a crowd at a golf meeting at Scotland would behave as that one did.'

Mrs. Smith was equally bitter.

"Mac might just as well have been driving in a busy street," she said.

Merchant, singling in the second, went to second on Rardin's sacrifice, M. Cebula to L. McMath and to third on C. Strobel's out, L. McMath to Digman. C. Coleman tripled to right, scoring Merchant. Sanior doubled, sending in C. Coleman.

Digman, walking in the second, reached the keystone corner as Simcox threw low to C. Coleman on W. McMath's drive. Cochrane singled, scoring Digman. C. Coleman booted P. Bennett's blow and W. McMath counted, tieing the score. M. Cebula hit safely and Cochrane registered.

Green and P. Cebula singled in the third. Digman did likewise after F. Marshall had skied to C. Strobel and Greene counted as P. Cebula went to third. A double steal resulted, P. Cebula, registering. Finley threw wildly to first on Cochrane's drive and Digman went in.

C. Coleman walked in the fifth. A balk sent him to second. Sainor was safe as Digman dropped M. Cebula's assist and stole second. Both moved up on a passed ball, C. Coleman scoring. Finley skied to F. Marshall, who muffed the ball and Sainor counted.

Match Finishes On Seventeenth When Champ Is Trapped

Cleveland Lad's 3 and 1 Triumph Brings Him Highest State Golf Honors After Five Successive Attempts; Champion Goes Down Smiling.

The long lane that, true to adage, did have a turning, brought Eddie Hasmann, 21-year-old Cleveland lad, perennial challenger for the Buckeye state golf crown, to his reward yesterday afternoon at Portage Country club, Akron, when he defeated Joe M. Wells, of East Liverpool, 3 and 1, in the final 36-hole match of the Ohio amateur tournament.

Wells, certainly as true a sportsman as ever trod the links and a hero even in defeat, conceded the hole, the match and the championship to Hasmann at the seventeenth green in the afternoon round.

Unruffled, undisturbed and apparently just as nonchalant as he was at noon when he had finished the first 18 holes two up on Hasmann, Wells, who had shot into a trap, looked the situation over for a moment and then, with a smile on his lips, walked over to his foe, grasped his hand and congratulated him on his achievement.

The lane down which Hasmann walked to the title and in which Wells doffed his laurels to the youngster, had a very literal turning on the seventeenth hole where the match ended. Hasmann made the turn successfully. Wells didn't. It is a 460 yard "dog's leg." Hasmann executed a fine tee shot and landed well along the fairway past the crook in the course. Wells sliced into the woods and from a bad lie shot into a trap on the left of the green. Hasmann, already two-up on the champion, would only have had to halve the hole in order to win.

More than 500 saw Wells go around the first 18 holes in the morning and finish ahead, 2 up, on the Cleveland player. Wells outdrove and out-putted Hasmann, overcoming a two-hole deficit registered on the first nine. Wells lost both the second and fourth when Hasmann laid him perfect stymies on both accasions. He reduced Hasmann's lead to one hole on the ninth when he shot a par four. He won the tenth with a birdie three with Hasmann shooting par, and they were even. Wells then won the twelfth and thirteenth holes in succession. Hasmann came back and took the seventeenth but Wells won the eighteenth and maintained his standing.

More than a thousand persons, including approximately 60 loyal Wells supporters from East Liverpool, saw the afternoon round.

For more than an hour at noon Hasmann lay in bed at the club house, emerging from the locker room for the afternoon play shortly after 2 o'clock.

Hasman squared the match on the first two holes of the second eighteen. Wells' playing in the afternoon furnished a striking contrast to his morning round. His driving was off and his putter failed him in the pinches.

Wells' second shot on No. 2 found a trap and Hasmann was on in two. He ran two putts to win the hole at 4 and 5.

Both shot par golf on three, four, five, six and seven. Hasman took the lead at eight, a sloping 185 yard hole. Hasmann's tee shot dropped to the green and Wells' drive carried to the right into a trap.

Hasmann took two putts to hole the ball and win, putting him one up.

On the ninth green both played their second shots into traps at the left. Hasmann hoisted his ball up onto the green while Wells' attempt placed him at the top of the bunker. Hasmann ran a 10-foot putt, and as Joe missed, was two up.

They halved the tenth, eleventh and twelfth and Wells won the thirteenth where he made a three to Hasmann's four. This score existed until they reached the sixteenth. Both were on in two. Wells' first putt was short. Hasmann ran his to the lip of the cup. Then Joe missed his second short putt and Hasmann took the hole.

And on the next hole amateur championship laurels passed to the Clevelander.

DAVIS' SQUAD DEFEATS B. & W.

Barr Blanks Oaklanders Until Final Frame.

Eddie Davis' Trotter nine defeated Babcock-Wilcox, 9 to 3, in a rather tame City Industrial league contest last evening at Patterson Field.

Barr eased up in the last inning after the Trotters had put the game on ice. The count at the time stood 9 to 0. In the final frame he was touched for five hits and the Oaklanders made three runs.

The all around work of Johnny Stroble for Trotters was a feature of the struggle. He had three clean hits and fielded perfectly.

A. Bailey contributed a pretty catch in center. Morris, with three miscues, had an off day at shortstop. He was kept busy, however, with nine chances in three innings. Quinn led the Oaklanders with two hard hits. He fielded nine chances without a slip-up.

BENEFIT CLASH IS SCHEDULED

Moore and Manning to Get Thursday Game Proceeds.

Seven games are scheduled for the final week of the initial half of the City Industrial league. One contest, Chester at Wellsville, has been transferred to the West Virginia field and the proceeds will go to Infielder Moore, of Manager Riley's club, and Pitcher Manning, of the down river nine.

Moore was injured several weeks ago in a slide to second base and Manning wrenched a knee soon afterward.

The schedule follows:

Monday, June 29—K. T. K. at Wellsville and B. & W. at Chester.

Tuesday, June 30—Laughlin at Chester.

Wednesday, July 1—Trotters at Wellsville and Laughlin at K. T. K.

Thursday, July 2—Chester at Wellsville, transferred to Chester, and K. T. K. at B. & W.

No game will be played on Friday because of the proximity of July 4, the following day.

The Phils and Braves divided the spoils in a double header, Benton pitching the Braves to victory in the first, 8 to 6, and Wilson's pinch single giving the Phils the edge in the second, 4 to 3.

Weinert Bout Will Decide Wills' Pugilistic Future

Failure to Knock Rival Out Will Mean Passing of Dempsey's Perennial Challenger.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The inevitable fork in the highway is dead ahead for Harry Wills, perennial challenger for the heavyweight title. He will reach the cross roads next Thursday night at the Polo grounds and the wrong turn will lead him on to the outer darkness of pugilism's forgotten.

There is only one way in which Wills can take the direct route to future esteem. He must knock Charley Weinert kicking before the end of 15 rounds. Failure to do this will mean the definite passing of Harry Wills from serious consideration as a title contender.

It doesn't matter that the boys are not knocking Weinert over seven days a week or that Wills may smash his brittle hands in one of the early rounds. It has simply come to a showdown between Wills and the public. The latter is far from convinced that Wills is the man-eater his megaphone men claim him to be.

Except for the rather obvious fact that he has caused Dempsey to give him the wide detour for upward of five years, Wils has accomplished little since his old barnstorming days with Sam Langford. He should have stopped Firpo in three rounds, but the man with the bearded chest went the full 12. He couldn't hurt Bartley Madden in 15 rounds on a prior occasion and needed 12 to stop Clem Johnson, a second rater.

His more recent knockout record, in fact, is made up of such victims as Jeff Clark, Homer Smith, Tut Jackson, Kid Norfolk, Jack Thompson and other self-starting knockers, so to speak. Barring Langford, who was only a suggestion of the old Sam at the time, Wills has yet to beat or even meet a first class man.

He may be as good as some people claim but, if so, he has contrived to keep the matter a profound secret.

BRITTON STILL PACKS A PUNCH

KANSAS CITY, Kans., June 27.—Fight fans today are declaring that Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, has lost little of his ring knowledge following the boxing lesson he gave last night to Dave Forbes, a good sturdy youngster from Chicago.

For ten very similar rounds, Jack shot a flickering left to Forbes' face or beat merry time on the Chicagoan's ribs. Now and then, just to show that there was still a punch in his system the Philadelphian would shoot a sharp right to Forbes' face and body.

From the sixth on Forbes was tiring rapidly. Every round was Britton's, according to newspapers opinion.

Falling upon Rixey like a freght elevator in the eighth, the Pirates blazed tfeir way to a 5 to 3 victory over the Reds.

BARNES' PUTTER GETS CREDIT

Had it All Shined up to Win British Open.

LONDON, June 27.—Long Jim Barnes today gave his old putter—rusty and longer—credit for its share in bringing the British open golf title back to America again.

"Tell my friends back in the states I used my rusty old putter—but I had it shined up," the new champion said. "I've been coming across for two seasons to see my mother and to win this championship," he added. "Now I've accomplished both purposes."

Barnes is a native of Cornwall, England, but is an American now.

MacDonald Smith, whose score placed him well out in front in the Prestwick tourney until his final round, was bitter in his comment of the crowds that thronged the course. It was estimated that as many as 15,000 tried to follow Smith in his final round.

"I have played golf in many places, but I never experienced such a rabble as beat me at Prestwick," he said today. "It was a disgrace. I never got a chance. I don't mind failing, but I didn't think a crowd at a golf meeting at Scotland would behave as that one did.'

Mrs. Smith was equally bitter.

"Mac might just as well have been driving in a busy street," she said.

The Senators got away running in the premiere of the early season's big money by beating the Athletics, 5 to 3, and moving within a game and a half of the lead. Goslin's homer with two on in the seventh decided the issue. Johnson was hit hard but not too often.

Whitehill left-handed the Browns dizzy while the Tigers hit Gaston with sufficient discretion to score a 4 to 3 victory.

Aided and abetted by Blades' homer, Rhem got the decision over Alexander, the Cardinals beating the Cubs, 3 to 2.

Tagging The Bases

The Senators got away running in the premiere of the early season's big money by beating the Athletics, 5 to 3, and moving within a game and a half of the lead. Goslin's homer with two on in the seventh decided the issue. Johnson was hit hard but not too often.

Whitehill left-handed the Browns dizzy while the Tigers hit Gaston with sufficient discretion to score a 4 to 3 victory.

Aided and abetted by Blades' homer, Rhem got the decision over Alexander, the Cardinals beating the Cubs, 3 to 2.

Europe Interests Yo...
Voices From the Clouds.
Shocking? Yes, ...d.
The Apple and t... ...g.

By ARTHUR B... ...E.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Europe interests everybody in America, from capitalists at the top of the heap to strugglers at the bottom.

If they pay us the billions they owe, we shall be by thousands of millions more the richest of nations. But if they pay us, they will have to ruin us by taking away our trade, through price cutting. At least, they tell us so.

Perhaps we shall be saved from that ruin. A parley called at Brussels is supposed to be the first step toward repudiation of Europe's debts to us. If she does not pay us, Europe won't have to ruin us. The very best that we can hope for seems to be the worst of it. Either we lose our $10,000,000,000 or we get the money and are ruined.

The British say that if America does not call another arms conference, Britain will do so. The cry from at least 100,000,000 deep United States hearts will be "go ahead and call your conference and please leave us out."

We had one conference, at Washington, and it was plenty. It makes us junk our brand new battleships, some only partly finished, costing hundreds of millions. It made us the world's policeman in the Pacific, guaranteeing to Europe and Japan their loot on the broad ocean.

If Uncle Sam has any brains he ought to feel about conferences with Europe as a small boy feels about going to the dentist.

The uprising ... That also is news for Europe, which for years has been skimming the cream from China. The United States is requested by Europeans in China to take a hand and restore order. Chinese chestnuts should be pulled out of the fire by those that get the chestnuts—not by the United States.

We might send warships to take aboard our good missionaries and other Americans, leaving the Chinese to save their own souls hereafter. But that ought to be all.

President Coolidge, who does not know what to do with a vacation when he gets it, will spend July 4 at his father's farm and pitch hay. He will do some thinking about men that made July 4 what it is. Very likely he will give thought to Washington's advice about keeping out of European entanglements.

There are plenty of those entanglements. See today's news from Greece. A rebellion in the army and navy has swept the country, and swept the government out of power.

We sympathize with both sides, as you sympathize with your neighbor and his wife, in a family row. But you don't go over and try to settle it. You remember the French proverb, "Never put your fingers between the bark and the tree," and that is what Uncle Sam should remember.

This is new. On July 4 flyers far above the earth will talk to each other in the air, using transmitters and receivers on their planes. The conversation will be taken by a receiving station on the ground, sent broadcast, and men on earth will hear other men talking to each other, up in the clouds.

Extend that a little, and you see this planet listening to conversations on other worlds. That may come quite easily, although any journey to moon or outside planet, in the flesh,

COMPANION NARROWLY ESCAPES LIKE FATE AS EARL EDDY MEETS DEATH

Harley Ferguson, Newell, Realizing Plight of Bather, Swims 150 Feet to Reach His Side and is Forced to Release Hold Twice as Youth Struggles in Beaver Creek.

TRAGEDY OCCURS ON SECOND DAY OF VACATION AT WILLIAMSPORT

Pottery Worker, Aged 24, Said to be Poor Swimmer, Goes to Bottom in Seven-foot Hole as Friends Enjoy Water Sport in Another Place —Body Recovered.

Earl Eddy, 24, pottery worker, of 1003 Lincoln avenue, was drowned while bathing in Beaver creek, near Williamsport, eight miles north of here, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he stepped into a seven-foot hole.

Harley Ferguson, 23, Newell, a fellow camper, narrowly escaped a like fate when he attempted to recue Eddy. Twice he caught Eddy, but exhausted from a 150-foot swim to reach him and the drowning man's strenuous struggling, he was forced to relinquish his hold in order to save himself.

Eddy's body was recovered about an hour later by William Crawford, Williamsport farmer, with the use of grappling hooks.

The tragedy occurred on the second day's vacation of a camping ... which included Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, ... rs. Sadie Dietz and Mrs. Pauline Coleman, ... party established their camp Thursday morning and ... afternoon took their first "dip" in the water.

Rescue Attempts Fail.

Following the noon meal, Ferguson and Eddy and Mrs. Dietz and Mrs. Coleman donned their bathing suits and started for the creek. Ferguson and the two women entered the water in a shallow place just below the old mill dam, Eddy walking up the creek a short distance from the others.

According to Ferguson, Eddy had been in the water only about 15 minutes, when he evidently stepped into a hole. He is believed to have strangled in the water and being a poor swimmer found himself unable to reach the shore in safety. Leonard Weston, of Newell, and two other lads, members of another camping party at Williamsport, who were near by witnessed Eddy's struggles and called to Ferguson. At first Ferguson paid no attention to their call, but when they shouted a second time, he looked down the creek and discovered Eddy's plight. Although he was about 150 feet from his companion, Ferguson swam to his side. Weston and his two companions, on the shore, unable to swim, did not attempt to rescue the drowning man.

When Ferguson reached Eddy, his strength was spent from the long swim. He, however, grasped the man twice, but because of his struggles he was forced to release his hold. Finally the would-be rescuer exhausted,

SCHOOL CHIEF WILL BE NAMED MONDAY NIGHT

Board of Education Divided Upon Two Candidates.

SPECIAL MEETING

Fail to Act Upon Religious Instruction Question.

Selection of a superintendent to succeed F. P. Geiger, who leaves here August 31, to become superintendent of the public schools at New Philadelphia, probably will be made at a special meeting of the board of education next Monday evening.

This date was set at an adjourned session of the board, held behind closed doors, in the high school building last evening. Applications of two candidates are said to have been considered but neither met with the unanimous approval of the members. A "dark horse," who is said to have recently applied for the place may be selected for the place, it was intimated today, in the event that the board fails to agree on either of the two candidates whose names were considered last night.

The board failed to act upon the Ministerial association's request for use of the school buildings next fall for classes in religious instruction. This question will not be disposed of until Attorney General C. C. Crabbe rules upon the legality of the proceedure, it was announced.

One Portable Building Needed.

Due to a mistake in the enumeration figures reported at the last meeting, but one new portable school building will be required during the coming term. This will be erected with the group of portables now in use at Glenmoor.

Truant Officer W. C. Dickey's figures showed the total enrollment in the Glenmoor school district at the present time to be 141, with indications that it will reach 160 or more before September. Little increase was

125 CARPENTERS BLAME TIE-UP HERE ON "THREE CONTRACTORS"

Strikers Reply to Employers' Offer of $10.25 Scale.

DEFEND STAND

Union Leaders Reveal Two Proposals They Made.

Responsibility for the tie-up of more than $400,000 worth of new construction in East Liverpool was placed at the doors of "three contractors" by 125 members of Local union No. 328, Carpenters and Joiners of America, in a statement issued today—the 58th day of the strike.

The carpenters charge that they made the contractors a counter-proposition under which they would return to work this week, but that the employers rejected it. The union leaders claim that the men agreed to return to work for $10.50 per day until May 1, 1926, then to receive $11 per day for the following year. The contractors refused to consider this offer but instead submitted a counter proposal, increasing their wages three cents per hour, to $10.25 per day until May 1, 1926, they said. This offer was likewise rejected by the carpenters.

Import Outside Workers.

The strikers also claim that "five other trades have been receiving from one to two dollars more than what we asked for," assert that "our demands were reasonable and just" and declare "contractors have been charging the public 20 per cent for carpenter labor,' and that "the contractor could well afford to pay the increase demanded without any extra charge to the public."

Building contractors today were completing arrangements to bring outside carpenters into East Liverpool to take the places of the strikers. They claim they will have no trouble in obtaining skilled carpenters for $10 per day, which they say is the maximum rate throughout the state with the exception of Steubenville, where the scale is $11.

The concractors will resume building operations as soon as possible, they said.

Carpenters expect Arnold Bill, Cleveland, representative of the national carpenters' union, to return here early in the week. He left here early Friday morning for his home in Cleveland.

Foul Play Theory In Charles S. Tice Case Strengthened

The foul play theory of relatives and friends of Charles S. Tice, Harker avenue potter, whose body was found in the Ohio river Wednesday afternoon, was strengthened today with the receipt of a report that he had been seen at the state line, Tuesday afternoon.

R. L. Coddle, Pennsylvania avenue, informed Mrs. William Tice, sister-in-law of the victim, that he met Tice at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and had talked to him. Coddle reported that Tice said that he was going to Midland.

When Tice left his mother's home Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, he is said to have had at least $50 of the $60 pay he received Saturday.

Police believe that Tice committed suicide while Coroner J. M. Van Fossan returned a verdict of "accidental drowning."

G. O. P. TRAINS GUNS ON WEST TO WIN TOGAS

Wisconsin and North Dakota Chief Points of Attack.

MASS ARTILLERY

Mobilize Forces in Preparation for Election Next Year.

WASHINGTON, June 27—The heaviest guns in the Rpublican party's arsenal will be unlimbered on the western front this fall in a spirited fight to capture senate seats.

Wisconsin and North Dakota, where the Progressives are most strongly entrenched, will be the chief points of attack.

While the so-called "insurgents" are casting about trying to find candidates to succeed Senator LaFollette, in Wisconsin, and Senator Ladd, in North Dakota, the more conservative elements are quietly laying plans for a battle to win seats in these states.

The west has been selected for the heaviest mobilization of forces in preparation for the election of next year when one-third of the senate, 32 senators, must face the voters.

Butler Will Take Field.

Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee, will take the field early in September to lead the forces. He plans an extensive tour of the West where he has already arranged conferences with lieutenants.

The Republicans face a peculiarly difficult situation to win seats from the Democrats. Of the seven Democrats who come up next year, all are from the south and Republicans admit virtually no chance to add strength there.

On the other hand, there are several Republicans from the so-called "doubtful" states which by a slight turn of the popular vote might easily go Democratic. This is regarded as especially true in Kentucky, Colorado, Indiana, Ohio, Arizona, Oklahoma, Maryland and Illinois.

La Follette's Son to Run

But it is not the danger of losing to Democrats that is at present worrying Republican leaders. That can be faced later, when the general elections

ROME, June 27.—Signor Giordana, editor of the Tribuna, today challenged Signor Amendola, leader of the Aventine party, to a duel because Signor Amendola referred to him as the footman of the Mussolini government.

FIVE FLEE AS FIRE DESTROYS SAND DIGGER IN OHIO RIVER

Dummy Boat Sinks Following $30,000 Blaze.

BARGES SAVED

Short Circuited Wire Blamed for Loss at Babb Island.

Five men were forced to flee for their lives and approximately $30,000 damages resulted shortly after 10:30 o'clock last night, when fire, believed to have originated either in the boiler room or from a short-circuited electric wire, burned "The Aid," the East Liverpool Sand company's dummy sand digger, to the water's edge in the Ohio river near Babb island.

Workers Escape in Skiff

Despite efforts on the part of Foreman Theodore Farnsworth and four other workers, who were aboard, to save the machinery, the boat, due to the shifting of one of the boilers capsized and went to the bottom.

When they realized that the fire was beyond control, Farnsworth and his co-workers fled in a skiff.

The gasoline boat, "Alice", also owned by the sand company, hurried to the scene following the discovery of the fire, which illuminated the skies for more than a mile along the river front, and saved five barges, two of them loaded with sand, which were moored to the digger. The barges were slightly damaged by the blaze.

The sand digger was operating

OPEN PLAYLOT HERE MONDAY

Ice Cream Cones Will be Distributed to Children.

The city playground at the corner of Second and Washington streets, will open on Monday, Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs, announced today.

Due to a delay in the placing of apparatus, the swings and possibly the slides will not likely be ready for use on the opening day. This equipment was moved when the tabernacle was erected and was to have been replaced by the East Liverpool Welfare association, purchasers of the structure.

The playlot will open at noon. At 6:30 o'clock, free ice cream cones will be distributed. The ice cream will be furnished by the Crockery City Ice & Products company and the Crystal Ice Cream & Bottling company, while the cones will be provided by the Riggs company, wholesale grocers. The Eagles' band probably will give an hour's concert, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The playground will be in charge of Frank Manton, boys' director, and Ruth Johnson, girls' supervisor. The opening hour after Monday has not been definitely determined, but the closing hour will be 8 p. m. It will be open every day except Sunday.

The Women's clubs have not determined how long the playlot shall be maintained this year. Less than $500 is now available and unless additional contributions are received in the interim the lot will be closed when this fund is depleted.

Evangelist Terry Plan Sunday Meets In Bloomfield Tent

Two tent services will be conducted Sunday in Bloomfield by Evangelist T. L. Terry of Ludlow, Ky.

At the afternoon meeting, Rev. Mr. Terry will preach on the subject of "Faith." A group picture of the tent and the audience will be taken preceding the service. A delegation of Pittsburgh visitors are expected to attend this rally. At 7:45 p. m., the sermon subject will be "Where Art Thou?"

The services will be held every evening, Saturday excepted, until July 4.

SOLONS VOTE BONDS FOR EIGHTH STREET JOB, ABOLISH POST OF SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Passage of the West Eighth street improvement ordinance and supplementary legislation providing for the issuance of bonds to meet the city's share of the work; abolition of the position of sealer of weights and measures, which automatically eliminates the place of assistant sanitary officer; rejection of the request presented by citizens of St. Clair avenue for an extension of water mains; lively discussion on the question of giving residents of Claiborn avenue an outlet and approval of the proposal of representatives of Trades and Labor Council that a fence be erected around City park in West Fifth street, featured the meeting of city council last evening.

The improvement ordinance and bond legislation were enacted under suspension of rules with Solon Farrall voting in opposition on every roll call. Just before the final vote was taken, he arose and declared: "I want to go on record as saying the city is being gold bricked.' His remarks brought forth no reply from his colleagues. The city's share of the cost of the improvement will be $31,571.

Tilt With Citizens.

Prior to the vote on abolition the place of sealer of weights and measures, a delegation from Trades and Labor council was heard. They declared that they had conferred with members of the health board and were informed that the work of the body would be hampered if the position of sanitary officer was abolished. They said, however, that no objection would be offered to elimination of the sealer's place providing the assistant health officer was retained. When the vote was taken, it was unanimous. Kerr and Farrall made speeches in favor of the ordinance after Solicitor Brokaw ruled the legislation abolished the assistant health officer's post.

Sharp tilts between citizens and members of council featured debate on the Clairborn avenue question. William Beaver, who appeared as chief spokesman for the delegation, asked point blank whether or not council intended giving them relief. Eardley and Kerr replied that negotiations were under way with the Youngstown & Ohio River Railroad company. This answer did not satisfy the delegation who pressed their point and in the debate that followed it developed that the strip of ground sought as an outlet has recently been purchased by the Midway Oil company. A representative of the company, given the privilege of the floor, said that they would offer no objection if a portion of the ground was used as a roadway, but he did not think his company would sell the property to the city. The matter was disposed of by passage of a motion that council as a whole visit the site and make a report at the next meeting.

Fence for City Park.

Councilman Larcombe opened debate on the proposed extension of water mains beyond the city limits by asserting that the city had the water and should sell it if the people of that section were willing to pay for the service. Hayes voiced similar sentiments. Kerr, Farrall and Chambers opposed the proposal. Kerr declared that before his term expired he would bring before council the matter of annexation of the district and give the residents a chance to say whether or not they would come into the city.

Plan Conference on Salary Question.

Trades and Labor Council representative presented the petition for the erection of a fence around City park and it was endorsed by Farrall who called attention to the danger due to many autos traveling in that vicinity. Kerr moved to refer the matter to the park commission but when his attention was called to the fact that the commission had no jurisdiction in the matter by Solicitor Brokaw and At-

SHEPHERD WINS COURT FIGHT

Jury Votes Acquittal in Chicago "Germ Murder" Case.

CHICAGO, June 27.—William Darling Shepherd slept today with the lights out, for the first time in three months and thirteen days.

That, when the first flush of his victory, his winning of freedom through verdict of a jury on the bitterly fought charge of the state—that he had killed his ward, "Billy" McClintock with typhoid germs to win the million dollar McClintock estate—was his first thought.

In that first moment of his vindication Shepherd's first thought was of his wife, whose loyalty throughout the black days of the trial gave him the courage to face the world and smile. Plans for a "second honeymoon" were on their lips as soon as the confirming kiss of faith had been passed between them when the clerk in Judge Lynch's court read that "not guilty" verdict.

Sleeps With Lights Out.

Tumbling in the wake of the love message came plans for the future—and then:

"I want to sleep," said Shepherd. "For three months and 13 days I've gazed at an ever-burning electric light, through the meshes of a cell. For three months that speck of light has been burning itself into my eyes. My right eye seems to always see, even in daytime, a flaring image of a light globe. I want to sleep with the lights out."

It took the jury six ballots to free Shepherd. From the first they stood 11 to 1 for acquittal, the man who stood alone being won over on the sixth ballot.

Then followed a demonstration for Shepherd and then the glad greeting of Julie.

Another Battle Looms.

The Shepherds are at the home of a friend on the South Side.

Thrust into the background of their thoughts was another great legal battle that looms—the probate fight for possession of Billy McClintock's million dollars.

"The fight will go on," said Shepherd in referring to the charge made by his counsel that there was a plot to convict him. "But first I want to rest and have a second honeymoon with the one woman in the whole world."

10,000 Americans, "Pleasure Bent," Sail For European Ports

NEW YORK, June 27.—All records for the number of Americans going to Europe were broken today when 11 big trans-Atlantic liners sailed from New York carrying a moderate army of 10,000 persons.

The great majority of them, according to shipping officials, are "pleasure bent," although business men and college students formed a part of the great exodus.

Today's sailings marked the peak of the summer tourist traffic, which has been heavier this summer than ever before.

Shipping men estimate that the 10,000 who sailed will leave many millions of American dollars abroad to bolster up exchange and the "invisible trade balance."

War Department Offers Muscle Shoals Power to Bidders

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The war department today offered for sale the surplus power that it is to develop at Muscle Shoals in August during the testing of the new generator units and water wheels.

In accordance with the mandates of the special Muscle Shoals inquiry commission, appointed by President Coolidge, the War department, however, will not enter a lease for disposal of the power.

Among those the War department is seeking to interest in the purchase of power is Henry Ford, whose bid for the entire project was refused by congress and subsequently withdrawn by the automobile manufacturer.

was forced to seek shore in order to escape drowning.

A lad named Crytzer is reported to have attempted to rescue Eddy after Ferguson had given up and he himself narrowly escaped death. This report, however, could not be verified by Ferguson or other members of the party.

Coroner Returns Verdict.

The body was placed aboard a truck and started for town. At Calcutta, Ferguson called the C. N. Miller ambulance. From this point the body was brought to a morgue in the ambulance.

Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, who came here this morning to conduct an inquest, returned a verdict of "accidental drowning" after talking with Ferguson.

Eddy has been employed as a batter-out for Ferguson, a jiggerman at the No. 4 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, Newell, for about six years.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. Alice Eddy; five brothers and one sister, Clarence, Elmer, Acey and John Eddy, all of East Liverpool; Harry Eddy of Hollidays Cove and Mrs. Mary Casto of Chester.

Eddy was a member of East Liverpool aerie No. 457, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Funeral services will be conducted in the late home at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Rev. R. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Church of Christ, in charge. Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery. Friends may view the body Sunday afternoon and evening.

TODAY

will probably forever remain physically impossible.

You read of the latest divorce suit charges. The husband accuses his wife, who "listens coldly," of giving late entertainments at which guests of both sexes wore, by way of clothing, exactly nothing at all.

She counters by naming three co-respondents, one of them a lady of 94 years old. But all that,even if true, simply means, not new viciousness, but merely slipping back to old-fashioned evils.

A prince regent of France is said to have given parties as bad, and worse, since members of his family were present.

We are not really getting worse. A few are as bad now as a great many used to be — that's all. It is just a slipping back toward the monckey house.

Chicago's city council unanimously requested advice from the corporation counsel as to separating Chicago from the rest of Illinois.

The best advice is don't.

The feet wanted to separate from the head, in the old fable, because the head seemed to be having all the pleasure, while the feet carried the load. You know what would happen to a pair of feet with no head to guide.

It is foolish for the head to demand separation from the feet. A great city, in a fine state, is like a beautiful apple, growing on a good tree. It would be a foolish apple that would say, "I don't need this tree." Its mind would change if the sap were cut off.

Merchants declaring that they are living in fear demand laws that would sentence robbers to imprisonment for life.

New York's board of trade and transportation has officially urged such a law.

It might be good, especially if the life convicts could be made really useful during their imprisonment. Perhaps they could be used irrigating particularly disagreeable deserts, or draining some of the worst mosquito and disease breeding swamps—with some reasonable hope of commutation if they worked well for 20 years.

Punishment is after all a matter of convenience. American laws have punished horse stealing with hanging. In Japan it was death to take a silk worm across the border. That was to protect Japan's silk trade. Every law is right, if the people want it, and no law works, if the people don't want it.

"SILENT COPS" ILLUMINATED

New Traffic Signals Purchased Without Cost to City.

The city's new "silent police", purchased without one cent expense to the municipality, were illuminated for the first time last night.

The new signals, painted in white and blue, present an attractive appearance in day light as well as at night. They are fitted with heavy green lenses, obtained from the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

The cost of the "silent police" was met through contributions by William Taliman, manager of the Ceramic Theatre and the Kiwanis club. The East Liverpool Concrete Block company, Union and Third street, furnished the stucco and concrete blocks on which the signs have been mounted. The wiring was done by Benjamin Hall, local electrician.

The two signals in the Diamond at Sixth street are worked by a switch in the police booth, while others at Fifth and Market streets, Sixth street and Broadway and Broadway and St. Clair avenue are operated from switches on near by poles.

Automobile owners were urged today by Chief of Police McDermott to observe the "keep to the right" regulations in passing the new signal at Broadway and St. Clair avenue. Police are to be stationed at this point for a few days to warn motorists that they must keep to the right to avoid arrest.

FRENCH TENNIS STAR DEFEATED

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 27.—One of France's famed "big three" passed out of the Wimbledon all-comers' tennis singles today when Jim Anderson, the Australian crack, wore down and ultimately defeated Brugnon in a great five-set match after the Frenchman had taken the first two sets. The scores were -6, 7-9, 6-4, 7-5 and 6-2.

Brugnon was on the verge of collapse at the end, his resistance to Anderson's implacable advance becoming more and more futile as the final set progressed.

Lucien Williams, of Chicago, teamed with Fenno, of England, emerged victorious in the second round of the men's doubles. They defeated Sherwell and Eltringham, of England, 6-4, 6-3, 5-7, 7-9 and 8-6.

SEEK OHIOAN AS WOMAN'S SLAYER

CINCINNATI, June 27.—A Cincinnati man is now suspected of being the slayer of the woman whose nude body, weighted down with automobile skid chains, was found in the Ohio river at Utopia, Ohio, last Tuesday. This became known today when seven residents of Utopia arrived in Cincinnati and will attempt to identify the man under surveillance.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 27. — Prices of well known industrial and motor stocks moved aggressively forward in the stock market today. American Can started with a three point gain at the opening, to the accompaniment of new rumors concerning a long-awaited split-up of the stock at next Tuesday's meeting of the board of directors. The stock jumped 10 points to 200 in the first half hour of trading.

This week's active movement in General Motors and Yellow Cab Manufacturing gave rise to rumors of a combination of the two companies though the report was officially denied in Chicago. Yellow Cab sold above 49 for a gain of nearly eight points from Thursday's low, while General Motors at 85¼ was up six points from last week's close, also recording the highest price ever reached by the stock in its present form. Willys Overland, United States Rubber and other motor accessory stocks sold higher in active trading.

Strength in the pivotal stocks stimulated heavy trading in other sections of the speculative list and price trends were higher. The oil stocks made only a slight response to the marking up of crude oil prices by the Texas company and the prospective advance in Pennsylvania crude oil which was expected to be announced today. Standard Oil stocks and a few of the independent oils sold fractionally higher, but gains were conservative in comparison with the sheaf of bullish predictions issued by the Wall street brokerage houses.

New forward movements were started in a number of the specialty stocks, including DuPont, Cast Iron Pipe, Radio Corporation, Armour, Universal Pipe, Philadelphia company, etc. United Cigar Stores surged forward to a new high record price, while Gulf States Steel, at the head of the independent steel stocks, sold about one point higher. American Smelting was strong in the second hour, with an advance to above 105. Woolworth reached 141 in active trading.

NINE DROWNED AS LINER HITS TUG

QUEBEC, June 27.—Search was made today for the bodies of nine men who were drowned when the tug Ocean King was rammed by the liner Marloch in the St. Lawrence river just below the Terrace, where hundreds of persons were taking their evening stroll.

Capt. A. E. Stevens had taken his tug out to the channel to help tow the liner. Presumably, in order to be able to catch the hawser, the tug cut across the bow of the Marloch.

There was a crash and in the space of five minutes nothing was seen on the surface of the St. Lawrence where the tug had been except a slight frothing of waters.

come around. The immediate necessity, therefore, in the view of Republican leaders, is to concentrate in Wisconsin and North Dakota, states which year after year have sent men to congress with Republican labels but who harassed the party chiefs at every turn, more often being against the administration than with it. Three senators from these states, La Follette, Wisconsin, and Ladd and Frazier, North Dakota, and Brookhart, Iowa, were "read out" of the party for their insurgency.

Taking Wisconsin and North Dakota in the special elections this fall, Republicans would regard as a more helpful victory than holding seats against Democrats in most other states. The insurgents have admittedly been a bitter dose for the conservative elements in the party, and in the death of Senator LaFollette and Ladd they feel the time is right to strike hard.

Progressives, too, are not sitting idly by, according to reports here today. In Wisconsin, particularly, they are girding themselves for a real, old-fashioned battle. Information here indicates that Mrs. La Follette will refuse to run for her husband's seat, and that Robert M. La Follette, Jr., will be the Progressive banner bearer.

Woman Who Smokes Cigarettes Fights For Teaching Job

SECAUCUS, N. J., June 27.—Should a woman teacher smoke cigarettes? That issue transcends all others in Secaucus today where the case of Miss Helen Clark, a public school teacher, is a subject of avid discussion.

Her contract will not be renewed when it expires July 1 as a result, she says, of a dislike by school officials of her smoking cigarettes.

Matthew Pechtel, principal, denied Miss Clark's habit of smoking is the reason why she can't retain her position. He said she was found to be inefficient, but he admitted the school board might consider cigarette smoking as contributing to inefficiency.

The issue will be settled Monday night when Miss Clark will be given a public hearing.

Yellow Cab-General Motors Merger Near, Is New York Report

NEW YORK, June 27.—Acquisition of the Yellow Cab Manufacturing company by General Motors Corporation or interests identified with that company were foreshadowed today as the result of informal conferences held here this week between John Hartz, president of the Yellow Cab, and officials of the General Motors Corporation.

General Motors has been negotiating in various directions for important manufacturing plants in which to extend its truck and bus productions. This was emphasized by the substantial bids made for the Dodge Brothers' property in competition with the Dillon-Read banking house. Acquisition of Yellow Cab manufacturing field will mean extensive selling connections.

Official confirmation of sale or merger negotiations is lacking, but prominent stockholders of General Motors Corporation are reported to have purchased large blocks of Yellow Cab stock when it appeared on the New York stock exchange. This stock, with that held by Chicago interests, would be sufficient to assure control.

INDIANS DEFEAT U. S. POLO TEAM

LONDON, June 27.—The United States Army polo team, which defeated England for the international military championship several days ago, was smothered today by the Maharajah of Jodphur's quartet from India in an exhibition match. The Americans lost, 13 to 3, being out classed by the speedy and sensational Indians at every turn.

torney W. H. Vodrey, it was referred to the service director.

Several residents of West Fourth street inquired why they were charged $50 for connecting their properties with a sanitary sewer. City Engineer George was called upon and informed the solons that the charge was made under an ordinance which had long been in effect. It developed during the discussion that other property there had connected with a storm sewer without charge. It was decided that council, as a whole, should investigate the matter before the next session.

Kerr suggested placing a "silent policeman" at the corner of Elizabeth street and Harvey avenue after making a report for the street committee that it would be unwise at this time to insist on property owners along Harvey avenue paving their sidewalks.

Ordinances calling for extension of sewers on Smithfield, Garfield and Edgewood streets were passed under suspension of the rules.

Before adjournment, council voted to confer with the city auditor relative to funds to pay the salaries of the mayor and the new municipal judge. Solicitor Brokaw stated that the Bar association had appointed a similar committee and suggested a joint session to discuss the question.

COOLIDGE GOES TO CAMBRIDGE

President Also Visits Boston on Sight-seeing Trip.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., June 27.—A "Coolidge tour" of this section of New England was booked today as the principal attraction of President Coolidge's fourth day in the summer white house.

Early this morning the President and Mrs. Coolidge, closely followed by a long string of motor cars, started out on a sightseeing trip through Boston and Cambridge, the first of a series of tours designed to cover many of the historic spots in the state the executive once governed.

For the most part the entourage was composed of the newspapermen and photographers, who were especially invited to accompany the party by Mr. Coolidge himself.

Visits Historical Spots.

Cambridge was chosen as the first point of call, largely because the president is scheduled to make the principal address there on July 3 in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the assumption of command of the Continental army of George Washington.

The site of the Washington elm, where this incident took place, and the Cambridge common, near the site of the elm, from which the president will speak, were the main points of interest.

Other tours that Mr. Coolidge has planned for himself and the correspondents accompanying him here include the Charlestown navy yard, where the frigate Constitution is anchored, and Forts Andrew, Banks and Warren stretched out along the coast line. These tours will be made aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower.

Tomorrow the president and Mrs. Coolidge will utilize the Mayflower for the first time on their vacation. Immediately after service at the local Congregational church, they will board the yacht at its berth at Marblehead for a short cruise up and down the coast.

with the regular cash and ticket fares now being collected.

Passengers using the weekly pass merely need to show it as they enter or leave the car as the arrangement may be, if it is a two-zone pass, it must be produced upon entering and leaving the car.

The traction company claims that in cities where the plan is in use pass holders average more than four rides per day, which in East Liverpool would amount to 28 cents for a cash fare, or 25 cents for a ticket fare, on city lines. Delays in loading and unloading would be eliminated by a majority of the passengers having passes. They will be on sale each week from Friday until Tuesday by conductors and at the Broadway ticket office.

mid-way between the island and the West Virginia shore, opposite Ninth street, Chester, when the fire broke out. Sand company employes were on the second deck, changing the sand screen. When they reached the first deck, the fire had gained a big headway.

Bucket Brigade Formed

With Foreman Farnsworth directing, the workers formed a bucket brigade, dipping the water from the river, in an effort to check the spread of the flames, thus hoping to save the machinery. Their efforts, however, were futile.

News of the fire spread rapidly and soon scores of people lined high points on the Ohio side of the river, while many went to Chester to watch the flames which leaped high in the air.

Officials of the Sand company were unable today to determine the exact loss, which is partly covered by insurance.

Special Services In Two East End Churches Sunday

A special musical program will be given at the Second Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock Sunday evening. Outside talent will assist in the program, which will be in charge of Miss Ethel Peterson, choir director, and Mrs. Lawrence McVey, organist.

Services at the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church will include Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. and Epworth League at 7 p. m. Rev. J. L. Culp, pastor of the church, will use the subject, "Inasmuch," for his sermon in the morning, and "Thou Shalt and Thou Shalt Not" for his evening sermon.

Preparatory class for children will meet at 9:30 Wednesday morning, while the weekly prayer meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

J. H. Moss, Milwaukee, Is Elected Kiwanis Chief at St. Paul

Pittsburgh Company Gets Contract

Two companies, dealing in portable buildings submitted bids. The Togan Styles, Inc., of Grand Rapids, Mich., offered a proposal of $1,714.90 for a one room building 24x36 ft., while the Circle A Products company of Pittsburgh, furnished an estimate of $1,716.22 for a structure, 21x36 feet. These figures included heaters and composition black boards, F. O. B. East Liverpool.

The Circle A Products company supplied the portable structures now in service in Glenmoor and East End. Upon roll call, members Sample, Wilhelm, Weaver and White favored the bid of the Circle A concern, while President J. H. Brooks supported the proposal of the Grand Rapids company. The contract was awarded the former company.

The board authorized F. T. Weaver, a member of the supplies committee, to purchase 50 pedestals for seats from the A. H. Andrews company of Chicago, at $2.50 each.

ROCKET CAUSES $3,000 BLAZE

Montgomery Grocery Store is Burned to Ground.

A premature Fourth of July celebration last night shortly before 1 o'clock set fire to the Charles Montgomery grocery store at 1914 Nevada street, causing a total loss to building and stock estimated at least $3,000.

A skyrocket shot through the open doorway of the storeroom, it is said, ignited fireworks in the building, and within a twinkling the entire structure was a mass of flames.

A bundle of fireworks was purchased by a boy, David Campbell, several days ago, according to the story told Chief of Police John Fultz, and was laid away until the Fourth. The youth, it is claimed, slipped one of the skyrockets from the pack without the knowledge of the storekeeper and took it outside to light it.

Instead of shooting into the air, the rocket veered suddenly and whizzed directly into the store.

For a few moments, firemen were told, a reproduction of a miniature sham battle was given inside the store as Montgomery's stock of fireworks ignited.

Although firemen made a quick run to the blaze, the fire in a few minutes had become uncontrollable and the building was razed.

PENNSY NAMES TREASURY HEAD

A. J. County, Vice President, Given New Post.

The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company today placed the supervision of the company's treasury department in the hands of Vice President A. J. County, with the title of vice president in charge of the treasury and accounting department and co-operate works, to be effective July 1.

County has heretofore been vice president in charge of accounting and corporate works. This appointment fills the vacancy caused by the retirement of Henry Catnall on May 1, in accordance with the pension regulations, as vice president of finance.

In taking such action the directors have utilized the same form of organization that existed a number of years ago when one vice president supervised both the treasury and accounting department.

County is 53 years old and was born in Dublin, Ireland. His first expreience in railroad work was gained in his native city where he served five years in the purchasing department of the Great Southern and Western railway. He is a graduate of Wharton school of commerce and finance of the University of Pennsylvania, and has been 35 years in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad. During his career on the Pennsylvania, County has served as clerk, chief clerk, assistant secretary of the company and various subsidiary lines also as superintendent of the employes' saving fund, assistant to the vice president, special assistant to the president and as vice president in charge of accounting. He also now serves as president of the branch lines on the Pennsylvania railroad system. In these various capacities, County has obtained the necessary accounting and financial knowledge and experience which lead to his promotion to his new office.

The directors also authorized the following changes in the company's traffic department, effective July 1.

James E. Weller, heretofore freight traffic manager at Chicago, is promoted to assistant traffic manager with offices in the same city. J. T. Johnson, freight traffic manager at St. Louis, is transferred to the same position in Chicago, as successor to Mr. Weller.

DON'T WANT WIFE? DIVORCE HER IN ARABIA

All Husband Has to do is Tell Her Three Times.

WAY IS EASY

Marriage is Farce in Land of Sheiks, Says Authoress.

LONDON, June.—Interesting revelations of the free and easy way in which marriage and divorce is conducted in the land of the sheiks was given by Mrs. Albert Bradshaw, an English authoress, upon her return from North Africa in search of local color.

According to Mrs. Bradshaw's account, it would seem that both of these institutions are little more than a farce.

"From my visits to the Arab divorce court at Tunis I gathered that an Arab has merely to say to his wife three times, 'I don't want you,' in order to be rid of her," Mrs. Bradshaw said.

New Legislation.

"The more complicated matters, such as inheritance, trusteeship, and children, which usually accompany divorces, are treated more seriously, however, and for these matters the divorce court is asked to legislate.

"Proceedings in these courts resemble a comic opera more than anything.

"The court, which is lined with richly upholstered divans accommodating seven judges, is usually filled with a mob of chattering litigants, who tell their tale of woe to one of the judges, and if they are unable to get satisfaction from him, they all march to another and repeat their stories, in the hope of making a better impression.

"Men, women and children all talk at the top of their voices at the same time, and to a stranger's ears it is like the Tower of Babel over again.

Women Veiled.

The great majority of the women are heavily veiled in black. They are often married off by the parents when little more than children, and, as their husbands do not see their faces until after marriage, there are many disillusionments, which result in speedy divorce. The wives then go to the divorce court to air their grievances. Unless a woman has some sort of a dowry she has practically no chance of getting a husband, which results in the rich girls getting married when very young and the poorer ones hanging around in the marriage market until past marriageable womanhood in the hope of getting a husband."

Mrs. Bradshaw also described the strange way in which the Arab theatre is conducted.

"The Arab theatre in Tunis is a strange mixture," she said. "It has three thousand tip-up seats of the latest architecture, but the aisle are of beaten brown earth. The performances, are quite amusing. Some of the artists make an effort to Westernize their dress and the effect is most ludicrous. One man I saw appeared in modern evening clothes, with a wasp waist. He carried a walking stick the whole time, and to complete his make-up he wore a fez. All the women wear the veil when attending the theatre.

That "The Navigator" will come to the American theatre on Monday for three days.

Girls, Separated From Men, Die Fast In Far Off India

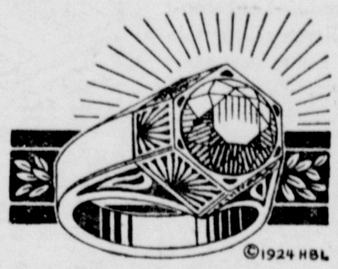

CALCUTTA, June.—Indian women, who are so carefully protected from male observation, suffer from this strange and romantic custom, according to reports of the Calcutta health officer.

Indian homes have a "zenana," or portion of the house which houses the women, and a screen known as the "purdah" hides the women from the view of men.

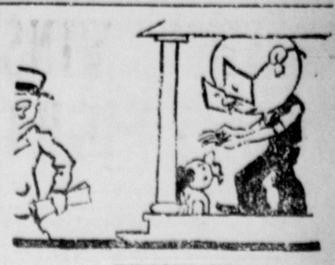

A report of the Calcutta health officer states:

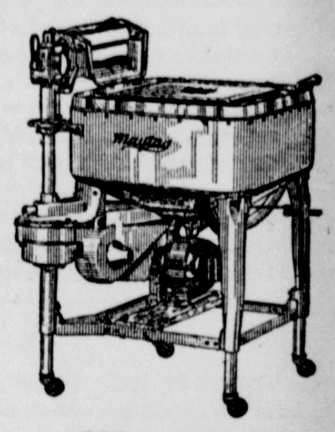

"Between the ages of fifteen and twenty for every boy that dies of tuberculosis five girls die. Put truthfully, these girls were suffocated behind the 'purdah.'"

Highway Graveyards

Alarmed by the appalling automobile death toll and desirous of impressing upon drivers the importance of exercising caution as well as observing common sense regulations of traffic, Governor A. V. Donahey has suggested the erection of "small, inexpensive white crosses along highways on the state system at each place where fatal accidents have occurred—one for each person killed—that there may be mute appeal to warn the passing motorist of danger, to drive carefully for his own sake and that of others."

The executive's appeal has been directed to the commissioners of Columbiana county as well as the other 87 sub-divisions of Ohio, urging that they co-operate in the movement to decrease the mounting casualty list. The commissioners are asked to adopt the plan for their county roads and they may obtain the material for the crosses from the state. These solemn memorials will be built of two-by-four lumber, four feet high, uniform in style and color.

Columbiana county has had comparatively few fatal automobile accidents so far in 1925, although the Grim Reaper has not overlooked the eastern section of the state. In some sections, however, the white crosses will stand pretty thick. There are stretches of road where they may suggest a military graveyard. Nearly everywhere they will increase in number. They will be a gruesome reminder to drivers, and will make driving less cheerful for many a tourist and joy-rider. But that need not count against them if lives are saved by the sense of responsibility they inspire.

Save Gas

Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association, makes a powerful plea for conservation of the gasoline supply. Never, he says, has there been such need of care. Whether the available petroleum supply is really nearing exhaustion, or whether the oil interests are merely pretending that it is, makes little difference to the motorist. In either case, lavish use of the fuel hastens exhaustion and raises prices, and thrift will delay exhaustion and keep prices down.

There are many ways of doing this, he points out. One is to cut down the "idle miles" the motor runs. Many cars burn up more gasoline in idling through congested districts than they use in effective locomotion, when they might avoid this loss by choosing other routes. There is enormous waste in slavishly following trolley cars and stopping and starting with them every block for two miles. There is loss in running an ordinary car below 15 miles an hour or above 25 miles, between which is found the greatest fuel efficiency. A good saving may be made by coasting down long hills, using proper precautions. Keeping the engine warm is another way to gain mileage. To these might be added the rather obvious measures of keeping all the motive and rolling mechanism in good working order, properly lubricated, with the tires inflated at the point of least resistance.

But Mr. Henry, with all his good advice, puts all the onus on the motorist. Much of the responsibility belongs with the manufacturer. There has never been the effort there should be, in this country, to make cars of high fuel efficiency. It was estimated a year or two ago that one type of American car wasted 400,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year merely because it lacked an efficient carburetor.

Perhaps the greatest cause of fuel waste is the building of unnecessarily large and heavy cars, making too much dead weight to haul around.

Primitive Hunting

It was self-evident when three Americans went to Africa to hunt big game with the bow and arrow that they were going to run into some thrilling adventures. And they have. A story from Nairobi, British East Africa, is of unusual interest because the hero of it is a well known author. Stewart Edward White is credited with killing a ferocious leopard with his bare hands.

As the story is reported by Dr. Saxton Pope, of the University of California, one of the bow-and-arrow trio, and head of the expedition, the leopard after being struck by a long-range arrow attacked two native arrow-bearers and badly clawed them. Mr. White rushed to their rescue, picked up a small gun that they had been allowed to carry for their own peace of mind, and fired at the animal, but missed. The leopard leaped upon White and struck him down, knocked the gun from his hands. Then the prostrate hunter grasped the leopard's throat and held on, in spite of biting and clawing, until he choked the beast to death.

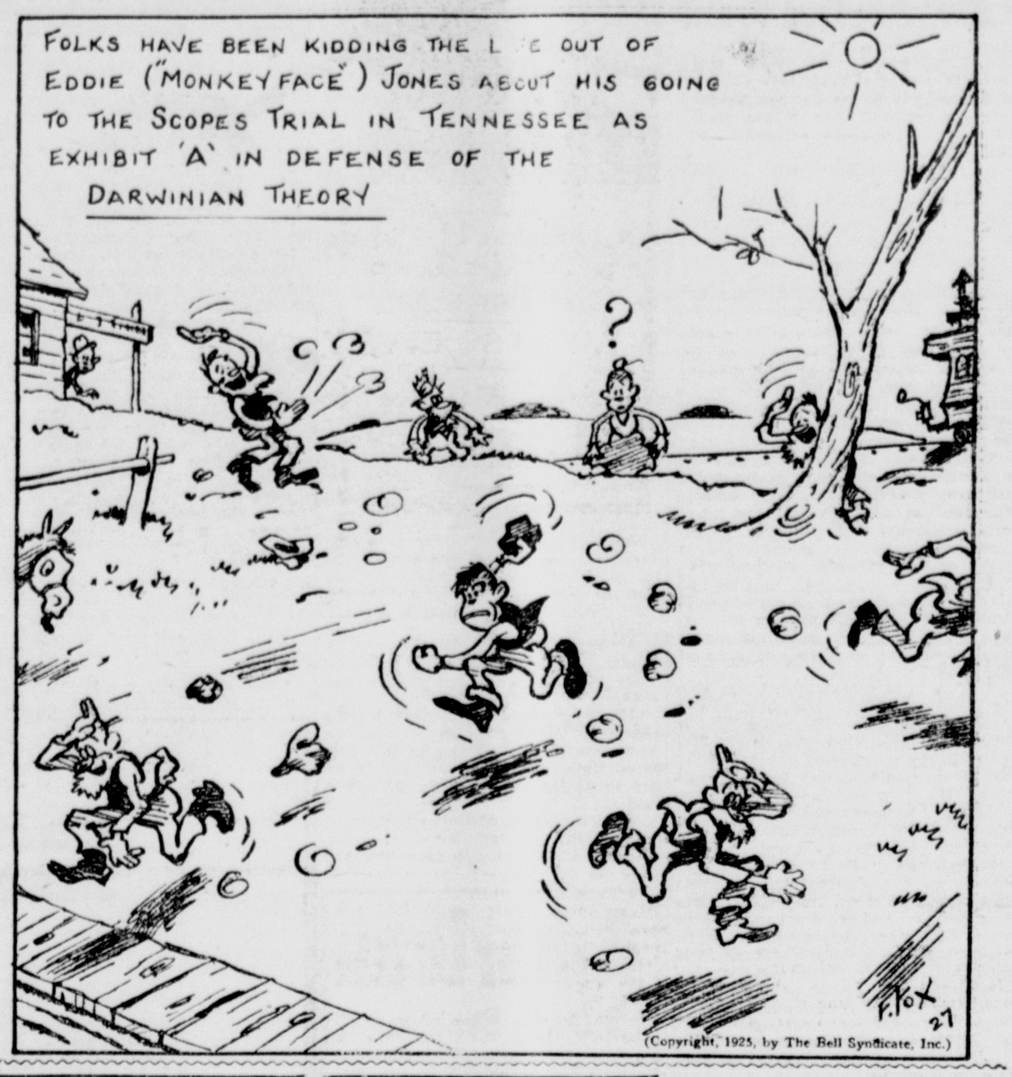

Very good for a literary gentleman! Good, indeed, for anybody. It is reassuring, in an age often accused of decadence, to find that three highly civilized white men can hold their own against the strongest of man's natural enemies, with such primitive weapons as the bow and arrow, and when it comes to the worst, with their hands alone.

The Sunday Sentence

A Florida judge sentenced an intoxicated automobile driver to 10 days in jail. The offender had a family dependent on his support, so the judge decided to spread the sentence out over 10 consecutive Sundays. This means that for the next two months, at least, this particular reckless driver will be kept off the highways on Sundays, the days when the traffic is always heaviest.

Although this arrangement was made chiefly because of the family's need, it suggests possibilities which make it worth copying. Sunday is the big day for automobile accidents and killings. There could hardly be a more satisfactory time to deprive numerous speed maniacs and intoxicated and reckless drivers of their cars. Why not try it more generally?

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Grand Central station is—as Oscar Wilde said of an egg—always an adventure. It is a bustling city within a city. Once within its marbled, blue ceiled ramparts one may live indefinitely without touching foot on the sidewalks of New York.

Through tunneled labyrinths one may reach three huge hotels. It is possible to dine at a stool counter luncheon as well as in a magnificent dining room with orchestras behind majestic palms. In the station is a hospital equipped for emergency operations.

Doctors of every school, hair dressers, chiropodists, palmists, dentists, lawyers, notaries, gym instructors and language tutors may be reached. A stranger may buy anything from a needle to an automobile. There is even a dog shop and a photograph gallery.

The passing parade in the station (Why don't they call it a depot?) is of vast interest. Actresses with poodles. A group of immigrants off for wheat fields. Turbaned Eastern princes. Cowmen in wide hats. Priests in shovel hats. Chinese. Japanese.

All these and more you see in a half hour's walk. Broadway or the Strand do not offer a more varied oddlot of humanity. Life rippies and green caps flash about like a pyrotechnic display.

The street arcades offer everything that may be seen in Fifth Avenue windows. It seems strange that these shops in the hurly burly rush of life would be able to sell millinery, men's clothes, jewelry, flowers, stocks and bonds but they all appear busy.

This is the lament of a chorus girl in a side street beanery as relayed by a prominent eavesdropper: "It is always my luck when I fall for a new John to discover he either has a front gold tooth or wears a derby."

Over on the East Soide a Yiddish merchant had been suffering from an internal complaint, according to Montague Glass. He was taken to a hospital and X-Rayed. As he was inspecting the plates in his store a friend dropped in. He pushed them over the counter to him.

"Well, at that, they don't flatter you," said the friend.

The waiter at Tex Guinan's supper club where Harry Thaw had a recent night of wild spending has exploded one of the rumors. "I busted both arches carrying stuff to his table," he said, "and all I got was a couple of smackers." Which in real money is two dollars.

Near the Palace Theatre a restaurant has opened which carries this slogan in its window: "I'm a lonesome little sandwich waiting for a mouth to feed, on the street that made Hams famous."

Professional panhandlers never solicit alms from the Chinese. There is no record of one ever aiding a street beggar. You rarely see a beggar in Chinatown. Down at "Beggars' Roost" on Bleecker street, a flopping place for chronic panhandlers and professional cripples, the old stagers say that prosperous looking men are next to the Chinese in niggardliness. The best prospect of all, they say, is the young laborer. He is rather flattered by a request for money and in nine times out of ten will give more than he can afford. Members of the theatrical profession are considered easy marks and that is why there is a group of beggars about every stage door when theatres are letting out. Crowded streets are bad for begging. The lightly traveled thoroughfare is better. In crowds people fear to be taken for unsophisticated victims of beggars.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has grown to be one of the largest and most important of all subordinate governmental agencies. It was created in 1887 with an original personnel of five members, having decidedly limited jurisdiction. Its membership has been increased successively to seven, nine, and, finally, under the transportation act of 1920, to eleven. In recognition of the important nature of their work the salaries of the commissioners have been advanced from $5,000 to $12,000, placing them on a level with Cabinet members in so far as emolument is concerned. Many laws have been passed enlarging the duties and authority of the commission, the more important being one delegating the rate-fixing power to the commission, and the one enacted when the railroads were returned to the private owners after 27 months of war-time government operation and control.

A few men still are living who were born before there was a railroad in the United States. Today the business of rail transportation is the key industry of the Nation, producing an annual gross income of $5,500,000,000. Being a public utility, it is regulated in the interests of thee public, railroads, and shippers, by the Interstate Commerce Commission. This body has supervision over all common carriers which do an interstate business and which are included in the definition of common carriers written in the interstate-commerce laws. Under recent interpretations of the law, it has been held that the commission can regulate traffic wholly within a state, where such traffic has a bearing on interstate movement.

Congress bases its original authority for the regulation of interstate commerce on the brief line in the Constitution providing that Congress shall have power to regulate commerce. An agency which conveys persons, property, or even more intangible things from state to state comes under this body's jurisdiction; and, therefore, not only railroads but steamboats lines, canal-boat linss, telegraph and telephone companies, express companies, sleeping-car and parlor-car companies, and even pipe lines, other than those carrying gas and water, are common carriers when they convey persons or property or messages for pay. A lumber company may own a railroad line to transport logs from a forest tract to its sawmill and not be a common carrier provided it does not carry a single pound of freight for anyone else and carries no passengers.

The commission's principal concern is with the railroads. More than 260,800 miles of railway come within its jurisdiction. Annually these railroads carry more than 965,000,000 passengers and 1,7000,$00,000 tons of freight. The distance these passengers are carried is equivalent to 35,500,000,000 miles for one passenger, and the aggregate freight haulage is equivalent to carrying 1 ton of frieght more than 300,000,000,000 miles. The average passenger rides about 36 miles. The average ton of freight is moved 1 mile for 1.27 cents. The commission, in effect, is a court of justice for the railroads and for the public using them. When a shipper believes he is overcharged for transportation, he may complain to the Interstate Commerce Commission. His case will be heard, the railroads over which his goods traveled being notified to defend themselves.

Four Thousand Complaints.

As a rule, the procedure is less cumbersome than that of a court. Informal complaints are permitted and some 4,000 of these are filed annually. During one year these resulted in orders authorizing refunds in 3239 cases, the sums involved aggregating $1,250,000. Such a complaint may merely be stated in a letter and may concern over-charge for a single ticket or rate on thousands of tons of coal or other heavy commodities. The bureau in charge of informal complaints writes about 165,000 letters a year.

Formal complaints cover every sort of case. They may be filed by an individual, a company, an association, such as a chamber of commerce, by a city, or by a state. They may relate to a single shipment or to an entire tariff covering every rate a railroad or a group of railroads has made. During a typical year some 1200 formal complaints are filed with the commission and nearly all are disposed of. A few require protracted consideration and are before the commission for two or three years. Every formal complaint is made public when it is filed and due notice must be given each railroad complained against. Dates are set for hearings and arguments, all of these being open to the geneeral public. Twice every day the commission's secretary lays on a table in his office, a copy of each formal complaint, each order, and decision of the commission. Rerpresentatives of the newspapers obtain copies and communicate to the public through their journals the gist of the day's business. So vast is a single day's grist that some of the larger press associations have reporters who do practically no work aside from writing the news of the commission's actions.

During a typical year the commission holds about 1,600 hearings. Some are held at Washington, but the commission maintains a staff of examiners who travel to distant places and, in the name of the commission, hold hearings where the facts can best be obtained. On important cases one or more of the eleven members of the commission will go on such a mission. During a single year 225,000 pages of testimony were taken together with voluminous charts and exhibits. After the commission or its examiners have heard the testimony and argument in a case, the body, in closed session, decides. The decisions are printed, served upon the parties, and made public.

Not infrequently the commission, at the request of one or both Houses of Congress, the President, or upon its own initiative, will make a general investigation of some subject in connection with transportation. Notable cases are those in which the financial affairs of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroads were investigated to determine whether their stock had been manipulated or other financial irrigularities had been practiced. The commission has made investigations to determine reasons and remedies for car shortage and other failures in operations.

Complaints of Shippers.

This commission not only decides cases arising from complaints of shippers but every railroad or other carrier must in the first instance file with the commission a tariff or statement of rates it intends to charge for transportation of persons or property. During a typical year 135,000 of these were filed. Each is examined carefully during the 30-day period which, the law provides, must elapse between the filing of a traiff and its becoming effective. The commission may shorten this period in special cases. About 5,000 such cases are acted upon in a year. On the other hand, the commission has the power to suspend for a period of months the taking effect of a tariff. This is regarded as an important function as no railroad can charge the rates fixed in a suspended tariff until the commission has removed its suspension order. The purpose of suspensions is to provide time for investigation of the reasonableness of the proposed rate.

The difference of a small sum in a freight or passenger rate may not appear important to the individual, but when it is multiplied by the vast number of persons carried over a given route, it becomes well worth the commission's time. During the war the United States Navy brought a complaint before the commission against the passenger rate from Chicago to Boston. The Navy sought a reduction of 1 penny in the fare for this distance of over a thousand miles. Over a period of years this will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to the railroads.

Sometimes the filing of a complaint before the commission is like rolling a little snowball downhill. It starts small but grows tremendously. Not long ago a New England woman thought the rate charged for shipping a few cans of milk to Boston from an outlying town was too high and filed a complaint before the commission. The railroads saw that this complaint might set a precedent for milk rates and fought the reduction. Other milk dealers and producers intervened. The milk woman's complaint ultimately resulted in issuance by the commission of an order for a general investigation of milk rates throughout New England. Thousands of pages of testimony were taken and the cases extended over two or three years.

SUFFERED AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Taleville, New York.—"I thought it would interest you to know what benefit I have derived from taking your medicine. A few days after the birth of my third child I got up too quick. Then just before my fifth child was born I had inflammation of the bladder and displacement. Seeing your advertisement in a Liverpool (England) paper I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and that was the best confinement I had. Whenever I feel rundown I always take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic. We have just removed from Brockville (Canada) so I was pleased when the store ordered the medicine for me and I got it today. I would not be without it for any price and I recommend it to ladies around here because I feel so sure it will benefit any woman who takes it."—Mrs. AGNES WIGNALL, Taleville, New York.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from ills peculiar to their sex. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Street Car Fares Coming Down

On Monday, July 6th, at 12:01 A. M., we will put into effect what is known as a Weekly or Seven Day Pass. This method of reduction in street car fares is being used successfully in many cities and nearby communities. This pass will be unlimited as to the number of rides taken but is good for only one person at one time. It is transferable so that any member of the family may use it. You can ride to work, home to lunch, church, stores, parks, theatres, down town, one square or the entire length of the line on which the pass is good. The scale of prices will be as follows:

Grandview Line Only $1.00
Pleasant Heights Line Only $1.00
River Road Coach Only $1.00
Main Line Between State Line and Kountz Avenue Only $1.00
All Lines in East Liverpool Except Chester Line Only $1.25
Chester Line Only $1.25
Main Line Between Wooster's and State Line and on all other Lines except Chester Line $1.50

Passes are not good on interurban cars.

This will in no way interfere with the regular fare that is now being charged, both for cash and tickets.

The basic idea is to give unlimited service within the zone or zones of purchase to either the original buyer or anyone to whom he chooses to transfer the pass. The price is slightly more than the cost of two cash fares a day but the holder may take 20 or 30 rides between Monday morning and Sunday night of the week in use. If he does not need the pass himself, he can send his boy on an errand, loan it to his better half or any member of the family. As a matter of fact people soon discover what a wonderful time saver the electric railway can be for them when they have such a cheap and convenient form of transportation. In other cities where this form is used, it is very common for pass holders to average more than four rides a day. He will not have to stand in line and wait for transfer. With more than one-half the riders using such passes, it is easy to see that there will be a cut in the stopping time for loading and unloading, consequently an improvement in schedules.

In a single zone you will only need to show the pass on entrance. If it is for two zones, you will be asked to show it on entering and leaving.

This Company is passing through a very trying period as the revenue has been greatly reduced in comparison to the same months one year ago. We are making this reduction believing that it will increase the volume of riding, as the present schedule can take care of a geat many more passengers than are now using the cars, and the pass holder will profit by this.

We want you to know that we appreciate your patronage. It is essential to your own prosperity that transportation lines of your community, are kept in prosperous condition and we will appreciate the co-operation of the citizens in this venture. We are going to give this method of fare reduction a fair trial and if you think it a good thing, you can help make it permanent by buying a pass each week for which you can get more than full value in seven days transportation.

Passes will be on sale each week from Friday until Tuesday at 2 P. M. by conductors and at Broadway Station.

FRESH AIR CAMP WILL OPEN JULY 6

The Columbiana county fresh air camp for 1925 will open July 6 on the W. K. George farm in Madison township, it was announced today. The camp will continue for eight weeks. Donations to the camp are now being received at the office of County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church in the northwest corner of the court house.

It has been pointed out by Dr. Church and County Health Nurse Miss Louise Steele that materials for doll clothes, embroidery and knitting materials, baseballs, games of all kinds, especially "sitting down" games, children's books, dull-pointed scissors, old talking machine records, tools for manual training and jams and jellies are needed to make the camp a success this year.

"Many donated to the camp last year, and we are in hope that these wants will be quickly supplied this season," declared Dr. Church today.

Tax Collections Normal.

"While the collection of the June tax was about up to normal so far as this office is concerned, we have not heard from the sub offices," declared County Treasurer Joe Pike.

It will probably be several weeks before final returns are received at the office of the county treasurer. The June collections will exceed that of a year ago because of the reason valuations were higher this June than last year, this resulting from the reappraisement last year.

PLAN HEARING ON DANCE HALLS

Move is Suggested by Judge Riddle of Probate Court.

A public hearing has been proposed by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle for those who desire to operate dance halls and roller skating pavilions outside of village and city corporate limits, this action being decided upon because of new law governing such places of amusement becoming operative July 10, next.

At this hearing, the date of which will be determined later, an opportunity will be given the public to file remonstrance against the granting of permits by the court and at the same time an inquiry will be made into the moral character of those applying for permits and also those who are employed as assistants.

Granting of such permits by the probate court is made mandatory by the provisions of senate bill, 176, which was filed with the secretary of state, April 10 and which becomes a law 90 days thereafter.

In villages and cities, these permits must be obtained from the mayor of such city or villages but the court has the only authority to grant permits for those dance halls, place of public entertainment and skating rinks outside of the cities and villages.

A section of this also provides. No person who is the proprietor of any public dance hall or who conducts or manages, or is in charge of any public dance hall shall permit or allow the use of any intoxicating liquor or the presence of intoxicated persons in such dance hall or on the premises, on which the dance hall is located, or the presence at such public dance hall of any child of less than 18 years of age not accompanied by his or her father, mother or legal guardian.

"Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both."

Judge Riddle has declared that he will pay no attention to unsigned letters that may reach his office opposing the granting of a permit to any dance hall.

"Every unsigned letter will go in the wastebasket,' the court announced. "We want to be fair to all and when a letter is written opposing the granting of a permit, the persons making such complaint should be honorable enough to sign his or her name."

Permits in blank have been provided by the court and also blanks for the revocation of permits.

The court will insist that all rural dance hall places be well lighted, especially about the grounds where machines are to be parked.

THE WORLD'S DISTRESS, ITS MEANING
millions now living will never die
The world's present trouble has lacked the sponsaneity of spasmodic outbursts. Rather it presents a certain measured tread of developments. The expunging of those elements which contribute to unrest and discontent calls for measures severe indeed in treatment but remedial in effect. The prophets of the Bible fore told the progress from war to revolutions, to anarchy—to peace and everlasting life on earth. You are warranted, upon the basis of these fulfilled prophecies, in placing confidence in what is forecast for the future.

DEFENSE DAY BACKED BY GORE

General Observance on July 4 Urged by Governor.

Governor Gore has issued a proclamation calling on the people of the state to observe Defense day, July 4.

The observation of Defense day has become an established custom in our national life, and such observation serves as a reminder to our people of the sacrifices made by our heroic soldiers of the hardships they endured, the governor stated.

"The state of West Virginia has promised its usual co-operation to the plans of the federal government, and has appointed committees to request active aid and participation of all citizens, civic organizations and fraternal societies to co-operate with the active military units of the state."

He requested "the participation in the defense test of all authorities of counties and cities in which uits of the national guard and organized reserve are located, and urged the observance of this day, in every community, wherever practicable, by display of flags on public buildings and dwellings; with parades in which national guard units, reserve units, American Legion posts, veterans of all former wars, patriotic organizations, all civil and fraternal societies and citizens are invited to participate and with mass meetings or community assemblages where speakers should emphasize the historical occasion when congress first pledged the manpower and resources of the country for national defense, commemorate the sacrifices made for national defense, yet stress our military resources, our present military policy, the duty of preparedness and the desirability for peace and friendship with the nations of the world."

William Stevenson, 14-year-old son of Attorney and Mrs. Walter S. Stevenson, West Fifth street, won fifth place in the Literary Digest salesmanship contest for the first three months during the calendar year of 1925.

This means that young Stevenson sold the fifth largest number of Literary Digests during the quarter. Incidentally the fifth place in the nation-wide campaign won him first honors in Ohio.

First place in the salesmanship contest was captured by Louis Kraell, a Pennsylvania youth; second place went to George Brown, a resident of the Hoosier state; third place to George F. Buskle Jr. of Kentucky, and fourth place to Frank Schaap, a California.

Attractive bonuses are given the 100 boys, who report the largest sales in each quarter by the publishers of the magazine. Young Stevenson is a member of the freshman class of the local high school.

Tests show blue is the favorite color.

A Statement to the Public:

In paid advertisement of the Contractors, the Carpenters have been charged of holding up building operations in East Liverpool. It has been our policy for years to deal through our representatives with our employers, but at the outset of this controversy, the employers took a positive stand and told our representatives that they would not agree to any increase in wages and insisted that we submit our demands to Arbitration, with the implied threat that unless we did so, they would bring in Non-Union men to take our places.

On June 23rd, our representative offered the Contractors a compromise proposition for a wage scale of $10.50 per day to May 1st 1926, and $11.00 per day from May 1st,1926 to May 1st, 1927. This proposition was rejected and our representative was told that they had decided to fight it out and bring in Non-Union men. On June 22nd, representatives of other Trades having heard of the threats of the Contractors interested themselves in the matter for the purpose of avoiding, if possible, an open rupture; after several conferences the Contractors submitted through them to us, a proposition for an increase of three cents per hour with ultimatum that unless their offer was accepted by ten o'clock, Thursday night, June 25th, that such or any other offers made would be withdrawn. At a meeting of our members on Thursday night, June 25th, this proposition was submitted to our members and rejected unanimously and the compromise proposition offered by our representative was concurred in unanimously.

Our members feel that in view of the fac tthat five other Trades have been receiving from One or Two Dollars per day more than what we asked for, that our demands were reasonable and just, and in view of the fact that the Contractors have been charging the Public twenty per cent for carpenter labor, the contractor could well afford to pay the increase demanded without any extra charge to the public. Our members have at all times had the interest of the Public and the Community at heart and their faithful work is expressed in the homes and other buildings of the Community, and they feel that they are justly entitled to the same treatment andas good a wage as any other trade in the building industry, and under these conditions are at all times willing to serve their employers, the Public and the Community in the future as in the past.

The facts are not as charged by the Contractors (that 125 Carpenters are holding up a $400,000.00 building program), but in our estimations, three contractors are doing that and therefore the members of our organization offer their service to the General Public for $11.00 per day.

Wells Loses State Amateur Golf Crown to Eddie Hasmann

CEBULA HURLS RILEY NINE TO 6 TO 4 VICTORY

Keeps K. T. K's. Four Safe Bingles Well Scattered.

Chester reinforced its standing at the top of the City Industrial league race by defeating K. T. K. in a hard-fought contest in the West Virginia town Friday evening. The score was 6 to 4.

The potters got away to a two-run lead in the first of the second, but this the Riley aggregation overcame by one run in its half of the same inning. Thereafter the winners were never headed.

M. Cebula, the hefty young twirler of Chester, was again in rare form. He allowed but four hits and three of these were bunched with a sacrifice in the second inning when two runs were scored off him. At that the triple and almost home run of C. Coleman was practically misjudged by Right Gardener Greene and it, a mighty clout, veered over his outstretched hands, enabling the scoring of a run and the stopping of the young infielder at the hot corner from where he later scored.

Cebula also fanned eight men. McShane, usually certain to hit safely at some stage of a contest struck out three times. Cebula walked two and hit one man. His speed was terrific for the most part.

The game was long drawn because of the amount of work necessary in the consultations and conferences that occurred. Both teams took every chance. Sainor was touched for six hits. Two of these plus a couple of errors gave Chester three runs in the second.

In the third, three more runs resulted from three hits, a walk, a double steal, a fielder's choice and an error.

A couple of errors by Chester plus two walks and two passed balls put K. T. K. in the running again in the fifth, but with two on Simcox struck out and Merchant flew to L. McMath.

The outstanding fielding play came in the very first inning when L. McMath jumped into the air and pulled down a line drive by Simcox that was a certain safety. The play electrified the fans and retired the side.

Not a player on either team made more than one hit. Digman and C. Coleman scored twice each. Rardin in left for K. T. K., and Cochran at right for Chester, did not have a fielding chance.

Merchant, singling in the second, went to second on Rardin's sacrifice, M. Cebula to L. McMath and to third on C. Strobel's out, L. McMath to Digman. C. Coleman tripled to right, scoring Merchant. Sanior doubled, sending in C. Coleman.

Digman, walking in the second, reached the keystone corner as Simcox threw low to C. Coleman on W. McMath's drive. Cochrane singled, scoring Digman. C. Coleman booted P. Bennett's blow and W. McMath counted, tieing the score. M. Cebula hit safely and Cochrane registered.

Green and P. Cebula singled in the third. Digman did likewise after F. Marshall had skied to C. Strobel and Greene counted as P. Cebula went to third. A double steal resulted, P. Cebula, registering. Finley threw wildly to first on Cochrane's drive and Digman went in.

C. Coleman walked in the fifth. A balk sent him to second. Sainor was safe as Digman dropped M. Cebula's assist and stole second. Both moved up on a passed ball, C. Coleman scoring. Finley skied to F. Marshall, who muffed the ball and Sainor counted.

Match Finishes On Seventeenth When Champ Is Trapped

Cleveland Lad's 3 and 1 Triumph Brings Him Highest State Golf Honors After Five Successive Attempts; Champion Goes Down Smiling.

The long lane that, true to adage, did have a turning, brought Eddie Hasmann, 21-year-old Cleveland lad, perennial challenger for the Buckeye state golf crown, to his reward yesterday afternoon at Portage Country club, Akron, when he defeated Joe M. Wells, of East Liverpool, 3 and 1, in the final 36-hole match of the Ohio amateur tournament.

Wells, certainly as true a sportsman as ever trod the links and a hero even in defeat, conceded the hole, the match and the championship to Hasmann at the seventeenth green in the afternoon round.

Unruffled, undisturbed and apparently just as nonchalant as he was at noon when he had finished the first 18 holes two up on Hasmann, Wells, who had shot into a trap, looked the situation over for a moment and then, with a smile on his lips, walked over to his foe, grasped his hand and congratulated him on his achievement.

The lane down which Hasmann walked to the title and in which Wells doffed his laurels to the youngster, had a very literal turning on the seventeenth hole where the match ended. Hasmann made the turn successfully. Wells didn't. It is a 460 yard "dog's leg." Hasmann executed a fine tee shot and landed well along the fairway past the crook in the course. Wells sliced into the woods and from a bad lie shot into a trap on the left of the green. Hasmann, already two-up on the champion, would only have had to halve the hole in order to win.

More than 500 saw Wells go around the first 18 holes in the morning and finish ahead, 2 up, on the Cleveland player. Wells outdrove and out-putted Hasmann, overcoming a two-hole deficit registered on the first nine. Wells lost both the second and fourth when Hasmann laid him perfect stymies on both accasions. He reduced Hasmann's lead to one hole on the ninth when he shot a par four. He won the tenth with a birdie three with Hasmann shooting par, and they were even. Wells then won the twelfth and thirteenth holes in succession. Hasmann came back and took the seventeenth but Wells won the eighteenth and maintained his standing.

More than a thousand persons, including approximately 60 loyal Wells supporters from East Liverpool, saw the afternoon round.

For more than an hour at noon Hasmann lay in bed at the club house, emerging from the locker room for the afternoon play shortly after 2 o'clock.

Hasman squared the match on the first two holes of the second eighteen. Wells' playing in the afternoon furnished a striking contrast to his morning round. His driving was off and his putter failed him in the pinches.

Wells' second shot on No. 2 found a trap and Hasmann was on in two. He ran two putts to win the hole at 4 and 5.

Both shot par golf on three, four, five, six and seven. Hasman took the lead at eight, a sloping 185 yard hole. Hasmann's tee shot dropped to the green and Wells' drive carried to the right into a trap.

Hasmann took two putts to hole the ball and win, putting him one up.

On the ninth green both played their second shots into traps at the left. Hasmann hoisted his ball up onto the green while Wells' attempt placed him at the top of the bunker. Hasmann ran a 10-foot putt, and as Joe missed, was two up.

They halved the tenth, eleventh and twelfth and Wells won the thirteenth where he made a three to Hasmann's four. This score existed until they reached the sixteenth. Both were on in two. Wells' first putt was short. Hasmann ran his to the lip of the cup. Then Joe missed his second short putt and Hasmann took the hole.

And on the next hole amateur championship laurels passed to the Clevelander.

DAVIS' SQUAD DEFEATS B. & W.

Barr Blanks Oaklanders Until Final Frame.

Eddie Davis' Trotter nine defeated Babcock-Wilcox, 9 to 3, in a rather tame City Industrial league contest last evening at Patterson Field.

Barr eased up in the last inning after the Trotters had put the game on ice. The count at the time stood 9 to 0. In the final frame he was touched for five hits and the Oaklanders made three runs.

The all around work of Johnny Stroble for Trotters was a feature of the struggle. He had three clean hits and fielded perfectly.

A. Bailey contributed a pretty catch in center. Morris, with three miscues, had an off day at shortstop. He was kept busy, however, with nine chances in three innings. Quinn led the Oaklanders with two hard hits. He fielded nine chances without a slip-up.

BENEFIT CLASH IS SCHEDULED

Moore and Manning to Get Thursday Game Proceeds.

Seven games are scheduled for the final week of the initial half of the City Industrial league. One contest, Chester at Wellsville, has been transferred to the West Virginia field and the proceeds will go to Infielder Moore, of Manager Riley's club, and Pitcher Manning, of the down-river nine.

Moore was injured several weeks ago in a slide to second base and Manning wrenched a knee soon afterward.

The schedule follows:

Monday, June 29—K. T. K. at Wellsville and B. & W. at Chester.

Tuesday, June 30—Laughlin at Chester.

Wednesday, July 1—Trotters at Wellsville and Laughlin at K. T. K.

Thursday, July 2—Chester at Wellsville, transferred to Chester, and K. T. K. at B. & W.

No game will be played on Friday because of the proximity of July 4, the following day.

The Phils and Braves divided the spoils in a double header, Benton pitching the Braves to victory in the first, 8 to 6, and Wilson's pinch single giving the Phils the edge in the second, 4 to 3.

Weinert Bout Will Decide Wills' Pugilistic Future

Failure to Knock Rival Out Will Mean Passing of Dempsey's Perennial Challenger.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The inevitable fork in the highway is dead ahead for Harry Wills, perennial challenger for the heavyweight title. He will reach the cross roads next Thursday night at the Polo grounds and the wrong turn will lead him on to the outer darkness of pugilism's forgotten.

There is only one way in which Wills can take the direct route to future esteem. He must knock Charley Weinert kicking before the end of 15 rounds. Failure to do this will mean the definite passing of Harry Wills from serious consideration as a title contender.

It doesn't matter that the boys are not knocking Weinert over seven days a week or that Wills may smash his brittle hands in one of the early rounds. It has simply come to a showdown between Wills and the public. The latter is far from convinced that Wills is the man-eater his megaphone men claim him to be.

Except for the rather obvious fact that he has caused Dempsey to give him the wide detour for upward of five years, Wills has accomplished little since his old barnstorming days with Sam Langford. He should have stopped Firpo in three rounds, but the man with the bearded chest went the full 12. He couldn't hurt Bartley Madden in 15 rounds on a prior occasion and needed 12 to stop Clem Johnson, a second rater.

His more recent knockout record, in fact, is made up of such victims as Jeff Clark, Homer Smith, Tut Jackson, Kid Norfolk, Jack Thompson and other self-starting knockers, so to speak. Barring Langford, who was only a suggestion of the old Sam at the time, Wills has yet to beat or even meet a first class man.

He may be as good as some people claim but, if so, he has contrived to keep the matter a profound secret.

BRITTON STILL PACKS A PUNCH

KANSAS CITY, Kans., June 27.—Fight fans today are declaring that Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, has lost little of his ring knowledge following the boxing lesson he gave last night to Dave Forbes, a good sturdy youngster from Chicago.

For ten very similar rounds, Jack shot a flickering left to Forbes' face or beat merry time on the Chicagoan's ribs. Now and then, just to show that there was still a punch in his system the Philadelphian would shoot a sharp right to Forbes' face and body.

From the sixth on Forbes was tiring rapidly. Every round was Britton's, according to newspapers opinion.

BARNES' PUTTER GETS CREDIT

Had it All Shined up to Win British Open.

LONDON, June 27.—Long Jim Barnes today gave his old putter—rusty and longer—credit for its share in bringing the British open golf title back to America again.

"Tell my friends back in the states I used my rusty old putter—but I had it shined up," the new champion said.

"I've been coming across for two seasons to see my mother and to win this championship," he added. "Now I've accomplished both purposes."

Barnes is a native of Cornwall, England, but is an American now.

MacDonald Smith, whose score placed him well out in front in the Prestwick tourney until his final round, was bitter in his comment of the crowds that thronged the course. It was estimated that as many as 15,000 tried to follow Smith in his final round.

"I have played golf in many places, but I never experienced such a rabble as beat me at Prestwick," he said today. "It was a disgrace. I never got a chance. I don't mind falling, but I didn't think a crowd at a golf meeting at Scotland would behave as that one did.'

Mrs. Smith was equally bitter.

"Mac might just as well have been driving in a busy street," she said.

Tagging The Bases

The Senators got away running in the premiere of the early season's big money by beating the Athletics, 5 to 3, and moving within a game and a half of the lead. Goslin's homer with two on in the seventh decided the issue. Johnson was hit hard but not too often.

Whitehill left-handed the Browns dizzy while the Tigers hit Gaston with sufficient discretion to score a 4 to 3 victory.

Aided and abetted by Blades' homer, Rhem got the decision over Alexander, the Cardinals beating the Cubs, 3 to 2.

Buy Motor Insurance With Your Oil

There are lots of good oils—and lots of oils that are not so good.

From appearances you probably couldn't tell a good brand from a poor one. Few people can. Your only real safeguard is to rely upon the integrity of the company or individual from which it is purchased.

Super-Flash Motor Oils

are produced in one of the finest and most modern refineries of America and according to our own specifications.

Being a local organization and having all of our capital invested here in this community, our only hope for continued success must lie in providing the motoring public with the very highest quality of products, as 95 per cent of all of our business is done with folks right here at home.

Drive out of your way to get Super-Flash Motor Oil. You buy satisfaction and insurance against motor repairs in every quart. The retail price is the same, that insurance costs you nothing.
